ANOTHER SHIP HIT BY TORPEDO; 26 IN LIFEBOATS

Former Danish Craft Under Panama Flag

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—The former Danish freighter Montana, flying the flag of Panama, and operated by an American company, was torpedoed in Icelandic waters yesterday and her crew of 26 men abandoned ship in lifeboats. Whether the crew was picked up or made the Iceland or Greenland coast was not know. The ship carried a cargo of lumber for Iceland.

This news was placed in President Roosevelt's hands this afternoon as he was conferring with his cabinet on the orders he gave the American navy to rid the seas of Rome-Berlin sea raiders in his address to the nation last night.

The latest sea incident occupied the cabinet meeting along with the German announcement in an official communique that Nazi sea raiders have launched the greatest convoy attack in the history of the war as Hitler's answer to the President's shoot on sight order.

Germans Claim 22 Sunk.

An official German bulletin reported that 22 vessels were sunk out of a heavily guarded convoy of 40, and added that the attack was not yet over. The bulletin did not say where the attack had taken place.

The cabinet meeting also was concerned with the call of Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, for a hearing next week on resolutions to investigate one of the sea incidents which prompted the Presidential address.

Walsh summoned Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, to testify either Wednesday or Thursday on circumstances surrounding the reported attack on the U. S. destroyer Greer by a German submarine.

Report British Ship Sunk.

At the hearing, it was learned, the navy leaders will be confronted with a report emanating from a high administration source that a British merchant ship was sunk by the submarine before two torpedoes were fired at the destroyer.

This report aroused a suspicion in congressional circles that the Greer may have been convoying a British vessel, carrying munitions to Britain, when it was fired upon. German official sources have charged the attack was begun by the Greer.

Walsh called his committee for a hearing on the report despite President Roosevelt's assertion in his speech last night that "in spite of what any American obstructionist organization may prefer to believe, I will tell you the blunt fact that the German submarine fired first upon this American destroyer without warning, and with deliberate intent to sink her."

Report on Greer Demanded.

Two resolutions were introduced in the senate yesterday for a full report from the navy department on the Greer incident. Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] demanded that Knox submit the log of the destroyer from Sept. 2 to Sept. 5, inclusive, saying he was not willing to accept the "statement of a propaganda bureau of the navy department." Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] also demanded a full naval report on the incident.

Secretary Knox disclosed that the report of the sinking of the Montana was given to the President at the cabinet meeting this afternoon. He said the incident had been witnessed by a British patrol plane. He added that he did not believe that American aircraft had observed the torpedoing and that apparently there were no American naval craft in the vicinity.

Announcement of Sinking.

The state department reported that there were no American citizens in the crew of the Montana, which was formerly the Paula of Danish registry before her seizure in an American port. The attack took place at 8:45 a. m. Chicago time yesterday about 600 miles off the southwestern coast of Iceland.

The state department announcement of the sinking said:

"The department of state has been informed that the American-owned cargo ship Montana under Panamanian registry, formerly the Danish

The Hidden Purpose

(An Editorial)

Mr. Roosevelt's violent pronouncement of Thursday evening must have been intended deliberately to arouse passion. The voice was excited. The words were chosen for their inflammatory values. The speaker, with ulterior purposes in mind, was seeking to create an emotional setting in which half-truths, twisted truths, and untruths would be accepted as the reasoned and reasonable thought of a responsible public official.

Before examining the unspoken motives, a few examples of the method may be cited. In an atmosphere of calm the American people would not today get very much excited over the power of Germany to interrupt ocean commerce. The submarine campaign in recent months has been pretty much of a flop in spite of occasional flareups. The British have announced with pride that they are sinking three times as much German shipping as the Germans are sinking of theirs. According to a recent British official statement, new methods of combating submarines have been developed and are proving moderately successful, yet to hear Mr. Roosevelt tell it, this country as well as Britain is in danger of succumbing to the submarine attack. The two greatest navies in the world, he asks us to believe, are barely holding their own against a handful of submarines. With the shipping of almost the whole world in her possession, Britain is yet in danger of being cut off, etc., etc.

This is nonsense when viewed in the light of known facts. So is Mr. Roosevelt's assumption that there is likelihood that Germany's 80 million people can conquer and dominate not only Europe and the British empire but the rest of the world beside. Against the 80 million are now arrayed Russia's 180 millions. The British empire's population is greater than 400 million. No matter how well organized for war the 80 million may be, they cannot be expected to overcome such stupendous odds, and the progress of the war in recent weeks only serves to emphasize this fundamental truth.

The inflammatory technique was used again in the reference to the freedom of the seas. Mr. Roosevelt could have used the high-sounding phrase only to gain respectability for a course of action which he could not justify by simple reason and argument. "Freedom of the seas" makes no sense in the context in which he used it. Germany is interfering little with our freedom to carry on peaceful commerce with the world. Britain is interfering every moment of every day in every port and in every ocean. Our farmers and manufacturers cannot export their products to Norway, France, Poland, Belgium, Holland, and a great many other countries for lack of British consent. To talk in the face of these facts of Germany's threat to our freedom of the seas is to talk glib nonsense.

At another point Mr. Roosevelt intimated that we must take our place in the battle of the Atlantic to assure that our supplies reach the British isles. To hear him tell it, the British navy is incapable of performing this task. The evidence doesn't show that. There are some British warships undergoing repairs in our navy yards, but few if any of them took their battering in the North Atlantic. They got into trouble in very different waters—in the eastern Mediterranean, for example, where they were engaged in defending not Britain but the British imperial holdings in the near east. Britain has lost few naval vessels in her own waters.

There was scarcely a point made by Mr. Roosevelt which will stand calm examination. Not even his list of atrocities was impressive. The Steel Seafarer was sunk in the Red sea in an area of danger which, under the cash-and-carry law, Mr. Roosevelt was required to declare out of bounds to American shipping. He didn't do his duty, but instead, contrary to the law's intent, sent this ship and many others like it into the war zone to carry war supplies for the conquest of peaceful Iran. Likewise the Sessa was commandeered from Denmark by Mr. Roosevelt and was sent into the zone of danger under the flag of Panama. The Robin Moor was carrying contraband to South Africa—a belligerent. The Greer would not have been in Icelandic waters if Mr. Roosevelt had not violated his pledge to the American people to keep our soldiers at home. The other incident, which occurred last July, consisted of nothing more menacing than the chance meeting of an unidentified submarine and an American warship somewhere on the high seas. They looked at each other and that was that.

Mr. Roosevelt put all the high-powered fervor he could command into the telling of these atrocity stories. He may have succeeded in frightening some people, but they may be expected to recover their mental equilibrium before long and to inquire why he made so much of so little, why he twisted so many truths, why he said so many things which obviously aren't so.

The answer is not particularly obscure. His purpose is to confuse and frighten the American people into the belief that they are confronted by stupendous dangers. He will make this artificial crisis serve like all his previous crises as an excuse to impose new totalitarian restraints upon the American people. His aim is a dictatorship which will mean the destruction of the republic.

Constitutional restraints stand in his way. Only congress can lawfully declare war. Only congress can lawfully increase the President's discretionary powers and even congress has limited powers in this direction. It is Mr. Roosevelt's purpose to create such an hysteria in the country that he can ignore congress if it doesn't surrender abjectly to his will.

We believe the American people will see thru the scheme and thwart it.

53 Soldiers Die in War Games in Month

Alexandria, La., Sept. 12 (AP).—Fifty-three soldiers have died in Louisiana and Arkansas the last month during preliminary maneuvers leading up to the start Sunday night of the biggest war games in United States history. Fifty of the deaths were accidental.

The war department estimates the big scale maneuvers will claim 136 lives of the 450,000 soldiers from injury and disease.

Unofficial reports listed 32 deaths from accidents and other causes in the 3d army in Louisiana and an official tabulation showed 21 deaths in the 2d army in south Arkansas and Louisiana.

Of the 32 deaths in the 3d army were included drownings, auto and military vehicle accidents, lightning deaths, overturned tanks and trucks, riders thrown from horses, airplane and motorcycle accidents.

The 21 deaths occured in the 2d army between Aug. 8 and Sept. 8. Eleven of these were from motor accidents, five drowned, one was electrocuted, one died from a gas range explosion, one from spinal meningitis, one from a fractured vertebra, and one undetermined.

RUSSIANS FLEE AS NAZIS TRY TO ENCIRCLE CITY

Quit Town North of Ukraine Capital.

MOSCOW, Sept. 13 [Saturday]. (AP).—Russians early today acknowledged that their forces have retreated from Chernigov, on the lower central front, in the face of German forces pounding southward in a renewed effort to loop a noose about Kiev, capital of the Ukraine and a major Nazi objective.

Chernigov is on the west side of the Desna river, some 80 miles northeast of the point where this stream joins the Dnieper at Kiev. The Germans struck southeast from Gomel thru Chernigov with the apparent aim of sweeping down between the two rivers to the Ukraine capital.

Threaten to Outflank Reds.

The Red army, however, was reported to be covering the approaches to Kiev with an unbroken ring of artillery and infantry defenses such as those protecting Leningrad in the north and Odessa, soviet port on the Black sea.

By reaching Chernigov, which is 30 miles east of the Dnieper and on the edge of the forest-steppe zone, the Germans threatened to outflank the hitherto fierce Red defense of Kiev.

The area between Kiev and Chernigov is all marsh land, but should the Germans swing southeastward they would reach the vital Kiev-Bryansk road.

Chernigov is a river port and milling and manufacturing city of more than 34,000 population.

Reports Bitter Fighting.

The early morning communique reported bitter fighting all along the front with the evacuation of Chernigov the only announced major change.

In the besieged Leningrad sector Russian Baltic fleet units were shelling German troop and tank concentrations ashore and at the same time were keeping the Nazi navy at a distance.

Several hundred Germans were drowned when soviet naval forces rammed and sank four German cutters and two barges in the Gulf of Finland where the Germans were trying to land troops on Russian soil, the communique said. Soviet news dispatches earlier had reported Red warships sank two German destroyers, a monitor and a transport.

Cut Nazi Communications.

German bombs crashed into Leningrad Thursday night when a few Nazi planes penetrated the city's defenses. Several resulting fires were extinguished and 11 German planes were shot down.

The Russians said that a guerrilla army sprang up from the Estonian swamps and disrupted German communications 150 miles behind the Leningrad front. The Germans were unable to establish telephone or telegraph connection between field headquarters and a large area about Pskov, near the Estonian border.

Dispatches from the southern front said the Russians had crossed the lower Dnieper at four points, captured the Island of Hortitsa between Zaporzhe and Dnepropetrovsk, and taken the villages of Voyskovoye and Federova on the west bank.

THE BACKGROUND OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S MOST FAMOUS PEACE PROMISE

Pants May Fall Next, a Victim of Priority Rule

They can't have buttons; plastics and buttonhole machinery both run smack into priorities.

Hillbilly Style Ruled Out.

Belts and suspenders, of rubber, leather, or plastics, all call for materials in which supplies are restricted mainly to military use.

And indications today were that there would be fewer varieties of men's fancy shirts after 40 manufacturers had chosen a committee to develop simpler garments and establish a code of fair trade practices. Pajamas will be included in the simplification study.

Cost of Buttons Rising.

The need for simplification arose from the booming prices of buttons, thread, boxes, shirt boards, and pins, manufacturers said.

The pants makers' dilemma wasn't so funny to the 400 or 500 workers the Conmar Products corporation, Newark, N. J., slide fastener maker, has been forced to lay off because of shortages of copper, nickel, silver, zinc, tools, and machinery.

It won't be humorous to the manufacturers of clothing and leather goods who have cut their materials in expectation of sewing slide fasteners into them.

Margo company, another Newark slide fastener maker, was reported letting hundreds of employés go weekly. In Meadville, Pa., Talon, Inc., laid off 800 of its 5,129 employés three weeks ago because of metal shortages.

Both Conmar and Talon expect to keep going a while, using metals on hand.

5 Philippine Moros Slain After Death of 2 Teachers

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 12 (AP).—Moro outlaws killed two school teachers today and five of the outlaws were slain in a subsequent battle with a constabulary detachment, Philippine constabulary headquarters reported.

GOVERNMENT FAILING SOLDIERS AND USO, IS CHARGE OF DEWEY

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 12 [Special].—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York City told the Federation of Bar Associations of Western New York here today that the government has failed to live up to its agreement to provide buildings suitable for recreational and morale work among America's soldiers.

"The government agreed to build 15 million dollars' worth of quick wooden structures, while the United Service Organization was to raise $10,700,000 to finance the work among the boys in service," explained Dewey, who headed the USO fund campaign. "Up to date we [the USO] have raised 13 million dollars, but not a single structure has been built."

He blamed "red tape" for the government's failure. Plans for 25 or 30 buildings have been turned over to the WPA for construction, he said, but in the meantime the USO has been forced to operate in such rented quarters as it can obtain.

MODEL'S SUICIDE FOILED; FATHER IS U. S. SENATOR

New York, Sept. 12 [Special].—A lovers' quarrel prompted blonde Mary Bland Reynolds, 23 years old, daughter of United States Senator Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.], to attempt suicide with gas, police revealed tardily today. Her identity was not disclosed until a few minutes before she was released from Bellevue hospital.

First reports were that Miss Reynolds, who is a model, had been led to her act by the recent announcement of her four times married father that he would take as a fifth wife Evalyn Walsh McLean, 37 years his junior. Mary is three years older than her father's prospective bride.

But Miss Reynolds' mother, now Mrs. Frank Haley of Manhattan, said her daughter was moved to take her life in her midtown apartment because of a quarrel with Thomas B. Farrell, publisher of the magazine, The Woman, with offices here.

"Mary did what she did because of a lovers' quarrel," said Mrs. Haley, who was Senator Reynolds' second wife. "But it's all smoothed over now. Mr. Farrell has been with me all day."

"Are Farrell and your daughter engaged to be married?" she was asked.

"Yes," she said. "I think they are."

MAYORS FIGHT 'PRIORITY RUIN' OF THEIR CITIES

Demand Spreading of Arms Orders.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

Groundwork for a national drive to avert "priority ruin" of nondefense industries was laid yesterday in an all-day meeting at the Morrison hotel of more than 1,000 mayors, small business men, and trade and labor representatives from 11 states of the central west. The day's highlights:

1. Representative Melvin J. Maas [R., Minn.] warned that unless rearmament contracts are distributed among small concerns, centralized government control and socialism will follow the present emergency. Giving a specific example, he charged that lend-lease materials are being processed in England and sold in competition with American industry. Maas also gave instances of government hoarding and resultant shortages.

2. Leo Cherne of New York, director of the Research Institute of America, advised the mayors to marshal industry in their communities and to assist it in obtaining rearmament contracts. He outlined procedure thru which, he said, dislocations and disaster created by the priorities may be relieved as least in part.

3. A permanent board of directors was named to appoint two delegations to confer with heads of the Office of Production Management in Washington and to extend the emergency organization formed yesterday to include industrial areas outside the central west.

Called by Evansville Mayor.

The gathering, known as the Mayor's Midwest Emergency conference, was called by Mayor William H. Dress of Evansville, Ind., early this month. Since then Mayor Dress has been stricken with pneumonia and is critically ill. His plans were carried on by a group headed by Circuit Judge John W. Spencer of Evansville. Judge Spencer presided yesterday.

Rep. M. J. Maas [top] and Judge J. W. Spencer.

Altho outspokenly critical of OPM procedure as it is now, Representative Maas defended some past blunders as unavoidable. He said, however, that the time has come for dispersion of rearmament work among all industrial plants—large and small—so that every machine tool and every trained man will be put to work and kept at work.

"It was quite natural," Maas said, "for the OPM at first to go to the prime contractors of the last war and to the large agencies with which the government is accustomed to deal. The time is come now to expand and spread out.

Denies Higher Cost Charge.

"The OPM's chief argument against this is that it would increase costs 15 to 20 per cent. This is not true. The saturation point of big business has been reached. It is doing all it can do.

Miners' Revolt in Dues Tangle Closes 14 Pits

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP).—A rank and file revolt against a union dues increase approved by the United Mine Workers of America [CIO] kept hard coal production at a standstill today at 14 of Pennsylvania's major anthracite collieries.

Regional leaders of the powerful union, whose chief is John L. Lewis, declared the work stoppage, involving nearly 10,000 men, was unauthorized, and demanded that all return to their jobs. Lewis himself declined to comment.

Enforced by Check-Off.

The miners are protesting an increase of monthly dues from $1 to $1.50 and the annual assessment from $2 to $6. The union's general membership approved the increases in a national referendum, but miners in this area voted against it. The check-off is used for collection.

A representative from Lewis' office in Washington was ordered here during the day for a conference with regional officers. Leaders of the insurgents also called a meeting to map their next moves.

A temporary halt, at least until Monday, in the mine closing movement was called by Miller after a brief fist fight between rival union groups at the Knickerbocker colliery of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, near Shenandoah, in adjoining Schuylkill county.

Flag Brushed Aside.

In the midst of the fight a train of loaded mine cars brushed aside an American flag which protesting union members had stretched across the track, the engineer shouting he was unable to halt the train. No one was injured.

The insurgents withdrew, and a motorcade that had set out at dawn with the announced purpose of spreading the work stoppage thruout the anthracite region broke up.

ROOSEVELT'S STORY OF SECRET NAZI BASE DENIED BY COLOMBIA

DOGOTA, Colombia, Sept. 12 (AP).—Foreign Minister Lopez de Mesa, opening a senate debate on President Roosevelt's speech, said today the Colombian government, despite repeated investigations, had been unable to find any evidence of clandestine airplane landing fields in this country.

[President Roosevelt, reviewing alleged Nazi activities in this hemisphere, said that recently secret airfields had been discovered in Colombia within easy range of the Panama canal.]

Lopez de Mesa said Colombia was an ardent advocate of inter-American coöperation and mutual loyalty, but the nation was "unable to accept [as a fact] that there are secret air fields in Colombia."

ATTACK LEGION CHIEF AS ECHO OF NEW DEALERS

Delegates Foresee Fight Over Aid to Russia.

BY THOMAS MORROW.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 12.—A growing discontent concerning policies and utterances of national officers was reported tonight among American Legion leaders and delegates as the veterans gathered for the national convention, opening Monday.

One faction expressed a belief, which was said to extend into the executive committee, that Milo J. Warner, national commander, has become too close an echo of New Deal administration policy makers contrary to convictions of rank and file membership.

While the Warner camp was reasonably sure that the convention was prepared for an indorsement of President Roosevelt's foreign policies, there was said to be some fear that an opposition orator might stampede the convention. If such a move came, convention strategists said, it would develop in convention floor discussion of United States aid to Russia.

Resolutions on War Sizzle.

This development concerned convention politicians as controversial pro and con resolutions, pronounced "sizzling hot" by those who have seen them, were guided to the foreign relations committee. The action was taken at the first meeting of the resolutions assignment committee in Milwaukee auditorium.

After a preliminary look at the 532 resolutions presented for assignment to various committees, Forrest G. Cooper of Indianola, chairman of the assignment committee, predicted the most exciting Legion convention in many years.

"While there is a smaller number of resolutions, there are more on controversial questions than I have seen for a number of years," said Cooper.

Clash Over Six Questions.

He listed as questions on which there are several pro and con resolutions the following:

1. Aid to Russia under the lease-lend act.
2. Freedom of the seas.
3. Retention or repeal of the neutrality act.
4. The recent eight point agreement between Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England and President Roosevelt.
5. A proposal to create a Legion committee to be called the national labor relations committee.
6. The necessity of joining a union to get a defense job.

"Also, one of the many exciting questions is the general question of strikes and lockouts in national defense," said Cooper. "This question includes resolutions again asking the resignation of Secretary Perkins.

"A series of resolutions which promise much discussion is a group on the question of sending the armies of the United States outside the western hemisphere. There are also a number condemning isolationists."

America First Rally Tonight.

Meanwhile preparations were completed for an America First meeting tomorrow night in Milwaukee auditorium which is expected to attract 10,000 persons. Two founders of the Legion, Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], and Congressman Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] will speak.

They will be introduced by Gen. Thomas S. Hammond of Chicago, official of the Chicago America First Committee. Lansing Hoyt, chairman of the local committee, announced today that the speakers will discuss "how free speech and freedom of assembly is being barred in the United States."

BECOMES ENSIGN AND IS MARRIED TWO HOURS LATER

Two hours after his graduation from the midshipmen's training school at Northwestern university, Ensign George E. Murphy of Seattle, Wash., was married yesterday to Miss Mary Eugenia Anderson of Lewiston, Ida., in a naval ceremony at St. James Episcopal church. Murphy and his bride left for Boston, Mass., where he has been assigned to duty at the navy yard. Murphy was one of a class of 686 to be commissioned as ensigns yesterday in graduation exercises at Navy pier. Capt. A. S. Carpenter of the bureau of navigation in Washington, D. C., was the principal speaker, and Admiral John Downes of the 9th naval district presented the diplomas.

CHICAGO TO SEE LEGION CARAVAN FROM ALABAMA

A caravan of seven American Legion floats from Alabama, called the Alabama "Glamorama," will parade in Chicago today en route to the legion's national convention in Milwaukee, Wis. The convention begins tomorrow.

The caravan will stop at the city hall, where the members will pay their respects to Mayor Kelly. They will be met at the city hall by Arthur Canty, commander of the legion's Cook county council, and William Keith, assistant adjutant of the Illinois department.

Sponsors of the caravan are the Alabama department of the legion, the state of Alabama, the Alabama Chamber of Commerce, and the chambers of commerce of Birmingham, Mobile, Montgomery, Gadsden, and of Baldwin county. The caravan will park in Grant park overnight and proceed to Milwaukee tomorrow.

2 SOLDIERS HELD IN BANK ROBBERY FACE U. S. ACTION

Lewistown, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP).—State police today said two United States soldiers who admitted attempting to hold up the Farmers National bank at nearby Thompsontown yesterday have been charged with "entering a bank with intent to commit a felony" and will be turned over to FBI agents for prosecution.

Police identified the men as Private James Howard Dippery, 19, of Lewistown, and Corporal Corbin Shelton, 25, of Washington, D. C. Federal agents were expected to take the men to Scranton tomorrow for a hearing before a United States commissioner.

STEAL BRASS WORTH $240.

ARMY PURGE HITS 170 OFFICERS AS 'UNFIT' FOR DUTY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 [Special.]—The first step in the army's "purge" of officers considered unfit for duty was taken today with an announcement that 170 have been recommended for removal.

The action, it was emphasized, has no connection with recent orders setting up maximum ages at which each grade of officer is considered fit for field duty. That order affected regular, reserve and National Guard officers, but the forced-retirement law does not affect reserves or the guard.

The law under which today's removals were announced was passed specifically to permit summary action on regular army officers who heretofore have been so firmly fixed in their positions that it virtually was impossible to remove them for anything less than an offense involving trial by court-martial, or for actual physical disability. The law sets up a long series of procedures designed to protect officers against injustice or careless consideration.

No names were made public by the war department, pending final action on the recommendations by the secretary of war. However, it was understood that Secretary Henry L. Stimson will approve the removals in all cases.

John Roosevelt Graduates as Naval Reserve Ensign

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 12 (AP).—John Roosevelt, youngest son of the President, was one of 376 young men who were graduated today as ensigns of the Supply corps of the United States naval reserve after a three months' course at the Harvard business school. Certificates were presented by Under Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal. The new ensigns will be assigned immediately to ship and shore stations.

Cuban Senators Fight Duel with Rapiers; Neither Hurt

HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 12.—Senators Emilio Ochoa and Arturo Illas fought a duel with rapiers today near Havana. Neither was wounded. Ochoa challenged Illas following an incident in the senate last August during which the latter struck Ochoa. Dueling is prohibited by law in Cuba.

ILLINOIS G. O. P. SLATE PICKED, BROOKS AT HEAD

All 5 Vote Getters; Backed by Green.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 12.—A 1942 Republican state slate, headed by Senator Wayland Brooks as a candidate for reëlection and said to have been approved by Gov. Dwight Green, today brought the statehouse out of the political doldrums.

The ticket, to be presented at the April primaries, is calculated to win solidarity by presenting a majority of candidates who won nomination and election along with the governor last year. It is possible that all five places eventually will be filled with candidates either nominated in 1938 or nominated and elected in 1940.

Tentative G. O. P. Ticket.

For senator—Senator Brooks of Chicago, candidate for a full six year term.

For treasurer—William G. Stratton of Morris, congressman at large and son of the late secretary of state of Illinois.

For congressman at large—Stephen A. Day of Evanston, incumbent and son of a former federal secretary of state and justice of the United States Supreme court.

For clerk of the Supreme court—Probably Warren Wright of Springfield, state treasurer and an aspirant for the United States senate in 1944, when the term of Senator Scott W. Lucas, Havana Democrat, expires.

For superintendent of public instruction—Either Wiley B. Garvin, superintendent of the Mascutah schools and the 1938 nominee, or Vernon L. Nickell, superintendent of the Champaign schools.

Wright Is Undecided.

Brooks, Stratton, and Day were elected with the governor last November. So was Wright, but some indecision exists in his case. Instead of trying for the Supreme court clerkship—a two year tenure expiring in 1944—the treasurer may decide to run for state central committeeman in the Springfield district, with the expectation of becoming state chairman.

The state chairmanship would be the harder job of the two, but it also would keep Wright in the forefront of party activity prior to the 1944 primary, when he intends to seek the senatorial nomination. His election to the committee would involve defeating the incumbent, H. L. Williamson of Springfield, superintendent of printing during the Len Small administration.

Several other names are heard for the Supreme court clerkship, should Wright not seek it. Among them, prominence is given to George E. Lambur Jr. of Chicago, the 1938 nominee.

Governor Indorses Brooks.

Gov. Green's regard for Senator Brooks has been known for many months and was emphasized by his praise of the senator's record in his Labor day address in Chicago.

Agreement on the ticket is said to have been reached by the governor, other officials and party leaders at the time of the state fair, at least as to the senatorship, treasurership, and congressman at large.

Representative Stratton has been an active aspirant for the treasurership for some time, having revealed his intentions to county chairmen and toured the state whenever his duties in Washington permitted.

By retiring from the Washington scene, Stratton will leave the field clear for the renomination of his colleague, Representative Day, since Illinois will elect only one congressman at large in 1942.

Richard Yates Rowe, state committeeman from Jacksonville, and Ben L. Berve of Rochelle, state chairman, have been mentioned for the treasurership, but both are expected to remain in the jobs the governor gave them—Rowe as secretary of the budgetary commission and Berve in the department of public welfare.

Slated for Republican State Ticket

BARE POLICE RECORD OF MISSING SUSPECT IN GORCZAK SLAYING

Thomas Russo, 34 years old, who is being sought as one of the slayers of Anton Gorczak, a laundry driver, was disclosed yesterday as being the possessor of an extensive police record. Russo and another man whose identity was concealed were named as accomplices by David Goldblatt, who confessed his part in the crime to the state's attorney's police on Thursday.

Goldblatt and Samuel Ginsburg, alias Doc Gaines, an associate of Murray Humphreys in the closed Klever Shampay Cleaners, are held on charges of murder. Ginsburg, according to Goldblatt, paid $300 to have Gorczak slugged.

Russo was arrested and fined for disorderly conduct in 1928. He was sentenced to six months in the Bridewell in April, 1929, and was fined $200 for disorderly conduct in March, 1930. The police said Russo has four brothers. One, Joseph, is now in Joliet prison; another, William, recently was held to the grand jury on charges of robbery, and a third, August, once served a term in Leavenworth.

THE POLO PLAYER SET RALLIES FOR AIR RAID DRILL

Port Washington, N. Y., Sept. 12 (AP)—This Long Island community of polo playing millionaires underwent an "air raid" tonight to test whether it could mobilize for its own defense.

As a lone plane, representing a raider, appeared, the town fire siren was sounded. Lights flicked out in homes and on streets; yachts in Manhasset bay doused their running lights. All traffic halted. Seven minutes later "all clear" sounded. Traffic, backed up five miles in all directions, resumed.

Among the voluntary air raid wardens were Herbert Bayard Swope, sportsman; Baron Robert De Rothschild, international banker of England, and Industrialist C. F. Bomer.

Blackout in Desert.

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 12 (AP).—New Mexico played at war tonight and blacked out its vast reaches of mountains and desert. Mission bells pealed the warning as news of the approach of bombing planes was flashed by telephones.

BROOKS URGES NAVAL ACADEMY IN LAKE COUNTY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Senator Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] has introduced a resolution in the senate calling upon the navy department to investigate the desirability of establishing an additional naval academy and locating it on the shore of Lake Michigan in Lake county, Illinois.

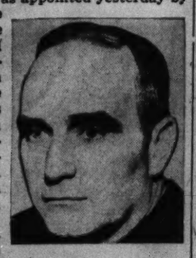

The resolution says that "the unequaled and outstanding advantages which impelled congress to locate the Great Lakes Naval Training station in Lake county, Illinois, are of equal force in choosing a location for an additional naval academy."

Another academy is necessary, the resolution asserts, because of the expanded officer personnel required by the two ocean navy and the desirability of a more strategic location inland for the academy. The present naval academy is located at Annapolis, Md. Representative George A. Paddock [R., Ill.] introduced a similar resolution in the house on Sept. 4.

ROGER J. KILEY IS ELEVATED TO APPEALS BENCH

Superior Judge Three Times an Alderman.

Judge Roger J. Kiley of the Superior court was appointed yesterday by the state Supreme court to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge Denis E. Sullivan in the Illinois Appellate court. The term ends in June, 1942.

Judge Roger J. Kiley.

Judge Kiley is 40 years old and is one of the youngest men ever to be selected for a seat in the higher court. He has been prominent as a political leader, popular with both Democrats and Republicans, for nearly a decade.

In 1920 and 1921, Judge Kiley was an all-American end under Knute Rockne at the University of Notre Dame. After his graduation, he was football coach at Loyola university and also practiced law.

Judge Kiley ran for alderman of the 37th ward in 1933 and, with the indorsement of the regular Democratic organization and various Republican groups, he won easily. His campaign was based on the need for college men in politics. He was reëlected in 1935 and in 1937.

During his aldermanic career, he became popular with fellow council members, serving as vice chairman of the finance committee and chairman of the revenue committee. He was hailed by the Municipal Voters league during one of his election campaigns as "able, alert, and aggressive." He also has been a Democratic ward committeeman.

In 1940, when the veteran Martin Gridley retired from the Superior court bench, Kiley was selected to run for his job. He repeated his earlier aldermanic successes and ascended the bench last December. He is known as a thoro student of law.

BLAZE CAUSES A BLACKOUT IN WEST SIDE AREA

Fire which followed an explosion in the rear of the two story brick building at 2308 Harrison street last night caused damage estimated at $15,000 by Anthony J. Mullaney, first deputy chief fire marshal. The explosion was believed to have originated in 15 gallons of paint thinner stored in the first floor quarters of the Allbright Electric Products concern. The second floor was occupied by Advance Neon Signs, Inc.

An area of one square mile in the vicinity of the fire was thrown into darkness when current was shut off because the fire threatened a nearby power line. The police radio service in the Warren avenue station was disrupted when the current stopped. A 2-11 alarm was sounded for the fire.

ORGANIZER MENTIONS AIRPLANE AND CLERKS PAY FOR HIS RIDE

Alexander Marks, an American Federation of Labor organizer, yesterday told William B. Crawford and Gordon Nash, assistant state's attorneys, that he was standing in the bar of the Berkshire hotel, 15 East Ohio street, in February, 1940, and he mentioned that he never had taken an airplane ride.

At that moment, Marks said, Michael Pollack, then secretary-treasurer of local 1248, Retail Clerks' International Protective association, walked in and overheard his remark. "Meet me Feb. 16 and I'll take you to Florida," Pollack said, according to Marks. "It won't cost you a cent." The union, Marks added, paid the bill.

The state's attorney's office questioned Marks in its investigation into the disappearance of union funds during the régime of the ousted business agent, Max Caldwell, who is Pollack's brother. Thousands of dollars were spent by Caldwell, his family, and friends for private airplane transportation.

HILLMAN STORES EMPLOYES' UNION CALLS A STRIKE

A strike to begin at once at seven Hillman food stores and a warehouse in Chicago and one store in Oak Park was called last night by the United Grocery and Produce Employés union, local 329, newly chartered by the CIO. Francis Heisler, attorney for the union, said it has a probable membership of 1,000 of the 1,100 Hillman employés.

Heisler said the company had refused to meet the union's demands for higher wages and that it was preparing to sign a closed shop contract with the AFL Butchers' union to prevent the CIO group from obtaining a contract.

The Hillman group was the first to revolt against the régime of Max Caldwell, now ousted business agent of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association [AFL]. Eventually the Hillman group withdrew from the AFL union, and three weeks ago it was chartered by the CIO. "The Hillman clerks will not be ruled by another Caldwell, no matter what his name is," Heisler said.

ARMY EXERCISES TO PUT PRISONERS ON WAR FOOTING

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

Winnfield, La., Sept. 12.—A realistic phase of the vast army maneuvers to begin here Monday will be the capturing and exchanging of prisoners by opposing sides.

All soldiers captured by participating forces of the 2d and 3d armies will be questioned thoroly at command posts and then moved to concentration camps, where they will be held for 24 hours. At the end of this time they will be trucked to a neutral location on the battle line and exchanged for an equal number of captives held by the enemy.

Ruling Chieftains Reject Courtney's View.

BY PARKE BROWN.

All of the 20 elected judges of the Superior court of Cook county whose terms expire this year—13 Democrats and seven Republicans—were renominated yesterday by the Democratic judicial convention.

For a 21st seat on the same bench, now held by Judge Edgar A. Jonas, a Republican appointed to a vacancy by Gov. Dwight H. Green, the convention nominated State Senator Harold G. Ward. Later the city judicial convention nominated Edward S. Scheffler, now acting chief justice of the Municipal court, for election to that office, and named Samuel Heller, a Republican, for a vacancy as associate justice on the city bench.

Meantime a Republican slate making committee was working on a completely new ticket, to be reported to the Republican convention next Monday. All signs pointed to a contested election on Nov. 4.

Specify Order of Names.

The nomination of the Superior court candidates was carried out by the adoption of the report of the committee on nominations headed by Ald. James B. Bowler. That report specified the order in which the candidates' names will appear on the ballot, as follows:

1. William H. McSurely, R.
2. Michael L. McKinley, D.
3. John M. O'Connor, D.
4. Peter H. Schwaba, D.
5. John J. Lupe, R.
6. Harold G. Ward, D.
7. James F. Fardy, D.
8. Robert C. O'Connell, R.
9. Joseph A. Graber, D.
10. Charles A. Williams, D.
11. Oscar Hebel, R.
12. Francis B. Allegretti, D.
13. Oscar F. Nelson, R.
14. E. I. Frankhauser, R.
15. William J. Lindsay, D.
16. John F. Haas, R.
17. Walter T. Stanton, R.
18. Rudolph F. Desort, D.
19. John P. McGoorty, D.
20. Ulysses S. Schwartz, D.
21. John C. Lewe, D.

Courtney Sees Kelly and Nash.

The action of the Democrats was unanimous, but there was an alarm just before the meeting was called to order when it was found that State's Attorney Courtney was in conference with County Chairman P. A. Nash, Mayor Kelly, and other leaders. Rumors spread at once that he was declaring war once more on the organization.

Prolonged questioning after the conference brought from the state's attorney an admission that he had challenged the theory that any sitting judge is entitled to renomination without regard to his record. After he had had his say, the other conferees added, he was told simply that the other leaders did not agree with him.

There was no reference to Courtney's future relations with the organization, from which he has held aloof for several years.

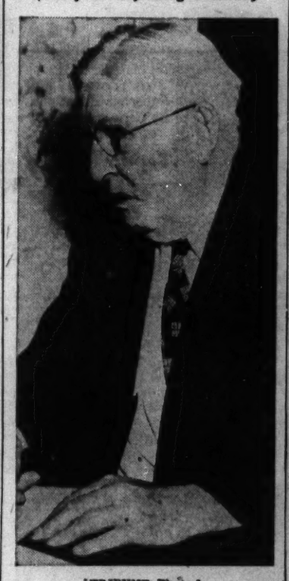

The report of the committee on resolutions, of which Ald. James J. McDermott was chairman, was adopted unanimously and became the platform for the campaign. The document championed the cause of coalition to insure the reëlection of sitting judges.

After asserting that "no political issues are involved" in the judicial election, the resolutions declared the proposal to enter a second ticket to be an "indefensible course."

The platform also attacked the expenditure of $300,000 which might be saved if only a part of the polling places in the county were opened, a method of election permitted in uncontested elections.

TROOPS ADVANCE DESPITE MUD AND RAIN, NAZIS CLAIM

Armies Still Make Good Progress—Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 12 (AP).—The mud, rain, and bad terrain of Russia were emphasized tonight in German high command reports of fighting on the eastern front, but the invasion campaign was declared still to be making good progress.

Adolf Hitler, in a written appeal for the annual winter relief fund, said the success of German soldiers' "sacrifice in blood, sweat, worries, and privations is unheard of in world history."

Now, the statement said, "He is fighting from northernmost Europe to the shores of the Black sea against an enemy who is not human but is made up of beasts."

Anticipated Weather Obstacles.

Contributions, Hitler wrote, will "strengthen the front in the consciousness that the entire German people stands behind them and that their fight is not in vain."

Germans said that the present obstacles of weather were the sort which military leadership anticipates. DNB, official German news agency, said the Russians knew they would receive "still more heavy German blows before winter comes."

Reports from the front said the defenses of Leningrad still were being battered, the Germans advancing despite "stubborn resistance and widespread mine fields." DNB said that fires were started in armaments works during today's air raids on the soviet city.

In taking one town and two Russian field positions, one German army corps reported disposing of 6,700 land mines in two days. Military quarters said the Russians were thrown back with heavy losses when they tried to cross the Volkhov river at three points north of Novgorod. The river flows from Lake Ilmen to Lake Ladoga.

Bomb Soviet Columns.

On the central front, stronger Russian concentrations were under the fire of German artillery, but it was from the south, along the lower reaches of the Dnieper, that news of the most spectacular action came.

The German air force, ranging east of the big river, bombed soviet troop concentrations and columns, scouted all the way to the Crimean peninsula, and reported it destroyed 29 railroad trains.

A number of strategically important railway stations were bombed and several lines were severed, it was added.

DNB reported that Odessa, soviet Black sea port, which has been withstanding German and Rumanian siege for almost a month, was subjected to a heavy Nazi aerial bombardment.

BRITAIN TOLD U. S. IS SPEEDING UP WAR PRODUCTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 12.—John D. Biggers, President Roosevelt's production coördinator, in his first declaration since his arrival here, told British newspaper men today:

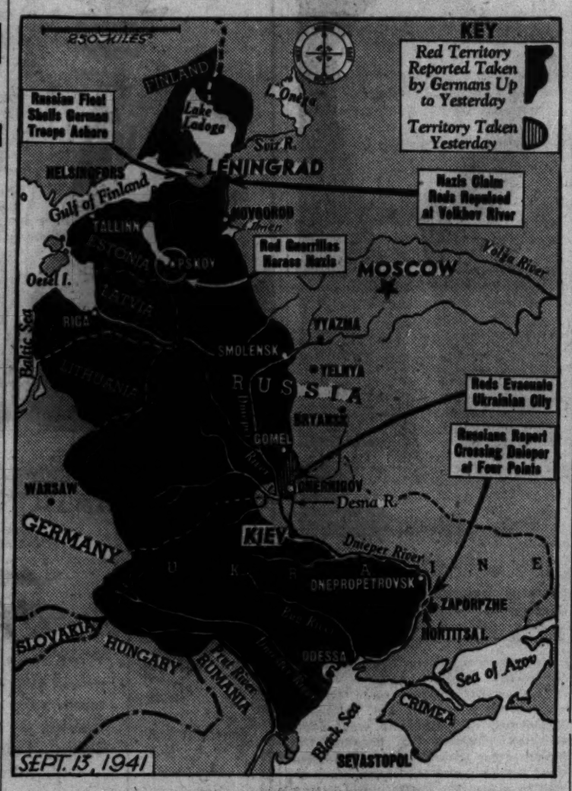

"You will make no mistake in counting on the tremendous productivity of America when its industrial machine is geared to the job—and it is being geared as quickly as possible."

Biggers, with the aid of a chart, gave details of the American output in reply to criticisms about the "disappointing rate of American war production," which, he said, he knew existed in some quarters here.

He said that the monthly output of aircraft in the United States will exceed 2,000 by December, compared with 1,455 in July. Merchant ships, he promised, will be turned out at a rate of one every two days by the end of this year and by the middle of next year the schedule calls for one ship daily. The production of machine tools, he said, would exceed the value of 800 million dollars in the current year. The present rate of tank production, he estimated was "running into a good many hundreds monthly."

RED CROSS FEEDS 24,000 TALLINN BOYS AND GIRLS

Uses Captured Russian Field Kitchens.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TALLINN, Estonia, Sept. 11 [Delayed].—Using captured Russian field kitchens, the reborn Estonian Red Cross has started to feed 24,000 children in Tallinn. The food has been donated by the German army.

Unemployed men have been ordered to clean up and repair factories and workshops which were damaged in the fighting between the Germans and the Russians. The Reds have removed considerable industrial machinery to Russia.

Estonians Stop Destruction.

Hans Saar, an official of the former ministry of agriculture, said that the destruction work of the Russians was spasmodic. The Red administration had ordered devastation battalions to destroy farms, live stock, provisions, and other property.

But the "scorch the earth" troops did not get far. They were annihilated by Estonian home guards.

German military men said the Estonians had turned over many prisoners to the Germans. After encounters between the Germans and the Russians, the Russians usually disappeared into forests.

Woman Captures 100 Men.

Propaganda trucks toured the forests and side roads. The fugitives were urged to surrender. Estonian farmers were provided with leaflets to hand to the Russians when they came begging for food. One woman brought in 100 prisoners. The German commander paid her a special reward of $150. The number of captured Russians in Estonia now exceeds 100,000.

Red prisoners are confined in great empty sheds of the car building works outside Tallinn, an industrial ruin left from the World war. They receive one warm meal each morning. In the evening they get a piece of bread. They receive little water because the Russians destroyed a filtering plant. The prisoners are provided with well water and there are few wells in the district.

The prisoners are mostly Ukrainians, but there are many Mongol and Tartar types.

REPORT MASS ARRESTS BY NAZIS TO QUELL CONFLICT IN NORWAY

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 12 (AP).—The Germans are resorting to mass arrests in an attempt to halt the spirit of revolt racing across Norway and forestall a threatened gigantic conflict within the next few days, border advices said tonight.

Vidkun Quisling.

Angered by repressive measures to block a general strike and the execution of two labor leaders Wednesday, Norway's 350,000 trade union members were said to be fanning opposition to the Vidkun Quisling puppet régime.

Altho official accounts said strikes had been halted and "there were no spasmodic of any kind," a dispatch received in Stockholm said the situation was grave.

[German sources in Berlin insisted that Norwegian strikes were of a localized nature and said that affected industries now were operating normally with nonstriking employés. A dispatch from Berlin also quoted the Oslo Nazi paper, Fritt Folk, as declaring "elements in private business, banking, insurance companies and other concerns hostile to National Socialism must be cleaned out."]

PLEDGE FULL AID TO RUSSIA WITH NO LIMIT ON TIME

Victory Only Goal, Says Mission Chairman.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—American aid to Russia will be full and quick and will continue until Hitler is crushed—this was the word that came from a conference today between President Roosevelt and his newly appointed supply mission to Moscow.

W. A. Harriman.

The mission, which called for final instructions before leaving shortly for Russia, let it be known that all kinds of war supplies—from planes to raw materials—will be transported over routes to Vladivostok and the newly opened line thru the Persian gulf.

A hint that this aid is expected to enable the Russians eventually to take the offensive for a crushing blow at the Nazis came from W. Averell Harriman, the mission's chairman, who discussed the mission's general purposes after the White House conference.

Asked whether Russia's needs are to be considered from the standpoint of immediate requirements or long-range assistance, Harriman replied there will be no time limitations on aid furnished; that it will continue until "ultimate victory."

When questions arise as to whether the British or Russians should get certain goods first, he said, the decision will be in favor of "where they will do the most good in the plan of ultimate destruction of Hitler."

President Roosevelt, immediately after his conference with the mission, received Constantine Oumansky, the soviet ambassador.

Harriman said the "whole problem of Russian aid" will be discussed in Moscow after the five man mission has talked in London with a similar British mission headed by Lord Beaverbrook. That was as far as Harriman would go in disclosing the mission's route. He would not say how or when it will go, except: "It won't be long now."

VICHY FORTIFYING NEW WEST AFRICA BASE AT ABIDJAN

Flank British on 2 Sides; See War in Spain.

VICHY, France, Sept. 12 (AP).—A French announcement said tonight that fortifications were being rushed at Abidjan, on the African ivory coast, which with those at Dakar would bracket the strategic British port of Freetown.

The announcement said Abidjan would be transformed into "one of the most secure natural harbors in the world." Work on the fortifications was said to have been started in June.

The controlled press of Paris, meanwhile, openly hinted that a German-Italian offensive in the western Mediterranean [possibly in Spain] might be brewing.

Major Thrust Forecast.

An article in the Jour-Echo de Paris said the attack would be a "principal operation" and not a diversion, which surprised political circles who had heard no talk of German moves thru Spain since the beginning of the war against Russia. There were reports in neutral military circles, however, that the Germans were considering stabilizing their gains in Russia and establishing a front for the winter months.

When work on Abidjan is completed the biggest ships may base in the sheltered lagoon to which a broad channel is being cut.

[In New York the Associated Press heard Thursday that France, Germany, and Spain had worked out elaborate plans for joint defense of West Africa. Fear that the United States and Britain would some day try to seize bases in the French, Spanish, and Portuguese possessions motivated the plans, it was said. Tripower staff talks were understood to have resulted in the setting up of a permanent joint staff at Melilla, Spanish Morocco, and a flow of German arms to French Morocco, Spain's Rio de Oro, and to Dakar.]

Vote Money for Dakar Base.

The announcement of Abidjan fortifications by an official news agency followed allotment of 128,000,000 francs, largely for the improvement of the Dakar base, to which foreign legion reinforcements were recently sent.

French sources said the work on the new harbor of Abidjan ought to be finished in "two years at the outside."

Dakar is already much larger than the Sierra Leone port of Freetown, vital link in the British lifeline soon to be flanked by French bases.

Freetown is a port of call for British shipping on the Cape of Good Hope route now used for supplies and reinforcements to the orient. The route would be the only passage from England to the east should the Suez canal be lost. It is also the terminus for American supply planes on the short south Atlantic hop from Natal.

Near "Free French" Outlet.

Abidjan is next door to Liberia and close to the communication lines of the "Free French" outlet, Pointenoire.

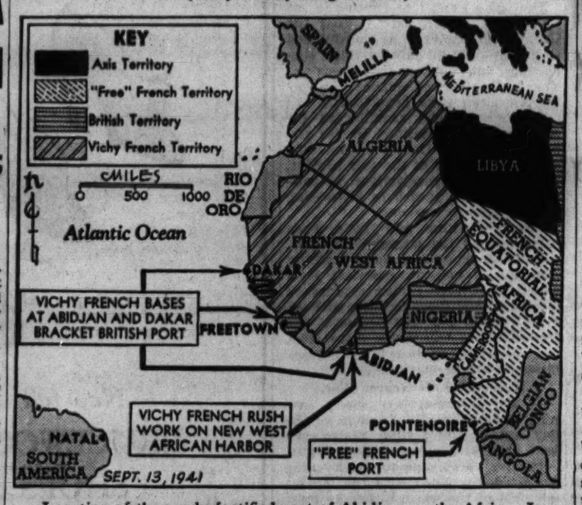

More than half a billion cubic feet has been excavated from the sand bar a mile and a half wide and a channel has been dug past the halfway mark. The channel will be 375 yards wide and over 15 yards deep at low tide.

Ships passing thru the new channel will find themselves in a sheltered body of water parallel to the sea, 75 miles long, two to four miles wide, and 16 to 25 yards deep.

They will anchor before the Abidjan station of a railroad tapping a rich hinterland producing cattle, sheep, oil, cocoa, woods, and minerals.

INTERNAL STRIFE, RED WAR SLOW UP FRENCH PEACE

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Sept. 12.—Government circles here today said that elaboration of projects for economic collaboration with Germany and the study of France's position in the future continental framework were being pursued without lapse.

The troubled internal situation here, due to communist and De Gaullist ["Free French"] agitation, together with German preoccupation on the eastern front, has slowed down political negotiations aimed at bringing about conferences for a definite peace, it was stated.

Usually well informed sources expected that new decisions in Franco-German relations would be forthcoming about the end of September.

In the economic sphere, a new setup between France and Germany is believed being established. In many respects this will serve to soften the rigors of the approaching winter, it was said.

BRITAIN REPORTS 2 AXIS BOMBERS SMASHED IN RAID

LONDON, Sept. 13 [Saturday] (AP).—It was authoritatively reported today that two axis bombers had been destroyed in a raid on England Friday night. Bombs were dropped on the northeast coast, causing a number of casualties. Guns in the London area had a brief burst of action and then went silent.

Down 4 British Planes.

BERLIN, Sept. 12 (AP).—Four British Spitfire fighters flying into German occupied territory were shot down by German fighters today, DNB, official German news agency, reported today. DNB said in a Copenhagen dispatch tonight that British planes flew over many sections of Denmark last night and dropped bombs at various points.

ROOSEVELT SAID:

(Jan. 3, 1936)

"Peace is threatened by those who seek selfish power. The world has witnessed similar eras—as in the days when petty kings and fendal barons were changing the map of Europe every fortnight, or when great emperors and great kings were engaged in a mad scramble for colonial empire.

"We hope we are not again at the threshold of such an era. But if face it we must, then the United States and the rest of the Americas can play but one role:

"Thru a well ordered neutrality to do naught to encourage the contest, thru adequate defense to save ourselves from embroilment and attack, and thru example and all legitimate encouragement to persuade other nations to return to the ways of peace and good will."

FRENCH LEGION GOES TO FIGHT REDS IN EAST

BERLIN, Sept. 13 [Saturday] (AP).—A proclamation issued by Marcel Deat, French editor wounded by the same assassin who shot Pierre Laval, to the anti-Russian French legion departing for the eastern front, was read over the Berlin radio last night.

Deat is believed to be on the way toward recovery, and no responsible source could throw any light on a broadcast heard in New York to the effect that he was dead. Authoritative sources here denied that any such broadcast originated in Berlin.

[The National Broadcasting company in New York picked up what it said was an official Berlin radio announcement of Deat's death.]

8,000 AMERICANS NOW SERVING IN CANADIAN FORCES

More Joining as Dominion Recruiting Lags.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 12 (AP).—The Yanks have been coming into Canada's armed forces for some time now, and the latest authoritative estimate is that there are about 8,000 United States citizens in the Canadian active army.

Precise figures are not given; for in the earlier stages of the war, when it was technically unlawful for a United States citizen to join a foreign army, many a volunteer from south of the border gave his home town as Winnipeg or Toronto or Vancouver and became, statistically, just another Canadian soldier in training for overseas duty.

Now the volunteer from the United States has an openly recognized status on both sides of the line. He is not required to swear allegiance to the king, and he knows that his Canadian uniform will carry in plain sight the identifying letters U. S. A.

Tenth of Flyers Americans.

In the Royal Canadian air force about 10 per cent of the air crew personnel and an undisclosed percentage of ground crew are citizens of the United States. That could be anywhere from 3,000 to 10,000 men.

Recruits still are coming across the border, but not, however, in sufficient number to make up the deficit in strictly Canadian recruiting.

The midsummer recruiting campaign was successful enough. The army asked for 32,000 men for replacement purposes in the overseas forces, and the campaign ended with 34,625 signed up for service. For a while the volunteers were coming in at the rate of as high as 750 a day.

Officials Becoming Uneasy.

In the last month or so, however, the stream has dwindled to the point where army men are becoming uneasy and, in private at least, definitely express their dissatisfaction. They mention three principal reasons for the recruiting slump:

1. The fact that Canadian forces overseas have not yet participated in any land battles.
2. Over-emphasis of the urgent need of weapons rather than men.
3. Dispatches from the Russian front, telling of the many millions of men involved in the farflung carnage, and usually emphasizing the thought that soviet Russia has more than enough men to win.

LEAHY INFORMS PETAIN OF F. D. R. POLICY ON WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Sept. 12.—Admiral William D. Leahy, the American ambassador, conferred with Chief of State Petain today. The embassy announced that Leahy had given Petain an impression of Washington's attitude toward the war, gained from his interview on Sunday and Monday in Barcelona, Spain, with Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's special envoy to the Vatican.

In French circles it was learned that Leahy had given the French further elucidation on the points in President Roosevelt's speech. Leahy stressed that the United States means business this time, according to French unofficial sources.

They took the view that the United States is now practically at war with Germany and Italy and that everything depends on what tactical reaction the axis shows when confronted with a convoy protected by warships.

PROTEST IRANIAN PRESS ATTACK ON BRITISH, RED ACTS

Invaders Warn Against Hostile Attitude.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TEHERAN, Iran [Persia], Sept. 11.—[Delayed.]—An article in Ettelaat, semi-official newspaper, attacking Britain and Russia for dragging Iran into the European war and declaring that Iran intends to maintain diplomatic relations with the axis nations, drew a sharp protest from the British minister today.

The envoy told Foreign Minister Ali Soheily that the British took a very serious view of the article and asserted that the Russians would not countenance a hostile attitude on the part of the Iranian government. Soheily is reported to have assured the minister that the incident will not be repeated.

In neutral circles it was believed both Britain and Russia will stiffen their attitude toward Iran, particularly since the newspaper indicated a spirit of noncoöperation on the part of the Iranians. A revision of plans to deal with the present régime was hinted.

Severe Conditions Unexpected.

"Nobody expected that the issues would take such a shape as they did or that such severe conditions would be imposed," the paper said. Members of parliament and the people were "pained, disturbed, and astonished," it added, but the people "kept cool and calm, refraining from expressing their inner feelings."

"The people are justified in being extremely moved and sorrowful because we now face great difficulties which, in truth, we did not expect or deserve; in fact, we never imagined or thought about them."

To Close Legations.

It was understood in diplomatic quarters that the British and Russians intend to force Iran to close its legations in Germany, Italy, Rumania, and Hungary on the theory that by remaining open they would give the axis a pipeline into this country.

The second batch of 200 Germans is expected to leave Teheran for Ahwaz, on the Persian gulf, on Saturday for India. Others will leave from Kazvin for Siberia. No steps have been taken to round up the Italians, but it is understood that none of them, with the possible exception of a few Fascist agitators, will be interned. It is planned to send most of them to Italy by way of Turkey.

Travelers from Tabriz and other areas occupied by the Russians report great confusion among the Iranian civilian populations. The police have been disarmed and municipal officials have fled, with the result that local governments do not exist.

The Russians, it is claimed, are making no attempt to organize their own civil government in Tabriz, altho they are spreading propaganda among the workers. The Russians are printing the newspaper, The People, in Mazanderan, rich Caspian seacoast province.

JAPANESE ATTACK SPEECH OF F. D. R. AS 'DECEITFUL'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Sept. 13 [Saturday].—President Roosevelt's speech of Thursday night was attacked here this morning as selfish, unfair, and deceitful. The freedom of the seas, as enunciated by Mr. Roosevelt, Japanese newspapers declare, is synonymous with the exercise of sea control by the United States and Britain and by no other power.

The Japan Times and Advertiser, semiofficial organ of the foreign office, declares that if the Roosevelt doctrine is accepted the right of blockade must be abolished. The newspaper Yomiuri says that Japan respects the principle of freedom of the seas, but cannot subscribe to any doctrine which makes this the exclusive privilege of America. It urges the United States to quit supporting one side in the war and revert to the position of an impartial third country, "in which case the whole world will recognize the traditional American policy of freedom of the seas."

The newspaper Chugai Shogyo says: "Claiming freedom of the seas after committing actions contrary to the laws of navigation and commerce can only be regarded as sheer deceit."

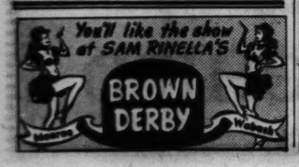

WARN 'AXIS' SHIPS NOW MAY FIRE ON AMERICAN CRAFT

ROME, Sept. 12 (AP). — Virginio Gayda declared today that no formal declaration of war could add to "this open, direct aggression pre-announced by Roosevelt's speech."

The only course left to axis warships, said the editor of Il Giornale d'Italia, who often reflects Fascist opinion, is to fight, if necessary, in self defense.

Nothing appeared, however, to indicate Italian warcraft might seek incidents that might provoke open war between America and the axis. Instead, Fascist commentators attributed that aim to Mr. Roosevelt.

Il Lavoro Fascista called the speech "the next to the last step on the long road followed by President Roosevelt to enter in conflict with the axis powers." A statement issued by political circles said he aims at "aggressive occupation of strategic points outside American waters."

Internment Routes

ANOTHER VESSEL HIT BY TORPEDO; 26 IN LIFEBOATS

Former Danish Craft Under Panama Flag.

ship Paula which was requisitioned by the maritime commission on Aug. 2, 1941, sailed from Wilmington, N. C., for Iceland at 9 a. m., Aug. 29, with a cargo of lumber for the Iceland government. [Before the war the Montana traded between Atlantic ports and England.]

"According to a message from the navy department received at 12 noon Sept. 12, the ship was observed by aircraft to be torpedoed in latitude 63 degrees 40 minutes north and longtitude 35 degrees 50 minutes west at 13:45 o'clock Greenwich central time [8:45 E.S.T.] on Sept. 11.

"The message said that the crew took to their boats.

"The Montana had on board about 1,500,000 feet of lumber and was due in Reykjavik, Iceland, on Sept. 11 and was to discharge her cargo at Reykjavik and three other Iceland ports.

"The crew of 26 included: 18 Danish citizens, 5 Norwegian citizens, 1 Greek citizen, 1 Belgian citizen, 1 Spanish citizen, and no American citizens."

Ship's Master a Dane.

The master of the Montana, a 1,700 ton vessel, which was under charter to the Marine Operating company of New York, was M. Knudsen, a Dane, 41 years old. The address of his wife, Mrs. Lilly Knudsen, was given as North Bergen, N. J. The second mate was Niels G. Aarre, also a Dane.

American officials said that they presumed that the Montana had been sunk, altho they acknowledged that they had no precise information on that point. They added that the sinking of this vessel did not constitute an affront to the President's address because it had occurred before the speech was delivered.

A question uppermost in the capital today concerned what areas the administration will consider "defensive waters," as mentioned in the President's address, in which warships would shoot first against axis warcraft.

When asked at a press conference to define such waters, Secretary of State Cordell Hull said that Germany's actions will determine their boundaries. Hull said that it must be remembered that the United States confronted a world movement of force and must govern itself accordingly.

This statement was construed in some quarters as indicating that axis warships face attack in any quarters of the seas where they may take the offensive.

U-BOATS SINK 22 SHIPS IN CONVOY, GERMANS CLAIM

Nazis Call Action a Reply to Roosevelt.

BERLIN, Sept. 12 (AP).—Adolf Hitler's military headquarters, offering with radio trumpet fanfare what some quarters called an answer to President Roosevelt, today reported one of the heaviest submarine attacks on British shipping in the history of sea warfare. At the same time an authorized German spokesman dismissed the President's speech with these words:

"All Roosevelt's contentions are lies.

Hunt Down Surviving Ships.

In a great sea action still under way, the high command asserted, 22 ships aggregating 134,000 tons had been sunk from a strongly protected convoy of 40 somewhere in the North Atlantic, while two other vessels totaling 11,000 tons had been torpedoed and almost certainly destroyed.

The convoy, said a news dispatch, was en route from North America to England.

[The British admitted that a small British merchant ship had been damaged in an attack in the North sea on Thursday night, but acknowledged no other German attack at sea.]

Takes Up Points One by One.

The German spokesman took up one by one some of the principal points made by the President in his speech, in which Mr. Roosevelt disclosed that the United States navy had been ordered to fire at sight on axis warships appearing in certain waters. It was maintained here these waters were not clearly defined. [Mr. Roosevelt defined these waters as those essential to American defense.]

Mr. Roosevelt's reference to freedom of the seas, said this authorized German commentator, was "the peak of hypocrisy."

The President, he added, "bears the responsibility for all the consequences."

Concerning the case of the United States destroyer Greer [which the President declared was attacked by a German submarine without warning in American defensive waters], the spokesman repeated the Nazi assertion that the U-boat fired only after the Green had dropped depth bombs.

He described as "pure invention" Mr. Roosevelt's statement that in July of 1941 an American battleship was trailed by a German submarine with hostile intentions.

As to the American ship Robin Moor, he asserted that she was sunk in the South Atlantic in accordance with the usages of international law, claiming that she carried contraband.

As to the American ship Steel Seafarer, which went down in the Red sea, the spokesman declared that if she was among the ships sunk by German planes it was in an area declared by both Germany and Italy to be a zone of war.

He asserted, too, that the Steel Seafarer was loaded with war materials for Britain in the near east.

Concerning the sinking of the American owned freighter Sessa off Iceland, he said the Sessa was flying the flag of Panama and "Roosevelt is not the protector of Panama."

U. S. TO BE IN WAR SOON, SAY BRITISH AFTER F. D. R. TALK

Shoot Order Is Hailed by London Press.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 13 [Saturday].—America will be in the war shortly, according to this morning's Daily Mail.

Commenting on President Roosevelt's orders to the American navy, the paper says: "This may be called 'armed resistance' or 'defensive action,' but it looks very like war."

It is hard, the Daily Mail declares, "to imagine a situation in which hostilities will not break out—and soon." It regards Mr. Roosevelt's speech as "the biggest step forward since the lend-lease act. The proviso 'short of war' has been eliminated."

Warn: Sea War Can Spread.

The News Chronicle likewise foresees America engaged in open warfare against the axis. While admitting that "feelings still are strong against the sending of American manhood to take part in a war outside the American continent," it states, "If a shooting war were to develop at sea it might soon prove difficult in practice to set any limits on its extension."

Mr. Roosevelt's failure to define just what constitutes "American defensive waters" encouraged the belief here that relief will be afforded to the British naval forces guarding allied shipping "all over the seven seas." This view was borne out by the Daily Telegraph, which headlines its front page story: "United States Navy May Shoot First in Any Sea—Defense Zones Can Be Expanded."

"No Line to Stop Chaser."

The Daily Express naval reporter states: "It can be taken reasonably that some latitude will be allowed to the United States naval commanders. It is unlikely from the President's words that a strict line will be drawn across the Atlantic at which American ships in pursuit of a raider would have to stop and give up the chase."

The general interpretation of Roosevelt's speech here is that the United States navy is now authorized to sink at sight all axis warships, submarines, and bombers in all seas not specifically declared combat zones by the American state department.

The first official reaction so far came from Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, who still is a member of the war cabinet. In London for consultations, he commented on the speech in addressing aircraft factory workers.

"Every Briton will have been heartened by the message," he said. "It is the latest and most practical example of help in practical form which the United States is prepared to give us and those fighting with us. I am certain that the people of the United States will never, come what may, allow Hitler to achieve his ambition of world mastery."

Agree U. S. Is Nearer War.

As did this morning papers, evening publications in London yesterday agreed the United States had been brought nearer the brink of war.

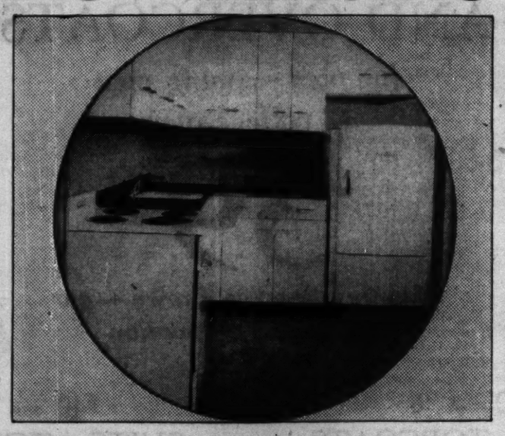

"Hitler," according to the Evening Standard, "is faced with the biggest dilemma of the war. Either he must retreat from the waters west of Iceland or invite a shooting conflict with the United States. If axis raiders still venture into the forbidden seas it will result in increasing clashes with the American navy, which can lead nowhere but to open war with the United States."

Under the heading, "Warning," the Star says: "Roosevelt has not declared war. He has said that American ships no longer will be helpless targets. It is for Hitler to decide whether this means war or not."

The Evening News regards the speech as a "plain, but blunt, ultimatum." Roosevelt, it points out, has "ranged the American fleet side by side with our own in the battle of the Atlantic," adding, "It is not a declaration of war in the old formal sense, but it is a massive intervention in the war."

SENATOR QUOTES FIGURES TO SHOW GAS SCARE FALSE

More Oil Arrives in East than Year Ago.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—The administration's oil scare bubble was punctured again today by Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, who cited figures showing that the tanker situation along the east coast is not as bad as pictured by Oil Coördinator Harold L. Ickes and his associates.

Sen. David I. Walsh.

In a letter to Deputy Coördinator Ralph K. Davies, the senator took the coördinator's office to task for propaganda of oil shortages and restrictions on gasoline consumption when figures prove that the flow of oil to New England was greater in August and the early part of September than a year ago.

Assailed by Committee.

Yesterday a special senate investigating committee attacked Ickes' operations as creating "unnecessary alarm" and declared that present restrictions should be removed. On Tuesday the supply priorities and allocations board turned down Ickes request for steel priorities to build a 2,000 mile pipeline from Texas to New York.

Walsh reiterated the sentiments of the special committee and further exploded Ickes' claim that sacrifices were necessary in use of oil and gasoline because tankers were transferred to Britain.

"The facts," wrote Walsh, "would seem to indicate that the gasoline shortage scare to which the people of New England were subjected was baseless and that the curtailment and rationing orders were unjustified."

Walsh said that 80 tankers arrived in Boston harbor during August, compared with only 64 in August, 1940, and that shipping regulations permit tankers to carry more oil than a year ago. According to present schedules, he added, seven large deep water tankers were due to arrive in Boston last week, compared with only four in the corresponding week last year.

Curfew Aids Distributors.

According to Walsh, a prominent citizen in his state in daily contact with oil officials informed the senator that the oil companies "readily admit there is no existing scarcity and none in sight." The informant also contended, Walsh said, that the 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew imposed by Ickes on the east coast, permitted the large companies to cut overhead and sell more gasoline than they did previously in 24 hours.

"Curtailed distribution, many believe, will affect the small independent dealer," Walsh continued. "Some will be forced out of business."

Maritime commission records show, Walsh added, that 243 tankers were operating in the Atlantic-Gulf trade on June 30, 1941, compared with 244 on the corresponding date of 1940.

Franz Triplets Win Title as Best at Kentucky Fair

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12 (AP).—The 23 month old Franz triplets—Joy, Faith, and Hope—today were adjudged Kentucky's best triplets. The three blonde, blue eyed daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franz of Louisville won the title at the state fair after examining doctors pronounced them "outstanding in every way."

CITADEL OF FREE SPEECH ASKS TO HEAR WHEELER

Oregon City Angered by Portland Ban.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 12 [Special].—The city council of Oregon City, 15 miles from Portland, in a special session today voted to provide the town's large Kelly athletic field for the address of Senator Burton K. Wheeler on Sept. 22 if a suitable hall is not obtained by the America First committee in Portland.

The offer was brought to Portland by Peter Lauer, editor of the Oregon City Enterprise, who said the townspeople were indignant over the Portland school board's refusal of use of a high school or auditorium for the meeting.

Free Speech Guaranteed.

"We want the people of the United States to know that there is one spot in America where free speech is guaranteed," said Lauer. "Thousands of people in west central Oregon want to hear Senator Wheeler.

"The action of our council was unanimous, just as our people are unanimous—for freedom of speech."

Delimore Lessard, Oregon state chairman of the America First committee, said his group would prefer to hold its meeting in Portland, but as a last resort would accept the offer of Oregon City."

Reversal Is Possible.

However there were signs today that the city council, which also indicated opposition to the meeting, might change its mind and grant use of the city auditorium. It was reported today that a council committee obtained a waiver from the Seventh Day Adventists for use of the auditorium on Sept. 22. The Adventists hold a lease on the auditorium for a revival.

The school board, however, stood pat in its decision. Director Dean B. Webster said America is nearer war than peace and contended that the America First committee "overlooks that the die is cast." Director Robert O. Chase said Benson auditorium, the one asked for, is one of the foremost armament training schools in the nation and is not the proper place for meetings opposing the administration's foreign policy.

Tonight, however, Chairman Lessard said:

"You can say that there will be a whale of a Wheeler meeting and, I believe, in Portland."

REVEAL U. S. ZINC PRODUCTION 25% UNDER CAPACITY

This Despite Government Wails of Shortage.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 12 [Special].—In the midst of wailings from government spokesman about a shortage of zinc, a survey disclosed today that 90 per cent of the mines and mills in the nation's largest zinc producing field—the tri-state mining district here—are in operation and that production probably could be increased 25 per cent.

Two reasons were given for the field not operating to full capacity. One was said to be the result of government threats to peg the price for zinc concentrates. The other was the effect of the reciprocal trade act which has permitted importations of large quantities of foreign ore.

All supplies of zinc scrap have been placed under priority control and as long ago as last March maximum prices for zinc scrap and secondary slab zinc were established by Leon Henderson, New Deal price commissar.

Price Same for 50 Weeks.

For 50 consecutive weeks the price for zinc concentrates has stood at $48 a ton. This is attributed to repeated warnings from Washington that any substantial price advance would bring price fixing of prime zinc.

Operators say that a price of $63 a ton for concentrates is needed to justify capacity production at present wages. Wages now being paid by most mines and mills are comparable with those paid during the first World war when zinc prices reached $135 a ton.

In an effort to remove the depressing effect of the reciprocal trade act, tri-state operators on several occasions have laid their tariff grievance before congressmen and state department officials but without results.

Put Yield at 450,000 Tons.

Mines of the tri-state district, which embraces the corners of Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma, produce about 35 per cent of the country's tonnage of zinc concentrates. Latest figures indicate that the 1941 output will approximate 450,000 tons, considerably higher than 1940's output of 421,000 tons but less than that of 1937, the best year since the depression, when 483,000 tons were produced.

Operators contend that if a higher tonnage price were established now it would enable the reopening of many mines which are thin percentage producers, the higher price justifying a sufficient recovery from marginal mining companies. They agree that the district has sufficient reserves to permit increased production to meet increased armament needs, if the price is right.

769 DIRTY, TIRED REFUGEES QUIT SHIP BUILT FOR 15

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—Dirty and weary after more than a month at sea, 769 European refugees arrived in New York today aboard the Spanish freighter Navemar, originally built to accommodate 15 passengers.

Emaciated children watched from the deck rails as the ship pulled alongside the dock. Women, gaunt and disheveled, wept. Exhausted looking men cheered feebly.

To reach America, the refugees slept in double deck cots in the hold, on the decks, and even in lifeboats.

"We could not wash ourselves," said one. "The drinking water was too warm to drink. The food was spoiled. After Lisbon it was better but still insufficient. The ship was dirty. The dishes were dirty. The waiters were dirty."

Expect to See Shooting Soon! Admiral Tells Officers-to-be

New York, Sept. 12 [Special].—Asserting that the United States is facing the greatest crisis in its history, Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews, commandant of the Third naval district, today predicted before a gathering of civilians and officers of the American and British navies that there will be shooting "in the near future" in the Atlantic. He added that "every American officer ought to be proud to be there to take it and give it back to them in good measure." Andrews is 61 years of age.

Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews.

Calls British "Brothers."

The audience of about 200 persons, assembled at the New York Yacht club, including J. P. Morgan, the international banker, Townsend Irvin, commodore, and George E. Roosevelt, banker and distant relative of the President., as well as 30 young men who will be commissioned ensigns in the navy next week, greeted Admiral Andrews' statements with applause. Commander H. G. Dickinson was the senior officer of the group of about ten beribboned British naval officers.

Turning to the group of British officers, Admiral Andrews said he was delighted to welcome them as "brothers" of his majesty's navy.

"We should take our hats off to the British navy," he added. "It's a great organization, with a noble tradition. We are with them, and we hope to do more for them pretty soon."

Taking up President Roosevelt's characterization of Hitler as "a rattlesnake," Admiral Andrews urged that Americans should not be misled into a false sense of security "because that rattlesnake may be curled up quietly for the time being."

Coiled, Ready to Spring.

"That rattlesnake," he emphasized, is simply biding his time, to choose what for him may be the safest moment, to uncoil and spring 'at our vitals.'

"It is up to us to take such measures as may be necessary to protect our safety," he added. "And if there is shooting, I envy every American officer who will be there."

The gathering was a reception in honor of the officers-to-be who have just completed a four months training course. Each a college graduate, the 30 young men were part of a class of 429, all of whom will become ensigns in the naval reserve and go on active duty immediately following commencement Tuesday.

F. D. R. SON-IN-LAW AGAIN HITS NAVY IN SHOOTING CASE

Firing on News Boats Inexcusable, He Says.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 12 [Special].—The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, published by John Boettiger, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, which recently blasted Secretary of Navy Frank Knox for "woefully misguided orders affecting the press," took another crack at the navy department today.

The first editorial onslaught, published a week ago, was prompted by an incident that occurred on the arrival in Seattle of a Russian military air mission. At that time news men and photographers were halted by naval pistol shots after they had accidentally sailed their press boats within the restricted area of the naval air station.

Department Defends Action.

Yesterday the navy department in Washington defended naval personnel in the Seattle area for firing the shots. According to the navy, four shots were fired "well forward of the boat" occupied by the news men, by a guard using a .45 caliber pistol.

The navy report added that one of the boats failed to halt, and that when a navy crash boat took out after it, the news men's boat attempted to speed away. Later, the navy said, when the news men's camera films were developed, "many of the pictures showed clearly the industrial section of the naval air station."

Text of Editorial.

"The navy department has issued a report on the shooting incident at Sand Point.

"The Post-Intelligencer has no quarrel with the facts as stated by the navy, except as to whether the shots were fired 'ahead' of the newspaper men's boat, or whether one of them came directly toward the boat, as both the reporter in question and a navy chief petty officer declared.

"In any case, there still is no excuse for the firing of any shots. The navy knew that the boats were carrying newspaper men, and not enemies or spies.

Coöperate with Navy.

"The Seattle newspapers have all coöperated fully with the navy, altho many times with impatience at the unreasonableness of the navy requests.

"In this case, it would have been simple indeed for the navy authorities to notify the newspaper editors that pictures had been taken which might reveal information considered secret, and they would have been turned over to the navy for examination promptly and without dispute. It is our hope that this incident, brought to the attention of naval authorities, may serve to bring about changes in the navy's attitude toward newspapers, which will restore the navy to its former high place in press and public relations."

SIFT SOLDIERS' DESTRUCTION OF TAVERN IN SOUTH

Wreck Interior, Set Fire in Row Over Beer Price.

Alexandria, La., Sept. 12 [Special].—Military authorities today were investigating the burning and wrecking of a beer tavern near here by soldiers in revenge for the shooting of one of their number by a bartender during an argument over the high price of beer.

The wounded soldier, Private Frank Mlynarchek of the 32d [Wisconsin-Michigan] division, is in Camp Livingston hospital recovering from a bullet wound in his knee.

Civil authorities exonerated Henry Lambert, the tavern operator, asserting he shot in self-defense. They released two men and two women after questioning. They did not arrest any soldiers nor file any charges, but they asked that a full military investigation be made of the fracas, which took place Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Fires Shots at Floor.

Assistant District Attorney Ben F. Thompson Jr. said that a group of soldiers charged toward Lambert during the argument over his increase in the price of beer and that he shot three times with a pistol aimed at the floor.

"Lambert was trying to protect himself and his business," Thompson said, "this gang of soldiers was tearing up the place. Some of them splashed gasoline on the floor and set fire to it, but military police put out the flames."

Following the fight Tuesday night, the tavern was boarded and nailed shut pending a hearing. But while the civilian prisoners were being questioned in Thompson's office the next day, soldiers returned to the closed tavern and wrecked it, the prosecutor said.

Fixtures Are Demolished.

Only the walls of the 20 by 40 foot building were left standing. The entire front of the building was torn away. Everything inside was wrecked, including the furniture, an electric beer box and two ice boxes.

The floor was littered with smashed bottles, beer cans, wrecked counters and other débris. A coin operated phonograph was smashed into small pieces. No coins from the nickelodeon could be found.

TELLS PROGRAM OF PUBLIC WORKS WHEN WAR ENDS

A plan for the reconstruction of America when its rearmament period ends was outlined last night before the 18th annual meeting of the Chicago Planning association.

The plan is that envisioned by the Public Work reserve, a federal works agency set up two months ago. Its objectives were explained in a speech prepared by John M. Carmody, federal works administrator, but delivered in his stead by Jacob Baker, federal coördinator for the work reserve, at a dinner at the Palmer House.

Foreseeing vast unemployment and a general "capital blight" in the post war period, the agency hopes to get local communities to spend between 4 and 6 billion dollars a year on new works.

PUZZLE OF FRIDAY, SEPT. 12, SOLVED

LA GUARDIA HIT AS REDS' FRIEND AND A TURNCOAT

Primary Rival Assails Mayor's Record.

New York, Sept. 12 [Special].—Charging Mayor Fiorello La Guardia with being a friend of communists and other un-American elements as well as an opportunist turncoat and "fifth columnist" in Republican ranks, John R. Davies today put his campaign for the Republican nomination for mayor into high gear.

Davies listed 24 reasons for his opposition to La Guardia in a radio address tonight. This followed his disclosure of an offer to withdraw from the race if La Guardia would promise not to campaign against the next Republican candidates for President and for governor of New York.

Could Look So Far Ahead.

The offer was made at a secret meeting a month ago, Davies said, but La Guardia replied he could not "look so far into the future" and would make no such promise, according to Davies.

Davies, a former president of the National Republican club, charged La Guardia with being "temperamentally unfit" to be mayor and with calling persons appearing before him "punks, bums," and other abusive names. He added a belief that the mayor should stick to his knitting here, and not hold jobs that require his presence in Washington and Canada. La Guardia is American chairman of the United States-Canada Joint Defense committee, director of the Federal Office of Civilian Defense, and chairman of the United States Mayors' conference.

Reviews Political Record.

The first reason for his candidacy, said Davies, is his desire to help to rid the Republican party of any alliances with radicals.

"I am a Republican, always have been one," he continued. "Mayor La Guardia is a member of the American Labor party, a party composed of men who are not Americans and few that labor. La Guardia was a Republican when it suited his convenience. He became a Socialist when it suited his convenience. He became an 'independent' when it fitted his schemes. He ran again as a Republican when he felt that would assure him an election."

Davies added that he believes in the constitution and the mayor does not, had tried to destroy the independence of the judiciary, and favored the "packing" of the Supreme court. He said he was opposed to the division of the American people into classes, characterized the American Labor party as un-American, and said it should be destroyed.

Tries to End Two Party System.

Charging that the mayor sought to destroy the two-party system, Davies said La Guardia had been guilding a political machine of his own, mainly by appointing radicals, with here and there Tammany and New Deal Democrats.

Davies recalled his efforts as assistant counsel to Samuel Seabury, in helping remove former Mayor Jimmy Walker and other Tammany politicians from office.

"La Guardia is an ambitious man, so was Caesar," he continued. "With the aid of the New Deal he has spent hundreds of millions of dollars on projects which are useless. Among them is that white elephant which he so modestly glorified with his own name, La Guardia airport."

Davies said he is opposed to La Guardia because the mayor favors unlimited spending of public money, is insincere and an opportunist opposing a sales tax in congress and levying one in New York, believes in limitless and destructive taxation, seeks "with New Deal bedfellows" to create large classes of people on relief to be assured of their votes, and "gave his blessing" to appointments of communists to city jobs.

Otto Delenk, 2511 North Oak Park avenue, an amateur gardener, got quite a surprise yesterday when he tried to pull up some carrots in his vegetable patch. One required a lot of tugging, but when it was clear of the ground it measured only a little short of 23 inches.

READ MESSAGES ON SECRET RADIO DURING SPY TRIAL

Tell German Demands for Information.

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—The government today revealed the texts of secret messages in which a Hamburg, Germany, spy center requested information about American airplane production and technical and military intelligence.

The messages, received by a "spy" radio station operated secretly by the federal bureau of investigation on Long Island, were identified by James C. Ellsworth, FBI agent and government witness at the trial of 16 men charged with conspiracy to spy for Germany.

The messages were addressed to William G. Sebold, who testified earlier that he was assigned to spy in this country by the German gestapo. He turned his assignment over to the FBI, who built and operated the Long Island station in counterespionage.

Generous with Money.

One group of messages indicated that the German principal was willing to pay huge sums for defense intelligence and a German message on Oct. 31, 1940, said, "We have in mind to establish a big deposit with a New York bank. We request recommendations as to how payments can be made unsuspiciously; or would you rather receive money thru Mexico?"

Some messages indicated satisfaction on both sides with money matters and finally $5,000 was sent to Sebold in care of the Chase National bank in New York.

Some of the Messages.

Among the messages introduced into evidence as having been received by the Long Island station from the outlaw station or in Hamburg, were:

June 3, 1940 [when it was reported that the French might try to move their liner Normandie out of New York]—"Thanks for reports. Observe Normandi."

June 13, 1940—"Is it true that shipments of provisions have preference over war materials?"

June 29—"Deliver all material thru Siegler to H. Duarte, Lisbon, Hotel Duos Maloes [or Nacoes]. Password on meeting is Sesam greets Franz. Duarte will hand over to Siegler 500 for Roeder; 300 for you; 200 for Lily; 250 for Dunn. Distribution of money by you. Don't borrow money for Lily. All should report military and technical information delivered to England. Siegler should bring Stigler also to Duarte. Hearty greetings."

Lily Stein and Everett Roeder were among 17 who have pleaded guilty to one or both counts of the indictment. Franz J. Stigler is on trial.

Ask About Motors.

July 10—"How many Allison motors made in series in Indianapolis have been delivered up to now and where?"

July 11—"Send via Manhattan to Duarte, Lisbon, for forwarding: Air, Army and Navy journal NAB 1540 [presumably May 5, 1940, issue]. Also Wall Street Journal NAK 1740 [July 1, 1940], and current issues. Many greetings."

One message sent from Long Island to Hamburg said: "Siegler says if no one comes off the ship, Duarte should try to come in small boat as peddler to portside midship to porthole from which appears antenna between 5 and 8 p. m."

Hamburg also suggested, near the end, that two more radio stations be constructed—one in the north and one in the south, and made suggestions as to their operating personnel. Whether the FBI built the stations, as they did the one thru which more than 500 messages came, was not disclosed.

INDICT TOLEDO EX-DEPUTY AUDITOR.

Toledo, O., Sept. 12 [Special].—Ervin C. Wessendorf, former deputy city auditor, was indicted today on charges of participating in the city's parking meter fraud, exposed by a grand jury investigation several months ago. Wessendorf is accused of embezzling $510 and conspiring with William Bedacht, former patrolman, and Robert Elder and Glen Vincent, collectors.

QUOTING ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Legitimate Object of Government.

The legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done, but cannot do at all, or cannot so well do, for themselves, in their separate and individual capacities. In all that the people can individually do as well for themselves, government ought not to interfere.

A. Lincoln

Fragment, July 1, 1854.

THE LITTLE SHORTAGE THAT WASN'T THERE.

In recent months the national administration has become aware that the public was cool to war mongering. The polls showing that 80 per cent of the people are against going to war first impressed that upon Washington. The amazing growth in the membership of America First emphasized it. And the accounts of the low state of morale in the draft army, as reported even by the interventionist newspapers, removed all doubts. What to do about it?

The New Deal has many kinds of consultants, and among them were some psychologists. These specialists, among them a Princeton professor, have been giving the popular mind a going over at regular intervals for nearly a year. When they were consulted about the apathy recently observed toward involvement in the war, they had a tough one.

The problem was to simulate some of the conditions of war. Among the methods proposed was to call for contributions to a common stock of scarce material. Another was to proclaim a shortage and to enforce rationing of regular supplies of some widely used commodity. The aluminum collection met the first condition. That was considerable of a flop.

Much importance was, therefore, attached to the selection of an article in general use, which the public should be asked to ration. Gasoline was chosen as the ideal commodity. That, in brief, appears to be the explanation of Harold Ickes' gasoline hoax.

Ickes with his assistant, Ralph K. Davies, went to town with it. It was suddenly announced that an acute gasoline shortage existed along the Atlantic coast, because of the tankers which had been turned over to the nations fighting aggression. There wasn't enough gasoline to last 10 days!

People who ran their cars for pleasure would have to put them in the garage. Stop your car and pick up any respectable looking fellow making the great American gesture. Forbid motorists to start in second. Arrest the man who uses a wastefully rich mixture. Curfew, gasless Sundays, and ration each gasoline station.

All this was for the east to start with, the Pacific coast later, and eventually the middle west. "A determined democracy can save enough gasoline to overcome its shortage."

Then came the disclosure in the authoritative London Economist that Great Britain had plenty of tankers and, therefore, had no need for the ones we were turning over. Next it was revealed that tankers were being constructed so rapidly that by next June there would be as much oil carrying capacity as ever. Then the railroads cried out that there were 20,000 idle tank cars, which could carry all the oil down east that was needed. They offered to slash their rates to help things along.

The indications that the shortage was synthetic led to a demand for an investigation by a senate committee. Ickes and Davies strongly opposed it. But despite support from the administration, they were unable to defeat Senator Maloney's determination to get at and make public the facts.

The committee made public its report on Thursday. It found that there wasn't any gasoline shortage in the east. It was the phony which from the beginning it was asserted to be in these columns. The committee found that there was no shortage of either gasoline or the means of transporting it, recommended that the restrictions on gasoline be immediately removed, and accused Oil Coördinator Ickes of creating "unnecessary alarm." Then the 80 million dollar pipeline Ickes demanded was turned down by being refused steel priority for its construction.

While the announced shortage of gasoline was being exposed as a barefaced fake, a committee on marketing research of the American Iron and Steel Institute was studying the steel supply. It reported a few days ago that all possible defense, civilian, and export demand for steel would keep the industry busy only 95 per cent of the time. There is a steel surplus. This disclosure was so devastating that the government, which had previously asserted that not a pound of steel may be used without permission from Washington, relaxed its rules so that the warehouses serving the smaller businesses could have nearly normal amounts to supply their customers.

The fact of the matter is that there is no shortage of anything. There are only a million and a half men in the army and a few hundred thousand in the navy. If they were in civilian life they would be wearing about as many clothes, eating as much food, and requiring for their maintenance as much machinery as they now do. The transfer of this small percentage of our total population has not increased the demand for goods to any material extent. Let's have no more artificial shortages for psychological effect.

A LEGION VOTE ON WAR.

Gen. Robert E. Wood did a great service to the American Legion the other day when he pointed out that while some of the leaders of the Legion have indulged in incendiary statements on war, they have done so without any autherization from the rank and file of the organization.

The Legion convention which is gathering in Milwaukee does so under suspicious circumstances. The charge has been made, and not refuted, that men prominent in Legion politics have been bought up by jobs in Mayor La Guardia's phony Paul Revere brigade or on other government pay rolls to pave the way for a pro-war resolution by the convention.

Delegates from some of the more wide awake Legion posts have been sent to the meeting with definite instructions to fight such a move. Others are uninstructed. There is danger that if convention control is in the hands of a ring of war mongers a stand may be taken that represents only a minority of the Legion membership thruout the country.

In such circumstances, which will be easily enough recognized if they arise, the convention action will be meaningless. If the leaders of the organization want an honest expression of the sentiments of its members let them, as Gen. Wood suggests, adopt the extremely simple plan of submitting the question to the membership of every Legion post in the country. Those Legionnaires who are opposed to war will readily agree to this referendum. Dare the war mongers accept the challenge?

LINDBERGH, WILLKIE, AND THE JEWS.

Col. Lindbergh and Mr. Willkie have within the last week brought into the public forum the relation of the American Jews to the drive to push this nation into war.

This is a question that THE TRIBUNE, in common with almost all other newspapers, would be reluctant to discuss in normal times. But these are not normal times and what follows here is printed in the belief that it is better to handle the subject in public discussion than to leave it to the savagery of irresponsible private conversations. We doubt if many of our readers are unaware of the prevalence of those conversations in the last year.

We might interject here that so far as THE TRIBUNE is concerned, as an organization, it has no Jewish problem any more than it has any other racial problems. The proportion of Jewish employés is, we imagine, roughly parallel to the proportion of Jews in the population of Chicago, and it includes two of the writers for this page. This is, of course, accidental. They were not hired because they were Jews, but like all the other employés, because they were the people best qualified for the jobs they hold. The only virtue we claim in the matter is the common sense that refuses to let prejudice deny us a group of capable coworkers.

Col. Lindbergh said that the Jews of America, as a group, are working for war, altho he conceded that a few far sighted Jews see the folly of this course and oppose it. He might have added that other racial groups whose birthplaces have been overrun by Hitler are also working for war. But neither these other groups nor the Jews are unanimous in this. It may be recalled that while the only ward in Chicago that voted for war in THE TRIBUNE'S poll was a predominantly Jewish community, that ward gave only the barest majority for war.

Jews, as Col. Lindbergh said, have every reason to hate and fear Hitler because of what he has done to the Jews in Europe. But the case does not stop there. Other Americans no more wish to be treated as Hitler has treated the Germans than American Jews wish to be treated as he has treated the Jews. The case for American participation in the war does not rest on detestation of Hitler. If it did, our navy, with the consent of the whole nation, would have started across the Atlantic the day Poland was invaded.

Opposition to war does not rest either on any liking for Hitler or the slightest trust in his intentions regarding this country. It rests, first, on the sound military evidence that whatever his intentions, he is powerless to execute them against an adequately prepared America; and second, on the fact that our participation in the war will bring on this nation bankruptcy and a centralized, despotic government different in no essential detail from Hitler's despotism.

It is only among the war mongers that there is any talk of pro-Hitlerism. That has had little effect on most Americans, but it may have had effect on some Jewish people who, to avoid the unjust stigma of favoring the bitterest enemy of their race, have adopted a course designed in the long run to subject them to the very persecution they fear. Hard times and despotic government, the inevitable results of our participation in the war, are the necessary forerunners of persecution.

Other Americans have but one demand that they may rightfully make of American Jews and that is the same demand that they rightfully make of Americans of British, Polish, Italian, Irish, or any other descent. It is that they think and act as Americans. This does not mean that they should abandon religion, or customs, or sentimental ties. It does mean that in political matters, and particularly in matters touching our foreign relations, they should be wholly American and not members of any racial group.

We have mentioned Mr. Willkie. He attempted, without success, to foist a common heresy on the senate—namely, that to criticize a Jew for anything is to be guilty of anti-Semitism. The motion picture producers of Hollywood are not under fire for being Jewish, altho a number of them are of this faith. They are under fire for engaging in propaganda for war, and to drag out the false issue of anti-Semitism, as Mr. Willkie has done, does them and all other Jews in America a great disservice.

BEG YOUR PARDON.

In the issue of Thursday morning THE TRIBUNE printed in the Voice of the People column what purported to be a letter from a reader, headed "From an American Jew." The letter, which urged all-out intervention, even "at the expense of thousands of lives," was signed and the supposed writer's address was also given. It has not been the custom to check back on the authenticity of letters, so long as they were signed and with an address. The letter in question, signed Samuel C. Rosecrane, 222 West Adams street, proves on investigation to be a complete hoax, imposed on this newspaper. No such person is at the address given; no such person has been found in Chicago.

THE TRIBUNE greatly regrets that this fake letter found its way into our columns.

We've known people sore because their picture was in the paper, and people sore because it wasn't—but the other day we met a little girl who was tickled because she thought some one else's picture in the paper was hers.—Des Moines Register.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

"THE BEAUTIFUL PLACE."

We're off for a week-end at old Nauvoo, where the Mormons came from. In this historic town on the Mississippi, about which the average Illinoisan knows little except by hearsay, they are celebrating the Grape Festival. The ceremonies include pageantry representing the marriage of the wine and the cheese. This rustic ritual comes from southern France, and Nauvoo is the only place in the United States where it may be seen.

* * *

Relics of the Mormon town, from which Brigham Young led the migration to Utah, are abundant. A number of the homes of the Mormon church leaders are still standing and in use as dwellings. Mighty fine houses they seem, too, from the pictures of them. . . . The Icarians, a communal sect which came there after the Mormon evacuation, have also left interesting traces. Their leader was a Frenchman, Etienne Cabet.

* * *

Nauvoo an Indian name? Not at all; Joseph C. Smith invented it, or found it in a revelation, and said that it meant "Beautiful Place."

* * *

The Mormon temple at Nauvoo, almost completed when Smith was killed by an anti-Mormon mob, was destroyed by arson on Oct. 10, 1848. The Icarians tried to rebuild it, but failed; some of its material was used in a schoolhouse which still stands. This temple was an impressive edifice of white limestone, 80 feet high to its bell tower, which ran up another 100 feet. Its 30 pilasters bore capitals representing a sun god's face, somewhat grotesque. Architects who deplore the lack of indigenous American ornament may see one of the originals in the yard of the Historical House at Quincy, Ill.

I'm hungry! Not for chops or steak,
Or even bread;
Yet hunger follows in my wake;

I'm starving! Not for vitamins

I'm famished, since my being craves
And meekly sues
For something o'er the Ether Waves,
Besides war news.

I'M GOING HOME.

I'm going home.
I'm tired of the trafficking street,
The grinding of cars,
And the multitudes going—nowhere.
At every mad corner I meet
The same thronging slaves of the mart,
Spent with unceasing care,
Running away from despair.

I'm going home.
Perhaps I am old—I wonder;
Age does come fast
When there's never a moment to play.
Just now I'd get out from under
All burdens that bury the heart.
In a word, I'm longing to stray
On some country road—away!

I'm going home.
There's a pink and white garden there,
And no stone walls;
And friends still are friends—for aye;
And the sun-bright air
Will heal with a magic art.
I'm going away, away,
For a golden year, and a day!

Do You Know Any One Named Hallie?

"Listen to the Mocking Bird" laments the passing of a girl named Hallie. Now, what kind of a name is Hallie, anyway? It is not given in any of the books on Christian names. Familiar for Alice, maybe? Its best-known bearer was the Virginia-born novelist, Hallie Erminie Rives.

STAND BY YOUR FEET.

AFTER vacation—what? Work! Yes, but perhaps aching feet. We may have walked, danced, or capered about quite too strenuously.

By and large, our pedal extremities are mistreated all too frequently. They carry our full weight and they are obliged to sustain a considerable shock with every step. We may confine them within shoes that are too snug and we may stand on hard surfaces for prolonged periods.

A most common complaint—flatfoot—is annoying only when some other factor is present. An arch that happens to be depressed may be perfectly comfortable, but when subjected to an unusual strain it will lose its elasticity—its "spring." It is this property which propels the body forward in walking. When muscles weaken thru overuse, the ligaments will receive more punishment. Then it is that they may stretch, with pain the net result.

Now, the pulleys [muscles] may become fatigued by abuse. Many of our young men, unaccustomed to long marches, will encounter trouble upon entering military life. With the parts "soft" and relaxed, the burden of the entire frame is thrown directly upon the center of the ball [the widest part]. Under normal conditions, it is borne evenly from the great toe outward. When this is followed by contraction of the ligaments, every step will hurt. By the end of the day, swelling will be observed.

In such a situation, relief can be obtained by proper supports. If the victim will make it a practice to take a hot foot bath and massage the painful "dogs" each night, they will regain much of their former tone. The rubbing interval should occupy 20 to 30 minutes. For the time being, however, a well adjusted pad will save the day.

Just back of the toes lie the metatarsal bones, and this locality is always the site of a fair degree of distress. There may be some tenderness about the "heads" [forward portions] of these structures, particularly when the toes are bent downward [flexed]. Here again, baths and massage will restore circulation and reduce inflammation. But rest is of even more importance.

Whenever a faulty gait, or an improper posture on standing throws too much ballast on the outer part of the foot, the "takeoff," or any forward movement, falls heaviest on the great toe. In such circumstances, it may bend outward—in fact, all of its fellows may follow suit. The outcome is a bunion. Once the deflection has begun it usually continues until, in self-defense, the tissues develop a bursa, or protective covering pad. Later, an overgrowth of bone may appear. If nothing is done, a crippling condition may develop and, occasionally, surgery may be demanded.

Now and then, among those who do a large amount of walking [policemen, mail carriers, nurses, etc.], swelling may be felt on the upper surface of the foot. Marked tenderness develops which is usually localized about one inch behind the head of one of the metatarsals. At first the X-ray may show no bony change, but within two or three weeks a line of fracture may be identified. This is really a separation due to constant use. While the pain is severe, healing will occur if rest can be provided. A few weeks with adequate strapping is all that is necessary.

But, for most of us, our difficulties will be confined to what we correctly term "foot strain"—in which manipulation [massage] by the patient himself will result in a cure. What we endeavor to accomplish is the reëstablishment of muscle control so that our extremities may be forgotten.

VARIOUS FACTORS.

W. G. L. writes: What causes a red and white checkerboard pattern on the palms of the hands?

REPLY.

A mottled appearance may indicate poor circulation or some interference with the return flow of blood to the heart. Occasionally, heat or cold will be causative. The condition is observed frequently after exposure to cold, as the parts are warmed. Ringworm, or other infection may present the same symptom in the early stages.

CYST ON SCALP.

S. E. G. writes: Is a cyst on the back of the head serious?

REPLY.

No, but if it becomes noticeable or the subject of irritation, it should be removed. If surgery is undertaken the lining must be destroyed, otherwise it may re-form.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Regarding this matter of movie war propaganda I'm wondering if it wouldn't be a good idea to page Mr. Will Hays, for, after all, he is supposed to be the czar or the guiding star of the moving picture industry. He has the power of censorship.

If, according to a letter from a certain small chain theater owner to Senator Nye, this one-sided war stuff is injurious to his business, Mr. Hays should emerge from his cloistered sanctum and give a demonstration of just where he stands on this momentous question at this critical hour when our beloved "land of the free" is at the cross roads of life and death.

Mr. Hays is a lawyer and, in my opinion, a patriot to our fundamental American principles. So, this is your opportunity, Mr. Hays. I, who represent 80 per cent of the people, am betting on you to "hit the goal line."

PLAYGROUNDS IN 34TH WARD.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Recently you published a letter regarding recreation facilities in the 34th ward.

Records of the Chicago recreation commission show that there is a public school supervised playground in the 34th ward; namely, Mozart school, and Goethe school within a block of the ward. There are two church recreation facilities, and Palmer Square park and Holstein park within a mile of Armitage and California avenues.

Local civic groups have developed and are maintaining six vacant lot playgrounds within a mile of this vicinity. They are located at:

2030 N. Campbell avenue.
S. w. corner of Campbell and Homer.
2220 N. Damen avenue.
2600 Elston avenue.
Corner of Le Moyne and Claremont.
N. e. corner of Campbell and Home.

FOR THE "MOTHER COUNTRY."

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Despite the fine work being done by THE TRIBUNE in exposing eastern anglophiles who can hardly restrain themselves from jumping right into the middle of Europe's latest war and fighting the Nazi army with somebody else's sons, many middle westerners fail to appreciate some of the more odd quirks of eastern patriotism.

Witness this letter printed in the Philadelphia Record of Aug. 21 of this year:

"To the Editor: As one who was born in England I extend my congratulations to Congressmen Sacks, Myers, and McGranery for their courteous stand for the empire.

"Their vote for the draft extension is a guarantee that the American people are determined to die for the mother country when necessary." M. C. C.

LONELY GIRL WANTS LETTERS.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Wonder if any of your young readers would care to write to a lonely girl in a sanitarium?

Their correspondence certainly would be appreciated.

AN AGGRESSOR WINS OUT.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—A diminutive Hitler was present at the Grant park concert last Saturday night.

I arrived early and behind me sat an elderly lady who had placed a full bag and coat on a seat next to her. By 7:30 all of the seats in this section seemed to be filled. Many who passed stopped to ask if the seat was available, but upon her answer that it was taken went on their way.

Another elderly woman, determined in manner, without an inquiry, pushed her way thru to the seat, forced off the coat and bag, and assumed possession.

The other protested that she was holding the seat for her daughter, who was working late but due to arrive momentarily. The second lady against protestations refused to budge despite comments of "unfair" by those near by. Her contention was that seats cannot be saved.

Just how can you handle this kind of "muscler"? I ask it, for I have witnessed many similar clashes at public free gatherings. The point remains that the forceful person won her way.

OVEREMPHASIS ON MILK.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—More cheers for such people as Jay Gee. If more people were like her we could soon push the prices of milk and food down to the level where they would be available to the great bulk of us people who live on salaries which our husbands sweat to earn and which are now inadequate to cover our food budget.

I heartily agree with her and the overemphasis which has lately been put on the value of milk. I think it has its value as a drink along with other foods in our diet, and that some people like it better than tea or coffee; but why we should cram our children full of it in order to raise the price of milk, I can't understand.

Let's all give a vote to let them send all the milk to Britain—but let them foot the bills.

The food prices have got me down.

GET THE POOR HOUSES READY.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—It seems to me congress should appropriate $1,000,000,000 or more to build poor houses. That will furnish employment and also will provide us with places to live after we have been taxed out of all we have.

CHESTER E. CLEVELAND.

PREFERS NYE'S RECORD.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Isn't it fortunate for Senator Nye, he of the many years of fine public service, that the ridiculous charge of attempting to start racial prejudice was made by one who misled the public when he ran for office?

Who would believe Mr. Willkie's word after his statement of "just compaign oratory," referring to his solemn pledge to the loyal mothers of our land.

We'll take Mr. Nye's record, thank you.

LAND SALE.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—What should I do in selling a vacant lot which I own outright and which is recorded in my name, purchased by me in 1927? I have been living apart from my husband 18 months.

1. Is his signature necessary to give the buyer a clear title?
2. Would the deal have to go thru the title company?
3. What fee would they charge? I paid $1,395 cash for the property.
4. What would be a fair price to ask now?
5. Would it be necessary to have a lawyer to close the deal?
6. Would I have to pay all fees?
7. Should I sell this lot? J. L.

1. Yes. Unless you obtained a divorce.
2. It is not clear what you mean by this question. If the title is evidenced by a guaranty policy, then the title company would have to be satisfied before issuing a new policy. If there is no guaranty policy then there is no need for the title company to have anything to do with it.
3. If a guaranty policy is involved, the title company charges will depend on the number of instruments; whether there is insurance and on other facts that are not before us.
4. A real estate broker would be in a better position than we are to suggest a fair price but you should recognize that he would have some motive for suggesting a low price if his chances of making a commission would be improved by a low price.
5. Depends on what difficulties are encountered and on your ability in such matters.
6. No.
7. We are not in a position to decide this for you. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SPEAKING OF HOME DEFENSE

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 23.

1. The question, "Will the gentleman yield?" should remind one of Dueling Wrestling Court trial Congress.
2. You would be most likely to see a Flemish Giant at a Rabbit show Circus Art museum Carnival.
3. The weight of a mature quail would probably be
   3 oz. 8 oz. 16 oz. 32 oz.
4. The number 17 should make one think of a
   Cricket Mosquito Locust Katydid.
5. Which type of cattle is usually associated with a mesa?
   Holstein Jersey Short horn Guernsey.
6. A certain householder decided that the bathroom window was too small, so he called a carpenter to enlarge it. The window pane was exactly 2 feet across and also 2 feet in the vertical dimension. When the carpenter had completed his job the householder again measured the window, but found that the pane was still 2 feet across and 2 feet in the vertical dimension. But now the window admitted twice as much light as formerly. Show by a drawing how the carpenter had doubled the area of window glass without changing the width or height of the original window pane.

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6 average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

Engagements Are Announced in East of Two Chicagoans

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE engagements of two young Chicagoans to girls who reside in Massachusetts are being announced today. In Boston Mr. and Mrs. Walter Alvin Carl of Hilltop road, Chestnut Hill, are making known that their daughter, Sue Kingsley, is to be married to Charles Daniel Frey Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frey of State parkway, and in South Lancaster Mr. and Mrs. Henry Forbes Bigelow are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to James Huntington Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Mills of Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frey Sr. and their daughters, Mrs. Gail Borden and Miss Barbara Frey, are in Boston for the announcment tea this afternoon. It is being given at the Carl home and will be followed tonight by a dinner-dance at the Sheraton roof in Boston. Miss Carl studied at Les Fougeres in Lausanne, Switzerland, and was graduated from the Beaver Country Day school in Brookline. She made her debut in the 1936-'37 season and is a member of the Boston Junior league. Mr. Frey was graduated from Yale in 1939 and from the Harvard school of business administration last June. The wedding is planned for next June.

Mills-Bigelow Troth Also Being Told at Tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow also are giving a tea at home to announce their daughter's engagement. Mr. and Mrs. Mills are there for the party and so are the former Marjorie Mills and her husband, Lambert Arundel Hopkins Jr., who traveled from their home in Palo Alto, Cal., to be there today. Edwin S. Mills Jr. is there also. He and his brother are both stationed at Fort Devens, Mass., James as staff intelligence sergeant of the 101st Cavalry regiment's second squadron, and "Ted" as a member of the signal corps.

Relatives and close friends of the former Jane Wilson and her husband, Cheves T. Walling, received wires yesterday telling them of the birth of the Wallings' first child, a daughter. The baby was born yesterday morning in Wilmington, Del., where Mr. and Mrs. Walling are residing.

Lieut. William D. Fergus is flying up from Fort Sill, Okla., this weekend to meet his new son, born on Thursday night at St. Luke's hospital. The baby, the first child of Lieut. Fergus and the former Marie-Blanche McCormick, has been named for his father. Mr. and Mrs. Leander McCormick will see their grandson as soon as they've returned from Texas. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Carleton Fergus of Dayton, O.

Today's debut whirl starts at an earlier hour than usual with the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Holman D. Pettibone are giving to introduce their daughter, Barbara. At 1 o'clock more than 100 young people, including the debutantes and their beaux, will gather at the Indian Hill club for the party. The third debutante in the Pettibone family, Miss Barbara, departs Sept. 23 for her second year at Pine Manor. Her sisters, Miss Georgia and Miss Jean [now Mrs. Herbert K. Butz], were presented at New Year's day teas.

Miss Cynthia Harris Making Bow This Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gale Harris have set the hours of 5 to 8 o'clock for the party they are giving this afternoon for their debutante, Miss Cynthia, relieving the strain somewhat on guests who must rush from earlier teas and on to dinner parties. The tea will be in the Harris home in Fisher lane, Winnetka.

Assisting Mrs. Harris and her daughter will be the debutante's aunts, Mrs. Edward Pringle, Mrs. Norman Dwight Harris, and Mrs. M. Haddon MacLean; her sister, Mrs. Willard Alcock; Mrs. Norman W. Harris, Mrs. Edward J. Sparling, Mrs. Christopher Janus, Mrs. Edward B. Hall, Miss Jean Rosenthal, and Subdebutantes Joyce Pringle, Harriet Harvey, and Deborah Smith. Mrs. Pringle is here from San Francisco, Cal., to enter her daughter at Ferry Hall. Another visitor is Miss Edith Surrey of Hartford, Conn., who was at Wellesley last year with Miss Harris. A group of debutantes will pour.

After the tea Mr. and Mrs. George D. Smith and their daughter, Mary Frances, will give a dinner party for Miss Harris' assistants and their escorts.

Miss Lois Mason Being Presented at Tea Today.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic O. Mason of Winnetka will present their only daughter, Miss Lois, at a tea-dance this afternoon in the Winnetka Woman's club. The tea, which is being kept as simple as possible, will be from 4 to 7 o'clock. Both the debutante crowd and family friends have been invited.

Miss Mason's assistants will be her cousin, Miss Lois Pittman, and all of her North Shore Country Day school classmates who are buds.

Next week the debutante will return to Bryn Mawr for her sophomore year, while her twin brother, Roswell B. Mason III., goes back to Yale.

Debutante Ann Carpenter will be the especial guest at a luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Welles and Mr. and Mrs. Jay N. Whipple are giving tomorrow at the Onwentsia club.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. P. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Owen West, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Sterling Davis will give a buffet supper tomorrow night at the Onwentsia club for Miss Anne Boswell, who is a debutante.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Little and their daughter, Miss Olivia Little, are entertaining at a buffet supper tomorrow night for Miss Laura Winston, a debutante of the season.

Unique Party Planned for Miss Lana Jelke.

Something unique in the way of decorations has been planned for the dinner-dance Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jelke will give this evening at the Onwentsia club for their daughter, Miss Lana. Miss Jelke's debut on July 9 in her parents' home followed the lines of a conventional debut tea, but it's safe to guess that tonight's dance will long be remembered for its ingenuity and color. The Jelkes are having the club decorated after a surprise theme that should be a vivid setting for the olive-skinned debutante, as well as an invitation for the guests to try their best congas and rhumbas.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Jelke and their daughter will be the debutante's two house guests, Miss Peggy Lansdowne of Washington, D. C., and Miss Betsy Wilds of New York. Dinner will be served to the young guests shortly after 8 o'clock, and the Jelkes have asked some of their own friends and a few young marrieds to drop in for dancing at 11 o'clock. Miss Jelke, who was graduated this year from the Greenwood school, will be at home this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Joyce are giving a splash party at the pool of the Lake Shore club tonight for Miss Josephine Cummings and Edward Fitzgerald, who are to be married next Saturday.

After Their Marriage Ceremony

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. Renslow D. Sherer after their marriage last night. She was Miss Patricia Austin.

Patricia Austin Becomes Bride of R. D. Sherer

At 8:30 o'clock last night in the Glencoe Union church Miss Patricia Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Austin of Glencoe, became the bride of Renslow D. Sherer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Renslow P. Sherer of Highland Park. The Rev. Herbert Cornell read the service, and a reception followed at the Skokie Country club.

The bride wore the lovely gown in which her sister, Barbara, was married recently to Robert Lake Foote, and carried gardenias and stephanotis. The gown is made of white satin with mother-of-pearl trimming at the neckline and on the long pointed sleeves, and the tulle veil fell from a cap of heirloom lace.

Mrs. Foote and the eight bridesmaids were dressed alike in Victoria rose taffeta with bands of royal purple velvet ribbon in the skirts and little hats made of bows of the crushed velvet, with net veils to match the dresses. The maid of honor wore violet taffeta trimmed with the purple velvet, and all carried bouquets of dahlias in these shades. The little flower girl, Janet Drake, was in lavender taffeta.

Mr. Sherer and his bride will be at home in Evanston after a trip to Sun Valley.

NOSTALGIA.

Says the conversational Miss Jones,
Wondering at my silence.
But I have no way
In which to communicate my thoughts.
For how can one speak sensibly
Of shining rice fields
Glazed with the red of dawn,
Of warm rain dripping
From the red eaves of our house,
Of the old black crow
Caw-cawing in the cinnamon-tree,
And the fighting cocks in the village,
And the little table in the garden,
With the bubbling amber tea
And candied melon-rinds . . .

How does one speak
Of the moon sleeping
In a spray of lace over Jade Mountain,
And Jade-Flower sitting beside me,
Robed in silk
Violet as the skin of an egg plant,
A red lotus in her hair,
Speaking,
Measured and perfect

Incident in a Book Store.

A saleswoman in a book store was standing beside a pile of Harnett Kane's Louisiana Hayride when an attractive brunette woman walked up to her.

"Please wrap up a copy," she requested. While the saleswoman was away the customer picked up a copy of the book from the pile and turned to the chapter on Huey Long's death, in which Dr. Carl Austin Weiss of Baton Rouge was involved. The returning saleslady, noticing the customer's absorption, asked "Do you think Dr. Weiss killed Long?" "No," said the customer, quietly, but with conviction? "I know he didn't." The saleslady, pencil poised, inquired "Charge or cash?" "Charge," said the customer, "Mrs. Carl Austin Weiss."

Pronunciation.

A nonsense paragraph of 100 words that will tax the diction of even your most knowing friends is offered in the current issue of Correct English magazine. The paragraph, written by J. P. Callahan:

"The culinary data furnished gratis by the alumnae for the exigency of the gala gondola excursion took precedence over the first recipes of his alma mater, in vogue for a decade. His complaisance led him into a blatant discourse with other alumni, in which he committed several errata, including the vagary that salt was indissoluble in tepid water. His associate, under a cognomen, did irreparable damage in the finale by issuing an ultimatum to harass his foes, who had enough acumen not to be led into an inextricable precedent."

Wine-Cheese Nuptials Held in Old Nauvoo

BY JUANITA DALY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nauvoo, Ill., Sept. 12.—Citizens of this quaint Mississippi river town, whose early history was made a century ago by the Mormons and a colony of French communists, today welcomed the first visitors to its fourth annual grape festival.

More than 25,000 persons are expected to visit here tomorrow and Sunday to see the historic markers, the acres of vineyards heavy with ripe Concord, Ives, and Catawba grapes, the wine presses and the product of Nauvoo's youngest industry—blue cheese.

Official greeters are Mayor Lowell S. Horton and Miss Lorraine Hanson, queen of the festival, who was appropriately crowned at the featured event on today's program. Her attendants are Geraldine Dierker, Gloria Hudson, Anna Herbert, and Genevieve Bollin.

Miss Hanson and her court presided at the "wedding of the wine and cheese," a colorful pageant which originated in southern France. The ceremony, presented annually by the grade school children, will be repeated tomorrow, and Sunday night.

Only 1,100 persons now live on the site of a city which attracted 25,000 settlers almost overnight, topping Alton and even Chicago, and then passed away as suddenly as it rose. A handful of descendants recall the ambitions and the tragedies of the holy city of the Latter Days Saints, better known as the Mormons.

Soon after Joseph Smith received what he called the revelation of his mission, he founded the Mormon church in April, 1830, in the east. When the Mormons were driven out of Missouri, Nauvoo [then Commerce], was adopted as a "stake" of the church in 1839.

Illinoisans received the settlers graciously and the legislature granted them a charter with an extraordinary clause which virtually made the city independent of the state government. Smith was commissioned lieutenant general of the Nauvoo legion, a standing army of 5,000, by the governor. This rank had not been bestowed on any one except George Washington up to that time.

The church prospered and soon began to take part in state politics. This political activity fostered hostility against the Mormons which by 1843 had become a serious issue.

On June 24, 1844, Smith and his brother, Hyrum, submitted to arrest in Carthage on the charge of rioting. Tho supposedly under the protection of state troopers, the brothers were slain three days later by a mob that stormed the jail. Before a mass army of anti-Mormon neighbors, the Nauvoo legion surrendered.

Out of the confusion and struggle for power that followed, Brigham Young arose to lead his people to the desert of Utah, where they built the Mormon metropolis, Salt Lake City, Utah. The great Nauvoo temple, begun in 1841 and said to be the finest building in the west at the time, was destroyed by an incendiary in 1848.

Nauvoo again became conspicuous in Illinois history in 1849 when Etienne Cabet brought a group of French communists here. They established an Icarian colony with headquarters in the remodeled Mormon temple. Tho its industries and businesses showed a $9,000 net profit in 1852, factions opposing Cabet's authority brought an end to the experiment shortly before Cabet's death in 1856.

But the communists left a heritage—their grape vines. Formerly the natives grew the grapes in small quantities in their yards and adjoining vacant lots for their own use. Undoubtedly the greater proportion of the crop became wine. But today special licenses and state legislation have killed all but one bonded wine industry, tho citizens still make limited quantities for their own use.

The industry of blue cheese, a roquefort type which is aged in old wine cellars, was begun here six years ago. Tho the French used sheep's milk, Nauvoo cheese makers combine cow's milk and a pure, harmless mold for their product, which has national distribution. It is made in only a few other places in this country. The old wine cellars, 90 feet long and 18 feet wide, with arched 14 foot ceilings, have a natural humidity and even temperature which proved ideal for the cheese.

The gay benefit will be held from 11 to 6 o'clock on Mrs. James E. Baggot Jr.'s estate in Melody road, Lake Forest. Miss Wood is staying with her cousin, Mrs. Lorenz H. Westenberger.

Clever Actors Give Tone to 'Highway West'

"HIGHWAY WEST."

Produced by Warner Brothers.
Directed by William McGann.
Presented at the State-Lake theater.

THE CAST.

Claire Foster	Brenda Marshall
Foster	Arthur Kennedy
Myra	Olympe Bradna
Dave	William Lundigan
Gramp	Slim Summerville
Wellington	Willie Best

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

Another bank robber-killer bites the dust and once again crime proves a nonpayer in "Highway West."

This piece is principally worth mention because of splendid cast performance. Arthur Kennedy as the wanted criminal is fast, smooth, and entirely convincing. Could be very pleasing in a sympathetic rôle. . . . Brenda Marshall, playing his innocent bride who has a sad time after she discovers why her bridegroom has made the honeymoon a perpetual moving day, is charming and believable as she always is. . . . William Lundigan as the man destined to make her happy later is likable and Willie Best —you know the Negro who looks and acts like Stepin Fetchit?—garners some hearty laughs. . . . Other players are all apt. . . .

The story is backgrounded by California country not so far from San Francisco and much of the action occurs in and around a mountain hotel that caters to fishermen. . . . It is here the bride, with her young sister [Olympe Bradna—not looking a bit like Olympe it seemed to me] carves out a new life for herself the while her husband does time and after—well—after what the picture shall reveal.

See you soon.

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 12.—Before you make a tour of a studio you look at the schedule sheet so you'll know where you're going and what you will see. A schedule sheet is a mimeographed form prepared by the production department and sent to practically everybody, which tersely tells of the day's activities so that anybody can know where anybody else is. It is typewritten and capsuled in narrow columns under such headings as picture, director, where working, sequence, and players working. It compresses into the cold form of an interoffice communication all of the zing, oomph, and "Ooops! Sorry" of this fabulous movie business.

Let's take a sample schedule and follow it thru—the MGM sheet for yesterday. First item:

"Babes on Broadway." Director, Berkeley. Lot 2. Players, Rooney, Garland, Weidler, Quine, McDonald. Sounds swell, doesn't it? Mickey and Judy working in an outdoor scene for a musical show. So we take a studio car and tool out to the back lot—and draw a blank. It's early and Busby Berkeley and his puppets haven't arrived yet.

"Panama Hattie." Director, McLeod. Lot 2. Players, Sothern, Mowbray, Dailey, Horner. "Hattie" is also working outdoors and you come upon what must be a Panamanian plaza. The sun is bearing down now and makes the scene feel real. Beneath a huge umbrella are the camera, cameramen, and Norman McLeod. Normie has a healthy sunburn. "Been out here several days," we observe. "No," says McLeod, "several nights. This is our first day stuff."

"Then how did you get the sunburn?"

"Huh?"

"I got my sunburn from working nights. . . . No, not the lamps. I couldn't adapt myself to the change in schedule. Couldn't sleep in my bedroom in daylight. So I just took sun baths by our swimming pool and got my rest that way. . . . But I think I'll sleep all day Sunday." Ann Sothern, who isn't in the next scene, is resting in a camp chair on the pavement, in the small shade of a black screen on a stand—the gadget cameramen use for shading lights on sets.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

With woolen fabrics coming back into the dress picture deodorants and anti-perspirants assume a new importance. While the weather may not be warm, the fabric is, and it's vitally necessary to prevent its acquisition of the odor of perspiration. Once it's in the cloth it's hard to get out.

But, as always, we approach the subject with some trepidation. We have decided that women are just plain hostile to the idea of examining directions that come with such preparations. And that's a bad situation. Deodorants, anti-perspirants, skin stimulants, and depilatories are four beauty aids that must be used according to the directions outlined by the manufacturer. You can't assume that because you've used one product one way you can use another the same way. Manufacturers test their products ever so carefully and try to know all their tricks. Directions for use are often your protection against skin irritation.

And women should try to find out just what their skins will stand and what will make them rebell. Some skins are far more sensitive than others. You can't condemn the product because it irritates your skin anymore than you can condemn all strawberries because some people can't eat them. ELEANOR NANGLE.

By Alice Ormond Campbell

[Copyright: 1941: By Alice Ormond Campbell]

SYNOPSIS.

Gay Ripley, young American girl, sent by her boss to Paris to buy antiques, runs into Mrs. Rentrew, her rich and snobbish Cousin Lou, who insists Gay go home with her. Almost at once Mrs. Rentrew is taken to a hospital, ill, and Gay is left in the apartment with her cousin's brother-in-law, Horace Rentrew, and her servants, Hortense and Manx. Gay goes to the hospital to visit her cousin and runs into Miles Dorsey, a young Englishman, who is a junior partner in a firm that looks after her cousin's affairs, and Raoul de Chabenil, a charming gigolo. With misgivings Gay agrees to take Lou's jewel box home and put it in the wall safe. Raoul insists on driving Gay home, a long way around. The box isn't out of her hands during the drive except for a moment when Raoul's car has a near accident which knocks it to the floor.

INSTALMENT VI.

BLIND DATE.

The last maid had injured a front leg of the table, but Horace had had the precious table down at his workshop and here it was back again in all its glory—best Louis Quinze period, lacquer designed by the greatest artist of his day.

A signed piece, practically unobtainable now, as I'd reason to know. Mrs. Hamilton Dodge, one of our star customers, had been offering $10,000 for a Riesener piece, and for two years past all the best dealers had been scouring Europe in a perfectly futile search. I sighed as I ran my hand over the satin smooth surface.

"Too bad," Horace agreed. "But there it is, Marise won't part, so your old Bessie Dodge must just go on hunting. Tell her to hire a cat burglar to bust into the Wallace collection and lift the cabinet that's there. It'll be cheaper in the end. What about a little drink?"

He'd been grumbling before, annoyed, of course, over having his trip out to Passy for nothing; but he didn't mention it just yet, and when we met in the drawing room the shaker he'd evidently been sampling had brightened him up.

"She's better, that's one thing." He tipped golden liquid into a glass and handed it to me. "Enough gin? M-m-m, I think yes. O, she must be better! How did she strike you?"

His face fell again when I repeated what the nurse had told me. He pursed his lips and nodded several times.

"I know. I've suspected it, haven't you? I mean, these bursts of energy, the touchiness and so on."

"You thought it was blood pressure? I must say it never occurred to me."

"Well, I'm only going by my Uncle Mason. He put on weight, of course, but that doesn't follow. Marise eats like a bird to keep hers down."

We continued the talk in the dining room over the lapis lazuli table with its scattering of Charles the Second silver birds and the Parma violets Horace had so beautifully arranged. Conversatian was suspended while Horace gave attention to the caviar, but while the glazed poussins were being served he let his grievances gush forth.

"They're letting her see too many visitors. Naturally, in a slack-twisted dump like the Helen Schuyler home! Can't think why she went there. I wish I'd told her some of the gossip about that new place."

I thought he was going to tell it to me, but no, not a chance. Horace was very strict about the proprieties. Those flabby lips of his, I imagined, were seldom sullied by questionable topics. Suddenly he withdrew his eye from Manx's back and pinned it on me.

"Was any one with her when you went in?" he demanded.

"O!"

His poussin was before him. From the way he licked his lips I knew it hadn't been he who had been peeping over the balcony when Raoul de Chabenil set me down at the door. Still he nagged on at the visitor question, edging round it, backing away. Marise was so darned impulsive these days. Seemed to have parted with all discrimination. In fact, not herself at all. Secretive, too. Why hadn't she taken Manx down to the villa at St. Christophe? First time she'd ever left him behind. And sending Hortense back, making shift with local servants. This appeared to rankle with him, altho, as he said, he'd had the benefit of Hortense's cooking.

He drank some champagne and it loosened his tongue.

"Look," he hissed the moment Manx was out of the room. "Before she was taken sick did she—did she ever speak of a fellow named de Chabenil?"

"No," I said truthfully and kept a straight face.

He considered. Moodily he shook his head.

"She wouldn't," he muttered, and that ended it. Manx was in again, the gleam in his eye sockets convincing me he'd had his ear glued to the door.

No, I mistrusted the atmosphere of too personal interest that hung about this very competent butler. Not that it was anything to me, and I didn't believe Manx would open up on Horace on the subject of the Frenchman driving me home. I'd noticed Manx showed an unfriendly reserve where his mistress's brother-in-law was concerned, and to picture him shrieking with joy like fat Hortense over Horace's little jokes and rounding on him like a snapping turtle the next minute was impossible to imagine.

"What, no coffee?"

"No, I'm having it with people in a café."

"O, I see!"

He had lumbered up out of politeness, and as he stood toying with his cigar I thought he was going to tackle me over the Famille Rose vases I'd been looking at in his shop that morning, just in case my buying capacities went on; but no, he settled down again, drugged as usual after one of Hortense's good menus, and I left him rolling his old brandy round in its huge bowl and quietly undoing his bottom vest button. He'd go on browsing till about 10, I supposed, then saunter forth to some café to drink more coffee and another fine and so continue till inner pangs sent him hunting among the many little bottles in the bathroom he and I had shared.

The Boulevard St. Germain hadn't altered and neither had the Aurore. The little tables on the pavement were jammed full, the ones in the café packed right up to the doors.

The Macadams weren't ouside, nor could I spot them when I wormed my way in and stood eyeing a mêlée of what seemed nearly all foreign refugees—German, Czech, Slav, and more Spanish than last year.

I didn't mind, they'd turn up. I was at home over on this left bank of the Seine, and if I could find a corner at one of the marble topped tables I'd be quite happy just looking on. Piscasso was here again, with his beautiful wife and a trio of men friends, a felt hat drawn low over his thin, hickorynut face. There was a poet I recognized but didn't want to notice, he being half seas over and probably amorous. I dodged a waiter and moved right.

Was it? Yes, certainly. By the far wall, very proud and aloof, sat the Hungarian lingerie maker — Madame Estrella.

"Gay!" called a voice I loved. "Look, here we are!"

Sure enough, wigwagging to me from the red plush seat at the back, was Catherine Macadam. Her English husband was maneuvering a gangway, and soon I was happily tucked between the only real friends I had in Paris. They were the ones I'd been dining with. Their cook had come down with the measles, and Catherine, who had motored her children out to Fontainebleau for safety, had only just returned.

"Poor Gay, do you awfully hate our dragging you to this place? It seemed the only chance of having you meet Geoff's young partner. I thought he'd be here by now. That's a very posh hat, darling. Geoff, is she out for a kill?"

Men with wives like Catherine don't waste many glances on me. Geoff smiled, tho, most obligingly, and looked at his watch. Catherine frowned, wondering aloud what could have happened to Miles.

"Does he seem to be in this new batch that's fighting its way in the door?"

I looked, and a damped feeling came over me. "The only Englishman I see," I said, "is one who's done his utmost to put me right in my place. Yes, that one, in the tweed suit."

Catherine stared and gave a little joyous whoop. "No! Why, that is Miles! Miles Dorsey. Don't say you've met him before?"

"Where did you two——"

Opera Singer Gives a Tip on Nose Makeup

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Does the saying, 'plain as the nose on your face,' apply to you?" asks Elisabeth Rethberg, lovely blonde soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company. "If it does, the clever application of makeup can go a long way in giving your nose considerable more beauty than nature originally intended."

"If your nose is too broad, apply dark powder base to the sides and lighter base down the center, then powder over," advises the singer. "By toning down the sides of the nose, you give the illusion of thinness. If your nose, on the other hand, is too thin and sharp, lighten the sides to broaden it. If your nose is too long, darken the tip and the underside. Conversely, lighten the tip and the underside of the nose that is too short.

"For a nose that is definitely too large, avoid the severe pompadour coiffures that throw the outline of the face in bold relief and make the nose look even more prominent," says Mme. Rethberg. "Altho curls may be worn on the front of the head, they should be brought forward over the brow so that the tip of the nose is on an even plane with the curls. Be sure to wear the back of your hair fluffed softly around your ears in a long bob," further warns Mme. Rethberg.

Sept. 13, 1941.

Names and numbers—We find number 6 strongly represented in the name of Winston Churchill. His full name adds up to 6, but he rarely uses that name and so we see less of the 6 characteristics than we do in Roosevelt, who has those two o's out in front, and the F as the first letter of his first name. Churchill didn't like school and he went off to adventure at an early age, so we find the 6 representing home life and family and school pushed into the background. He dropped the Leonard which is a 6, and uses the Spencer, or the S, which in the first instance is an 8, and the initial is a 1. The 8 and the 1 are more in keeping with the characteristics of this man than the 6. Power as of the 8, and leadership as represented by the 1, fits into the picture better.

New Jerseyan and Miss Betty Kixmiller Wed

For her marriage last night to John St. Clair Russell Jr. of Maplewood, N. J., Miss Betty Kixmiller wore a tiara of rose pointe lace from her mother's wedding gown. The yoke of her ivory satin wedding dress was of the same lace, and she carried Easter lilies and stephanotis.

The ceremony took place at 8:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Episcopal church, the Rev. Benson Bellis officiating. Later the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Kixmiller of South Shore drive, gave a reception in the South Shore Country club. Miss Mary Irons, the maid of honor, and the three bridesmaids, Miss Margery Russell, Miss Marjorie Hamilton, and Miss Jean Delaney, held unusual bouquets of gold zinnias and bearded wheat against their moss green faille gowns.

Philip Leach of Attleboro, Mass., served as best man.

Fragile rose pointe lace lent to the bride by her great-aunt, Mrs. George T. Tuttle of Milton, Mass., trims the neckline and holds the veil which Miss Peggy Boyd is wearing this afternoon for her marriage to Ensign Theodore Donaldson. Mrs. Tuttle and Miss Emma Allbright are here from Milton for their great-niece's wedding in the Winnetka Congregational church.

The 4:30 o'clock ceremony, to be performed by the Rev. Samuel D. Harkness, will be followed by a reception in the Winnetka home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Kenneth Boyd. Also here are the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Donaldson of West Orange, N. J., and his two younger sisters, Jane and Nancy.

Miss Celestine Bonner and Clarence A. Lord will be married at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in St. Elizabeth's Episcopal church, Glencoe. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt C. Bonner will give the wedding reception in the Sunset Ridge Country club. Among the guests will be Mrs. Bonner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey P. Cole of Williamstown, Mass.; her sister, Mrs. David L. Saunders of Williamstown; and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Cole of New Orleans.

Angry Bees Delay Wrecking of Old Joy Morton Home

BY AL CHASE.

Several thousand irate bees routed a crew of the Speedway Wrecking company and nearly stopped the job of razing the big residence of the late Joy Morton, founder of the Morton arboretum, two miles south of Glen Ellyn. These descendants of squatters who seized homesites under the ridge pole when the house was built three decades ago, swarmed out in an angry mood when the first pick crashed thru into their nests.

Several workers were so badly stung they had to quit work. Every one on the job got at least a few stings. The only compensation was the discovery of a vast store of honey, which the men ate.

Smudges were tried without avail. Cyanide guns sprayed poison on the flying battlers without a great deal of effect. They finally were routed with a fire hose and a high pressure stream of water.

According to Sterling Morton, bees began their residence in the Morton home as soon as the house was built years ago. All efforts thru the years to dislodge them were futile, he said.

Wrecking the Morton house will be completed in about 10 days and work then will begin on an educational building to be built with arboretum funds as a memorial to Joy Morton.

Crocheted Apple 'Beanie'

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

A crocheted "beanie" done in bright apple red, with an apple green leaf, is an ideal fall cap for campus or sports. It is especially attractive with the pompadour hair style. Only a few minutes are required to crochet one of these caps, and any number may be made to match ensembles in the wardrobe.

For instructions in crocheting the apple "beanie," No. 991, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune 220 Fifth av., New York City.

Buttons Make Smart Autumn Garb Smarter

BY REA SEEGER.

You can spend a fortune just as easily as a modest sum for your buttons this fall, but they'll be conversation pieces no matter what the price! For buttons will make the smartest and most unusual costumes. Jeweled buttons are gorgeous, some with real jewels, some with great hunks of semiprecious stuff such as jade, amethyst, rose quartz, topaz, great zircons, aquamarines, amber, and similar sets. Some are set in tarnished gold, others in dusky silver, and they are magnificent accents for a three button trim on a fitted jacket.

Silver filigree buttons are especially effective on afternoon dresses and costumes. These come in petaled floral designs, in lacy stars, in ball molds, in sentimental little bowknots, and some new finds in the shape of a honey bee complete to large wings. Large oblong buttons, effective square cuts, and diamond shapes are extremely decorative in the filigree designs.

There isn't a color, tint or shade that can't be matched with buttons from the palest of honey beige to the new baroque pinks, olive greens, and copper tones. Plastics are surprisingly inexpensive even in the newest fall patterns. There are the stunning oak leaf models, the rimmed flats with carved fruit; there are grapes, harvest festival vegetables and burnished brown oak leaves. Both the copper tones and the deep foliage green shades are featured in this harvest stuff.

The patriotic buttons still flash and glitter. Some new finds in glistening silver feature the eagle without a confining rim; others have the tricolor bands, and still others have the gold eagle on a pearl base.

Glamor Girl of 1941 Makes Debut with Raleigh, N. C., Group

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 12 [Special].—Betty Cordon, who lived in Raleigh before she went to New York City and was crowned the nation's No. 1 Glamor Girl for 1941, returned for a debutante party tonight and became No. 15 in the line of debs. The occasion was the Terpsichorean club's annual ball in the Municipal auditorium—a 20 year old North Carolina custom of turning out debutantes on a mass production basis. Miss Cordon doesn't have a southern accent or a definition of glamor. "But, whatever glamor is," she says, "it's nice being called the No. 1 Glamor Girl."

"What can I serve in those attractive, individual sea shells?" is a frequently asked question.

Since the shells are quite shallow it isn't a good idea to use them for baking, but partly cooked foods which are popped into an oven or under a broiler for reheating and toasting may be served in these clever little containers. They're particularly good serving dishes for fish, of course, including all the creamed and sauced varieties. Try serving shrimp or crabmeat cocktail on them for a first course; or fried oysters or scallops for a main dish. It would be flattery to macaroni and cheese, spaghetti and rice dishes, creamed vegetables, or buttered greens to serve them on the little shells. Wouldn't these individual dishes help to sell your children on little liked or new foods? It's an idea worth trying.

Mrs. G. of Sheldon, Ia., wants to know what the comparative food values of prepared and cooked breakfast cereals are. As a matter of fact, there is more variation in food value within each group than there is between prepared and cooked cereals. Since cereals are such an important source of the vitamin B family, it's wise to consider their vitamin B1 content in buying them. Cooked whole grain cereals and the prepared cereals with vitamin B added both rank high.

Mrs. H. of Gary, Ind., is having gravy-making troubles. The flour just doesn't seem to thicken her gravies properly. But it's not the fault of the flour. Most of us don't bother with recipes when we're making gravy. We measure by eye. But when things go wrong it's time to measure more carefully. In making gravy it is best to skim off the excess fat and measure the remaining. Then add one tablespoon flour and one-half cup liquid for each tablespoon of fat. In a brown gravy the flour is stirred into the fat and browned before the liquid is added. Remember that flour loses about half its thickening power when browned.

In thickening stews skim off the excess fat and measure the broth, then add one tablespoon of flour, thoroly blended with an equal amount of cold water, for each cup of the broth. These measurements are for all-purpose flour. Pastry and cake flour have less thickening power and an extra one-third teaspoon should be added to each tablespoon of flour.

I just heard of an interesting experiment being performed by a Michigan peach grower canning tree ripened fruit. He has set up a spotless white canning kitchen and put a group of excellent women cooks to work in it, using the same methods you do at home. Of course, labor saving, large quantity equipment is being used. The fruit goes thru a steam bath to loosen the skins and is processed in a steam bath. Some of the fruit is being put up with honey and goes into glass jars for the use of diabetics. The whole thing is so new that no brand name has as yet been selected. Both the plant and orchard are open for inspection, and I'll give you the name and place if you're interested.

Use of Deodorants.

M. D. R.—The skin irritation was probably caused not by your deodorant, but by using a razor just before applying it. It's a good rule with all products of this type, to shave after rather than before, application.

Don't Bleach.

D. S.—Please don't bleach your little girl's hair! Keep it sparkling clean and attractively dressed, but let her make up her mind when she's mature whether she wants to pay the price in time and money of being blonde when she's really brunette!

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Most declarers hate to give up all their trumps, even when they have no urgent need for them. This fact alone accounts for the defeat of many "ice cold" contracts. The lead of the last trump was the only play that was required of declarer in the following hand, but he could not quite bring himself to it.

South, dealer.

South.	West.	North.	East.
4 clubs	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
5 clubs	Pass	6 clubs	Pass
Pass	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

North's last bid was completely unjustified. He had already shown a good hand, including a heart suit, by bidding four hearts, and had no right to contract for a slam. Undoubtedly, he misinterpreted South's original preëmptive bid. Yet, due to a perfect distribution of cards, South could have fulfilled the ambitious contract if he had been on his toes.

West opened the spade king. The ace won, and declarer ran off seven of his eight clubs. On the seventh round West, who was reduced to the spade queen, the king and two hearts, and the ace and queen of diamonds, had to discard. He dared not let go a heart, and chose to blank his diamond ace. The situation now was:

At this point declarer shortsightedly took a heart finesse. It held, but he could not return to his hand without giving up control and facing the loss of a spade and a diamond trick. As a desperate measure he tried to drop the heart king, by playing the ace. But his luck did not go that far, and he was down one.

Now, referring to the diagram, let us note the effect of leading the last trump. West still would have to hold his three hearts. He could not let go the diamond ace without establishing South's king, therefore, would have to discard the spade queen. Now declarer could take the heart finesse, and if it held could lead a diamond back to his king, safe against the loss of a spade trick, since West would not have a spade left in his hand.

Doris Blake's Letter Box

Have you a perplexing problem on which you need friendly counsel? Write to Doris Blake in care of the Chicago Tribune, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. If you wish a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Friend vs. Suitor.

"Dear Miss Blake: I've gone with him for several years, but now he is steadily slipping away. Every once in a while he gives me the impression he still cares. Should I give him another chance? He says the only way he will keep company with me again is for me to give up going with my friends. I don't want to do that because I would have no one else. What should I do?—MAL."

Unless he proposes marriage, don't let him "threaten" you, Mal. Go out with others. If he's at all serious in his feelings, competition should stimulate his interest.

Somnolent Suitor.

"Dear Miss Blake: Every time I go out with a certain fellow he falls asleep. He treats me nicely and seems to like me when he is awake, but he usually falls asleep on the way home. What can I do to prevent this? Do you think he loves me?—TIRED-OF-IT-ALL."

If his sleepiness is due to being overtired from work, there's excuse for him. Tell him, in any case, that you will not see him if he can't compliment you by staying awake. That ought to wake him up!

Jealousy Pangs Usually Bring Only Misery

BY DORIS BLAKE.

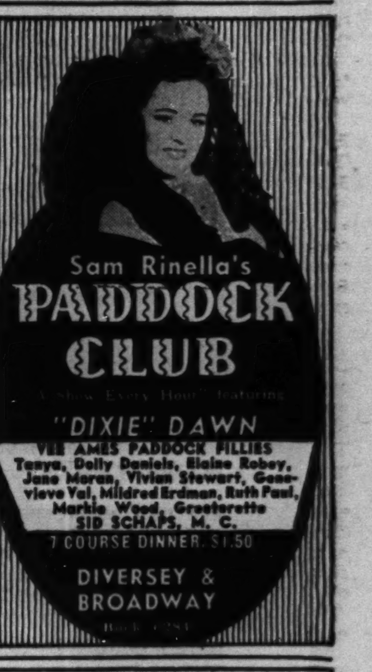

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you choose for your heart interest one who is ridden with the pangs of jealousy when some one else shows a too lively interest in you, you'll simply have to learn how to handle a victim of the green-eyed monster.

We doubt very much if a jealous person ever enjoys his or her jealousy tantrums, altho he can go to an enormous amount of pains to make it appear like a Roman holiday. We heard of a pretty drastic attempt at a cure, which wasn't successful, we may disclose. A hidden record later played to the enacter of a particularly jealous tirade resulted in alienating the chap forever. He swore it was a trick; that it couldn't be his voice, regardless of how much like his it sounded. Anyway, it was too much for his pride. He lost face and the girl lost him. There weren't regrets on her part, however, as she was so thoroly fed up on his tantrums she resorted to the record-making emergency.

But if jealous folks could only once listen to their tantrums they'd be struck with the strain of mental illness recorded. However, it is just one of the ills to which the lovesick are victims and perhaps milder ways of correction were better attempted, such as suggesting that jealousy denotes a feeling of inferiority you never suspected to be present. It does that, you know. One is never jealous of an inferior. One only stirs up the poison when one is confronted with an individual who is feared as a greater personality, a stronger rival, a better man or woman.

CARDS WHIP DODGERS, 4-3; ONE GAME BEHIND

PURDUE COACH IS UNIQUE; SAYS TEAM IS GOOD

Elward Has Reason for Optimism.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 12.—Mal Elward may be ousted from the coaches' union. If he isn't, then he's in line for a medal for bravery. For the genial Purdue coach is optimistic over the Boilermaker football squad and, with Irish candor, he says so.

"I never was much good at singing the blues," Mal said this afternoon while waiting for his squad to report. "I realize that our expectations may be premature and that, after all, coaches hesitate to stick out their necks when anything can and does happen in football. But, Purdue does have a fine looking bunch of boys who may surprise several opponents. I'd rather say as much now than tell you in December that I knew it all the time and wouldn't admit it."

The Title? That's Something Else.

We should point out for Elward, however, that he is not claiming any championship. He emphatically is proud of the squad and believes it will assay high in speed passing, running, and the fundamentals that make up a well rounded, effective attack. Purdue plays only four Western conference games, for the Boilermakers long have had difficulty getting a fifth league game. This means that Purdue can not lose a game and expect to share in the title, because others always have the percentage advantage in the standings.

Purdue's opponents are Ohio State [preceded by Vanderbilt at Purdue Sept. 27 and Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh Oct. 4], Iowa, Wisconsin, and Indiana. Fordham in New York Nov. 1 and Michigan State at Purdue Nov. 8 precede the Wisconsin game in Madison.

Three Stars Are Lost.

Loss of three letter men this fall could be the pitch for a blue note. Bryan [Junior] Brock, a mighty fine half back, has married. Harold Schumacher, full back, will drop out because of a knee operation, and Paul Anderson, right half back, will not return because of defense employment.

But Purdue still has a nucleus of 21 varsity letter men from last year. Major losses by graduation include Dave Rankin, left end, who was elected captain of the national All-Star squad; Bill Neff, tackle; Mike Byelene, right half, and Ted Axton, who played 377 minutes last season at center.

Purdue is led by Co-Captains Jim Miller and Tom Melton, who are a great pair of guards. Melton has enlisted in the aviation corps and will be sworn in Sunday in Indianapolis. He will not be called to service, however, until the February class.

Carter, Cook Are Shifted.

The veteran John Petty, at full back, gives the Purdue attack a punch which complements the speed of its running game. Currently, John Galvin, a senior, who attended Leo High school in Chicago, is at left half. He is expected to have his best season. Tony Berto is a right half and Bob Kersey, Indianapolis senior, is at quarter back, a position he'll share with Fred Smerke and Robert Hajzyk, promising sophomore from South Bend. Last night Hajzyk intercepted a pass in his own end zone and ran 105 yards to score. Full Back Petty is another field general if needed.

Purdue starts with a pair of veteran tackles in Italo Rossi and Herman [Pete] Timperman and has a fine sophomore tackle prospect in Barry

Errors Again Mar Duel in St. Louis.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 12.—The Cardinals closed in on the pace setting Dodgers this afternoon to revive the profitable confusion in the National league pennant race. A venerable gent by the name of Estel Crabtree rifled a triple thru the enemy ranks, and that one shot sent a somewhat wabbly edition of the Gas House gang to a 4 to 3 triumph in the second battle of what is commonly referred to as a crucial series. So the Cardinals are back at a spot only one game behind the leaders.

Altho the Cards came from behind after losing one lead, their heroics, or rather those of Crabtree, wouldn't have been necessary if their defense, for the second time, hadn't been as leaky as a fish net. The big hole was in left field, where Don Padgett twice floundered around in the fifth inning, to help the Dodgers smear 20 year old Howard [Lefty] Pollet with three runs. This put Brooklyn in front, but only for a few minutes.

Davis Isn't Bad.

Curt Davis, a Cardinal alumnus, went seven innings against his former fellows and he yielded only five hits, but four of them hurt. Three of them sent the Cards scampering into a two-run advantage in the second inning, a lead that remained intact until the youthful Pollet, recently called in from the Texas league, was caught between the Dodger bats and Padgett's quaint fielding in the fifth. The only other hit that Davis surrendered after the second was Crabtree's triple, which proved doubly damaging because a pass was involved. Unfortunately for Pollet, he was withdrawn just before the winning explosion, so credit for the triumph went to Max Lanier, who held the Dodgers to one hit in the last four innings.

St. Louis Gets Two.

The Dodgers, who, by winning today, could just about have put the Cardinals to sleep for the winter, still have a chance to do it tomorrow. If they can win the final, they'll again have their two-game edge, an important margin, because it would give them three more victories than the Cardinals, who have played two fewer games. The Dodgers' hopes for this achievement are in the right arm

ROSS RESENTS RULING; QUITS HOCKEY BOARD

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 12 (AP).—Manager Art Ross of the Boston Bruins tonight tendered his resignation as a member of the board of governors of the National Hockey league after President Frank Calder ruled in favor of the New York Rangers in the dispute with Boston over the playing rights of Angus Cameron of the Regina Rangers, Allan cup holders.

Ross walked out of the semi-annual meeting of the league following Calder's decision. The board did not act on his resignation immediately, but he said later he would send it in writing.

Charged with Tampering.

Calder said Boston was charged with tampering with Cameron, who was on the Philadelphia Ramblers' reserve list, and because of this he had ruled that Boston had forfeited its negotiation rights for him. The Rangers became involved in the dispute thru their affiliation with the Ramblers, former farm club of the New York team.

The dispute arose after the governors adopted a schedule, made five rules changes and met with representatives of the International Ice Hockey association and the Canadian Amateur Hockey association.

Add Penalty Shot.

The season will open Saturday, Nov. 1, with Detroit at Montreal and the Rangers at Toronto. The season closes March 19.

A major change in the rules provides for two types of penalty shots—a minor and major. The minor penalty shot will be imposed when the goal tender commits a foul and the shot will be taken from the usual penalty shot spot in front of the goal keeper.

The major shot will be handed out when a player who has nobody to beat except the goal keeper is tripped. The player will then be allowed to take the puck and go right in on the goal keeper or shoot from any distance he wishes.

NAVY PRACTICES WITH PENN STATE AND 2,000 WATCH

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 12 (AP).—Some 2,000 navy fans watched the Middie and Penn State football squads tangle in scrimmage today at an informal practice. Swede Larson, Middie mentor, and Bob Higgins, Nittany Lion coach, sent their charges thru an hour and a half of heavy practice, with the teams alternating in taking the ball on the 20 yard line.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

MANAGER Del Baker of the Tigers will take a long vacation in Texas after the season ends, and, boy, how he needs it! . . . Bob Zuppke painted three dozen pastels of the sand dunes around Muskegon during his summer vacation. . . . If you think the publicity Stanford's T formation has received is bombastic, look over the following from a University of California press agent's description of Coach Stub Allison's plans: "You will see the California team break out of the huddle into a peculiar formation—ends and tackles spread wide, guards and backs bunched closely behind the center—and then shift into single wing, short punt, 'A' and 'Z' formations. Yes, sir, you'll see guards shifting up into a balanced or unbalanced line, or maybe even the quarter back shifting up into the line and an end dropping into the back field." . . . So far, 210 minor league ball players have answered their country's call to military or naval service. . . . Wish Egan, veteran Tiger scout, was christened Aloysius. . . . Football de-emphasis is an established fact at Carnegie Tech. . . . Only 30 candidates reported for early practice, and only one of these—a holdover from the old days—had an athletic scholarship. . . . The last unassisted triple play in the major leagues was made by First Baseman Johnny Neun of the Detroit Tigers against the Indians on May 31, 1927. . . . Joe Jackson used a bat with a flat side for most of one season before opposing players and umpires finally caught up with him. . . . The club was an ebony black, which made it difficult to detect, and it never appeared in the White Sox rack. . . . When Joe started for the plate he extracted it from some mysterious cache and a bat boy secreted it immediately after Jackson had had his turn. . . .

One explanation of the Tigers' low estate this summer: They have lost 13 out of 19 games played with the Senators. . . . After seeing Billy Conn perform in his movie, "The Pittsburgh Kid," a home town reviewer wrote: "Billy, you'd better stick to boxing, a business you know something about." . . . Dizzy Dean was paid $325 for pitching three innings in Charles City, Ia. . . . Newsboys at Forbes field, where the coal smoke coats the stands with soot, advertise their wares with "Papers to read or sit on." . . . The Athletics finished eighth in 1915 after having won the pennant the year before. . . . Dick Kemper, catcher for the Flint [Mich.] American Legion baseball team which lost to San Diego in the national semi-finals, is 14 years old. . . . The University of Pennsylvania has played 636 football games since 1876, winning 453, losing 173, and tying 10.

PHILLIES TEACH CUB KIDS 5 TO 3 DIAMOND LESSON

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Tom Hughes and Dan Litwhiler of the Philadelphia Phillies, who have never exactly been identified as cousins of our Cubs, yesterday were the chief factors in a 5 to 3 victory over the North Siders before a crowd of 2,023 cash clients and 3,500 ladies' day fans. While Thomas, who earlier in the season restrained the Cubs to one hit, was meting out nine yesterday, Litwhiler chose the seventh inning to smack a two run homer that projected the visitors into a 4 to 3 lead at that point. Another run, wrested from Rookie Walter Lanfranconi in the ninth, proved unnecessary.

Manager Jim Wilson elected yesterday's contest, first of a pair that will terminate with today's game, as the vehicle for displaying a portion of the younger talent with which he hopes to construct a new machine next semester. Heading these was Lou Novikoff, who started the season with the Cubs, and has just returned from the Milwaukee Brewers. The sometime Mad Russian celebrated with three hits, a single, double, and his fifth major league home run.

Olsen Bangs a Triple.

Barney Olsen, another freshman, produced a triple that eventually bloomed into the Chicagoans' third run. Leonard Merullo, rookie shortstop, collected a total of nary a hit at the plate, but conducted himself brightly afield, with six chances. Lanfranconi relieved Jake Mooty, the ultimate losing pitcher, at the start of the eighth, but finally had to be relieved by Lefty Vern Olsen.

Litwhiler collected the first hit of the game, a single to left, which promptly was followed by Merrill May's double, a quaint tap which sailed over Babe Dahlgren's head, in the second. While Merullo was tossing out Marty Bragan, Litwhiler scored and May continued to third. After Ben Warren had fanned and Hughes had drawn a base on balls Murtaugh sent a double into right center, scoring May. The Cubs' run in the second was compounded of successive doubles by Novikoff and Scheffing with one out.

Lou Comes Thru.

May threw out Dahlgren in the fourth after which Novikoff's public was given cause for screaming when the returned Russian smote Hughes' third pitch into the left field bleachers.

B. Olsen made his contribution to the Cub freshman cause with a triple to right in the sixth. After Nicholson popped to May, Olsen scored the third run on Dahlgren's double to short center.

The Phils moved into the lead in the seventh, Litwhiler's 17th homer of the season driving in Benjamin, who had led off with a single.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12—Johnny Humphries, dealer in whitewash, applied a four hit coat to the A's today to bring the White Sox out of their staggers with a 2 to 0 victory. It was his fourth triumph of the year, his fourth shutout and his second consecutive four hit blanking of the A's. He beat them 1 to 0 on Aug. 19.

Humphries was a masterful pitcher, particularly in the fifth inning when he was in his only serious difficulties of the day. The Sox were leading, 1 to 0, when Dee Miles opened with a line double to the right field wall and snitched an extra base when Taft Wright had trouble picking up the ball.

Sam Chapman, one of the American league's most dangerous sluggers, was the next hitter. Humphries struck him out, Sam missing the third swing so violently his bat flew out past third base. Al Brancato was next. Johnny got him on a pop foul to Joe Kuhel. Then Al Rubeling lifted an easy fly to Wright.

Johnson Pops in Pinch.

The only other Philadelphia threat was delayed until the ninth and it wasn't serious. With one out, Benny McCoy singled. Eddie Collins flied out, but Frankie Hayes walked on a 3 and 2 count—the only pass Humphries issued. With Bob Johnson up, the 1,000 fans shouted for a homer, but Bob's best was a lazy fly to Myril Hoag and Humphries' shutout was secure.

The Sox offense against Phil Marchildon, chunky Canadian right hander, wasn't particularly robust but it should have been more productive than it was. Only two runs developed from eight hits, four bases on balls, three stolen bases, and a wild pitch, the reason being that three Sox runners were thrown out at the plate, two by Chapman and one by Miles.

The first run appeared in the first inning and was manufactured without a ball being hit out of the infield. Hoag walked leading off, stole second and moved around on two infield outs.

Chapman Throws Two Strikes.

Chapman's first exhibition of throwing skill came in the second when Tom Turner singled, and stole second only to be cut down at the plate on Hoag's single to center. Again in the third the Sox could get nothing out of two hits, thanks to Chapman. Don Kolloway opened the inning with a double but when he raced for the plate on Luke Appling's single he found Chapman's throw there ahead of him.

With one out in the eighth Kolloway got his second hit, a single to left. Joe Kuhel walked. Appling lined a single to left, scoring Kolloway and sending Kuhel to third. Wright then lofted to Miles and Kuhel, trying to score after the catch, became the third Sox to expire in the dust at home.

Edgar Smith, the portly lefty, will hurl for the Sox tomorrow. His opponent will be Porter Vaughan, one of Connie Mack's large collection of rookies.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Hawthorne launches its stake program today with the $5,000 Hawthorne handicap, a gallop of a mile and an eighth, which has drawn a field of 14 in the overnight entries. Shot Put, Red Dock, Delray, and Montsin will command the heaviest support, but the race is regarded as a wide open affair and among the other 10 contenders there are several which have a chance of getting home first.

Red Dock, which raced for Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable earlier in his career, will be making his first appearance of the season before the Chicago crowd. He is now running for Max Wexler. In his most recent effort he won the Labor Day handicap at Thistle Down.

First Start Since Handicap.

Shot Put will be making his first start since the Washington Park handicap on Labor day. In that event he was a fast closing fourth behind Big Pebble, Bushwhacker, and Haltal. Delray won an allowance event since finishing third to Whirlaway and Bushwhacker in the American derby. Montsin's best performance of the season was her victory in the $5,000 Beverly handicap at Washington Park.

The overnight field is completed by Burning Star, Plowshare, Pink Gal, Chi, Malsco, Bucking, Idle Sun, Forever Prince, Displayer, and Kansas.

Shaun G. Wins at 8-1.

The Lexbrook stable's Shaun G. scored at 8 to 1 odds in the six and a half furlong Challedon purse, main event on yesterday's program. The strongest support had been divided between To a Tee and Agricole, with Heartman also coming in for a play.

Don MacAndrew gave Shaun G. such a strong ride, however, that he held command from start to finish. Heartman was fairly close to the early pace and both To a Tee and Agricole came up with strong challenges approaching the stretch after both had been far back in the earlier stages.

To a Tee was carried wide, however, and was able to get no better than third money, while Heartman, racing on the inside, continued to challenge Shaun G. all the way home. Shaun G. beat him to the wire by a neck. The winner's backers collected $18, $9.40, and $4 across the board.

How Much It Means.

The letters that you write to us
About your life today,
Somehow they bring you close again
Altho you're far away.
And, thus, the written words erase
For just an hour or two
The loneliness within our hearts
Because we're missing you.
And, so within the letter box
How much it means to find
A letter saying "All is well"
To which your name is signed.

Davison Wins Guest Low Gross in Service Outing

S. M. Davison won the guest low gross prize with a score of 73 at the Middle West Service golf outing at Illinois Country club yesterday.

National Polo Tourney Will Start Today

Two of the game's finest young players, Jay Secor and Harry Evinger, will line up with Smith at No. 3 and back, respectively. Smith will ride at No. 2 and Henry Lewis at No. 1.

With Rathbone at back, Laddie Sanford at No. 1, Winston Guest, at No. 2, and George Oliver Jr., at No. 3, the Pelicans present a well balanced quartet with plenty of punch.

Aknusti, composed of the three Gerry brothers, Eddy, Ebby, and Henry, and Pete Bostwick swings into action Tuesday against the winner of tomorrow's game. The finals will be played Sept. 21.

ONLY 3 DARE TO FACE WHIRLAWAY IN $25,000 RACE

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 12 (AP).—Only three horses were entered today to run against Whirlaway in the $25,000 Narragansett special, and it appeared that Warren Wright's 3 year old champion would go to the post tomorrow favored by perhaps as much as 1 to 2. Two of the entries—Royce G. Martin's Haltal and Howard Wells' Equifox—have never met the son of Blenheim II., while the other, Samuel D. Riddle's War Relic, was nosed out by Whirlaway in a handicap race at Saratoga a month ago.

Giants Test Eagles' New Order Tonight

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The Philadelphia Eagles start out on a new adventure tonight in the National Football league with a new owner, a new coach, a new system, and more new players than any other team in the league.

All this newness will be thoroly tested, as the Eagles' opponents in Philadelphia are the New York Giants, who also are exponents of "off with the old, on with the new." It is the second game of the young league season, the Cleveland Rams having opened the 55 game race Sunday with a victory over Pittsburgh's Steelers.

The Philadelphia-New York game has been moved up a day, leaving only one Sunday game. This one is between the Detroit Lions and Packers in Green Bay tomorrow afternoon.

Bears Play Last Exhibition.

The champion Chicago Bears will play the sixth and last of their exhibition games tomorrow, meeting their farm eleven in Newark. Chicago's Cardinals, who rallied to tie Kenosha in Kenosha earlier in the week, will continue preparations over the week-end for their league opener next Tuesday night in Comiskey park against Cleveland.

The Eagles' new owner is Alexis Thompson, Yale '36, and his coach is Earle [Greasy] Neale, who was back field coach at Yale for seven seasons. Among the 33 players are 24 who last year played on college teams from New England to the Pacific coast and from Florida to Minnesota.

New Lion Coach.

The Lions, like the Eagles, are operating under a new coach. He is Bill Edwards of Western Reserve in Cleveland. He uses the single wing system. The Lions have one of the finest back fields in the league. Lloyd Cardwell is speedy, a fine blocker and pass catcher. Fred Vanzo is a great blocker, Whizzer White's talents are well known, and Harry Hopp, freshman from Nebraska, has clinched the No. 1 full back assignment.

Outstanding among the rookies are William Jefferson, 6 feet 3 inch 213 pound running back; John Tripson, 220 pound tackle, Augie Lio, tackle from Georgetown; and Hopp. Jefferson and Tripson are from Mississippi State.

HAWAIIAN AND CYO BOXERS TO MEET—AT LUNCH

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Hawaiian and Catholic Youth organization amateur boxers, who will seek to knock each other's blocks off in an intersectional tournament in Soldiers' field Wednesday night, will exchange greetings across the luncheon table at the CYO training camp in Palos Park at noon today.

Altho the rivals have no love for each other everything will be friendly [on the surface]. Paul Inamine, Hawaiian flyweight, and Harold Dade, Chicagoland Golden Gloves 112 pound title holder, will smile in good taste when they shake hands, but Dade, still ranking over Inamine's conquest of him last summer, is plotting dire things for the diminutive fighter from the land of Aloha when they meet in the ring again.

Others Hold Same Idea.

Other members of the rival delegations hold the same attitude, regardless of protests to the contrary. Henry Oshiro, Hawaiian bantamweight, is back for revenge for a defeat suffered at the hands of Ray Brown last year, as are Frank Fernandez, lightweight, and Dan Fernandez, welterweight, for setbacks dealt them by Eddie O'Connell and Savior Canadeo of the Chicago team, respectively, and Ray Quintal, Hawaiian light heavyweight, for a defeat inflicted by Hubert Hood.

Chicago won the 1940 match, 8 bouts to 3. In addition to Inamine, Hawaiian winners were Richard Chinen, who beat Al Noto as a flyweight, but is competing as a bantamweight this time, and Salvador Leboy, who conquered Jack Ballangee of the CYO aggregation in a featherweight encounter.

Four Seek Lightweight Spot.

After luncheon, the Hawaiians will attend the races at Hawthorne track in Cicero. They will return to CYO center at 31 East Congress street in time to resume workouts at 4 p. m.

Last night the visitors were welcomed by south side citizens in a reception arranged by the Back of the Yards Neighborhood council. Miss Dorothy Fraser, assistant to Joseph Meegan, executive director of the council, was a factor in the success of the south side program.

Lane Tech opened its north section football campaign in the Chicago Public High School league by trimming Waller, 24 to 0, yesterday in the new Lane stadium. Lane scored in each of the first three periods. Don Kaepplinger tallied in the first period on an eight yard end run.

A pair of touchdowns in the second quarter by Irv Januszewski and Walter Elveton gave Lane an 18 to 0 lead at half time. Poppero plunged over from the 2 yard line in the third quarter.

Tilden routed Gage Park, 47 to 0, in a central section opener on St. Rita field. Mazzocco and Hamilton each scored a pair of touchdowns and Hamilton added two extra points.

Parker defeated South Shore, 20 to 6, and Morgan Park edged out Harper, 6 to 0, in a city league double header at Shewbridge field last night. It was South Shore's league debut.

Elkhart, Ind., Sept. 12.—Elkhart beat Sullivan of Chicago, 19 to 6, tonight despite the individual play of Capt. Kenny Hawkins of Sullivan, whose running and passing enabled Welter to plunge over for Sullivan's score in the closing seconds. Glasgow counted twice and Hardy once for Elkhart.

ALSAB GOES AFTER $10,000 PURSE IN RACE TOMORROW

Havre de Grace, Md., Sept. 12 (AP).—Alsab will go after another rich purse tomorrow in the $10,000 added Eastern Shore handicap at Havre de Grace. INJURED KELLER LOST TO YANKS IN WORLD SERIES

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—The Yankees' world series prospects suffered a blow today when it was found that their slugging left fielder, Charley Keller, had incurred a chip fracture of his right ankle and probably would not swing a bat again this season.

Keller's ankle was placed in a cast after X-rays disclosed the extent of the injury. Dr. Emmett Walsh, club physician, said there wasn't a chance that Keller would be able to play in the championship series, now less than three weeks away.

The injury occurred in yesterday's game here with Detroit when Keller, already hampered by a charley-horse in his left leg, made an unsuccessful effort to slide safely into second base. His spikes caught in the dirt, wrenching the ankle. There was a sprained ligament or two, in addition to the fracture.

It is not certain that the Yankees will have their star third baseman, Red Rolfe, ready for the series, either. He was discharged from a Boston hospital several days ago, but has not rejoined the club. The intestinal complaint that has bothered him all season has shown no signs of permanent abatement.

Evanston Beats Park Ridge; Faces Oak Brook for Cup

Evanston defeated Park Ridge, 16 to 6 in the semi-final round of the Eugene Byfield Memorial polo tournament yesterday on the Oak Brook field, thereby winning the right to oppose Oak Brook tomorrow at 4 p. m. in the final for the Byfield cup.

Error Discovered; Novikoff Named Batting Champion

Lou Novikoff's return performance of three hits in yesterday's game may have been actuated by the glad tidings, imparted to him before the contest, of his new American association batting championship. It was the fourth time in his career that the Russian had paced a league at the plate, having led all hitters in the Three Eye, Pacific Coast, and Texas leagues. Novikoff, who apparently ran second to Lou Klein, Columbus shortstop, in the association averages, will now be credited with an average of .370, off 135 hits in 365 times at bat, while Klein will stand at .367, on 133 hits in 362 appearances at bat.

Cards Reduce Dodger Lead to 1 Game, 4-3 of Whitlow Wyatt. The Cards will come forth with Mort Cooper.

Crespi led off in the Cards' second with a two bagger that sent Medwick galloping to the wall. Marion's fly was taken by Walker, Crespi going to third. Mancuso ripped a low liner toward a wide open spot in right center and rolled leisurely on his way for a triple, Crespi scoring. Pollet, a pretty good hitter, slapped a single into Walker's territory and Mancuso puffed home.

The Cardinals almost pitched Pollet into the pickle barrel with poor fielding in the third. Herman singled to center with one gone and an over-eager Hopp fumbled, Herman charging to second. Reiser tapped to Mize, who elected to let Pollet cover the bag, but the latter arrived late and it was turned into a hit, Herman going to third. Medwick failed again, this time with a pop foul to Mize, and the situation cleared up when Marion smothered Lavagetto's grounder.

Padgett Plays Football.

Reese opened the fifth with the single that Padgett kicked around until the runner had reached third. Herman walked, but Reiser popped to Marion. Medwick, after haggling with Umpire Lee Ballanfant about a called second strike, singled on the next pitch and Padgett blundered again. The hit scored Reese and the error put Herman on third and Medwick on second. Herman ran home while Marion was throwing out Lavagetto and Medwick scored the third run on Camilli's single to center.

Pollet was stabled after he had walked Owen to open the sixth, an inning that Lanier made successful only because Crabtree threw Owen out at the plate on Herman's single. Then the Cards touched off their winning two run half, which included only one hit. Padgett walked and, after Mize had lofted to Medwick, Crabtree tripled off the right field screen, Padgett scoring the tying run. Crabtree went in on Crespi's long fly to left, putting the Cards ahead, 4 to 3.

WILDCATS FIGHT FOR POSTS.

The battle for line positions on Northwestern's football team got in full swing yesterday as Line Coach Burt Ingwersen sent the boys against each other in an all-out scrimmage. The first contact work of the season produced a few bumps and bruises and sent Al Pick, reserve center, to the rubbing table with a charley horse.

The Wildcats have letter men at all positions on the first team line as follows: Bob Motl and Bud Hasse, ends; Alf Bauman and Leon Cook, tackles; George Zorich and Nick Burke, guards, and either Gene Mundy or Bob Johnson, center.

WRIGHT IMPRESSES LEAHY.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 12 [Special].—Bob Hargrave, Notre Dame senior quarter back, was looking to his laurels in today's drill as Harry Wright, Hempstead, L. I., junior lined up with the regulars. The Evansville, Ind., veteran has some cause for worry, altho it appears that both he and Wright will see plenty of action starting with the Sept. 7 opener with Arizona.

WOLVERINES SEEK PASSER.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 12 [Special].—Coach Fritz Crisler continued his quest for a passer today as he ran the Michigan team thru a passing drill for the third time. Crisler had planned on Cliff Wise as the passer, but was frustrated when Wise was declared out of football because of selective service. Crisler is also seeking capable receivers. Charles Kennedy has established himself as a better than average receiver.

ILLINI HOLD SCRIMMAGE.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 12 [Special].—Coach Bob Zuppke put the Illinois football team thru its first scrimmage today. It didn't last long, but long enough for the tentative starting team to push over two quick touchdowns. The first score came after the varsity marched 40 yards in six plays and the second came on a 17 yard end run by Maurie Gold.

Zuppke again emphasized that Illinois centers must tackle well, and put his candidates to work at it, including Ken Cheeley, Bob Cherry, Alex Agase, John Cipriano, and Larry Ferolie. Johnny Worban and Drayl Robb were used as passers in a long aerial drill after the scrimmage. A big note of cheer was received at the end of practice with the news that Paul Milosevich arrived today and will join the squad tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Mellor Is Made Head of CWDGA

Mrs. Gilmore M. Mellor of Elmhurst was elected president of the Chicago Women's District Golf association yesterday after the organization had closed its competitive season with a one-ball alternate stroke tournament at Kildeer Country club.

Mrs. Mellor succeeds Mrs. Andrew D. Collins of North Shore. Other officers chosen for 1942:

MISS SIGEL AND MRS. NEWELL GO TO GOLF FINAL

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 12 (AP).—Mrs. Betty Hicks Newell of Long Beach, Cal., and Helen Sigel of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania state champion, gained the final round of the Women's National Amateur golf tournament today at the Country club.

Miss Sigel triumphed over Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, Tex., 3 and 2, after building up a two hole lead by going out in 38, one over par. She won the match on the 16th green by sinking a 25 foot putt for a half.

Mrs. Newell won the right to oppose Miss Sigel by regaining her putting touch in the nick of time to defeat Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Greensboro, N. C., 1 up in 19 holes.

Until late in the semi-final round, Mrs. Newell had trouble sinking even the shortest of putts, but her splendid long game enabled her to wipe out a one hole deficit at the 11th and then pull into the lead on the 13th with a birdie four. Mrs. Page then played two short holes in flawless fashion to regain the lead, which she agan surrendered when Mrs. Newell sank a 15 footer on the 18th for a winning four.

PAREGORIC SOLD TO DOPE USERS; STORES RAIDED

Baby Sedative Drunk to Get Opium.

Paregoric, a time honored sedative for crying babies, was exposed yesterday as one of the principal sources of opium among dope addicts in Chicago. In a series of raids agents of the federal bureau of narcotics arrested 15 druggists and two physicians on warrants accusing them of selling the drug illegally.

James J. Biggins, chief of the narcotics agents here, said the raids were the first in years made to curb the sale of paregoric.

"The sale of the drug has increased enormously since the war began," Biggins said. "Because all opium is imported, restrictions in shipping have reduced the supply. In addition, there has been a great increase in demand for sedatives in countries at war. Increased vigilance has almost stopped smuggling.

Sell It by the Gallon.

"The consequence is that addicts have begun to drink paregoric in large quantities in order to get the two grains of opium per ounce that it contains. Druggists have gone hog wild selling it. Instead of selling one or two ounces at a time as they did before, they are selling it in quantities of as much as a gallon."

Druggists Under Arrest.

Druggists arrested are: Mrs. Elizabeth Gerchenson and Solomon Goldberg, who have a store at 3732 Chicago avenue; Lester and Emil Gerchenson, owners of the Washington Drugs pharmacy, 3201 Washington boulevard; Charles and William Rubin, Leah Drug company, Chicago avenue and Dearborn street; Salvatore Vitacco, Wellington pharmacy, 3600 North Cicero avenue; Richard Hennig and William Jackson, Hennig pharmacy, 402 South Halsted; David and Irving Maslowski, M. & H. pharmacy, 372 West Chicago avenue; A. J. Vance, 2 North La Salle street; Leon K. Hatchek, North Western railway station, and Aaron Schwartz, Keeler pharmacy, 4160 Lawrence avenue.

Agents also have warrants for Frank Marinelli, Ogden-Polk pharmacy at Ogden avenue and Polk street, and A. A. Diamond, 2 North La Salle street.

The total number of election precincts in Cook county was fixed yesterday at 4,556. Additional precincts have been created by both the board of election commissioners and County Clerk M. J. Flynn, who has jurisdiction over a majority of the suburbs. The new total for the city is 3,791 and [illegible] for the suburbs or county towns—including the precincts under both the board and the county clerk—is 765.

Solo offerings by Miss Claire, soprano, and Attilio Baggiore, tenor, will be heard, along with a dramatic sketch with musical background telling the story of "The Star-Spangled Banner," written by Francis Scott Key on Sept. 14, 1814, at the time of the bombardment of Fort McHenry by the British.

Miss Claire's solo selections will be "Romany Life" from Victor Herbert's "Fortune Teller" and two appropriate numbers leading to her son's debut, "Connais Tu Le Pays," from Thomas' "Mignon" and Weatherly's "Laddie Boy."

CUTS PERSONAL ASSESSMENTS IN 3 CHICAGO AREAS

County Assessor John S. Clark reported yesterday that the 1941 personal property valuation in three Chicago townships are 20 per cent less than the 1940 assessments.

The assessment for Lake View township was cut to $34,331,017, compared with $42,634,798 in 1940, for North to $40,742,953, compared with $51,511,746, and for Rogers Park, to $6,437,670 from $8,668,203.

Clark said the large reduction results from two recent state Supreme court decisions. One decision exempted from taxation shares of stock in out of state corporations which own tangible property in Illinois. The other decision, rendered in the case of Commonwealth Edison company, laid down rules which result in a slash of 18 million dollars in the personal property of public utilities in Chicago.

CHICAGO IS GOAT OF MILK PRICING, ALDERMAN SAYS

Paul Krueger, head of the board of health dairy section, testified yesterday before Mayor Kelly's high cost of living committee that 90 per cent of Chicago's milk comes from within a 100 mile radius of the city, while the condenseries whose paying price determines the cost of milk are outside of this radius.

On this testimony, Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th], chairman of the committee, said that it was evident that Chicago is being made the goat of the recent raise in the cost of milk to handlers which resulted in a rise in the price to consumers. "The new prices affect only Chicago, Evanston, Cicero, and Oak Park," Lindell said, "while other towns much nearer the condenseries, such as Waukegan, have not been affected."

Lindell said the condenseries should have no control over the prices paid here. He said the committee might come to the conclusion that milk selling permits and inspection service given by the city should be cut off from farmers who are helping to keep up the price of milk.

FILE BANKRUPTCY CHARGE AGAINST MISSING LAWYER

Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against Jay I. Rosenberg, 33 years old, an attorney who has been missing since Wednesday, were begun yesterday in federal District court. Judge Charles E. Woodward appointed Arthur P. Murphy, a real estate man, as trustee to inventory Rosenberg's property and issued an order restraining Rosenberg from disposing of any assets.

Gerald G. Boliton, one of the attorneys who filed the bankruptcy petition, said a note was found Wednesday in Rosenberg's office at 201 North Wells street, reading: "I am taking the easiest way out." No report has been made to the police, however. At Rosenberg's home, 2227 Farwell avenue, it was said he had not been home since Wednesday.

Boliton estimated the amount due creditors from Rosenberg as about $200,000, the money having been involved in real estate transactions which Rosenberg handled.

RADIO NETWORKS RENEW FIGHT ON FCC REGULATIONS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—Two broadcast networks, National and Columbia, challenged again today the power of the FCC to promulgate regulations governing them.

John T. Cahill and John J. Burns, counsel for NBC and CBS, respectively, appeared before the commission to argue against putting network regulations into effect and asked the commission to join with the networks in asking congress for a "comprehensive" radio law.

The arguments were advanced in connection with the petition by the Mutual Broadcasting system for some modification of the commission's regulations. Mutual, while generally supporting the regulations, is asking for a modification to permit a network station affiliation contract of two or three years instead of one year. The commission issued its network regulations last May, but they have not been put into effect.

Describing the regulations as "arbitrary and unreasonable," Burns reiterated Columbia's position that congress had not given the commission power to regulate network station regulations and practices.

"The language of the act makes it clear that the only power to make regulations with respect to chain broadcasting which congress intended to confer upon the commission is that dealing principally with the physical operations of stations," Burns said.

FOOD SUPPLIES NEAR RECORD AS PRICES MOVE UP

U. S. Report Shows Vast Stores.

The department of agriculture released its estimate yesterday of the total reserve supplies of food in the United States as of Sept. 1 showing stocks of many items at or near record totals. Earlier this week Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. advocated release of surplus supplies to combat high prices. He said stocks of cheese, butter, pork, and beef are abnormally high and asserted it is "sheer nonsense" to permit the prices to be pushed up out of the reach of many consumers.

A comparison of prices of these commodities, total government lend-lease purchases to date and the reserve supplies as reported by the agricultural department follow:

PORK.

On Sept. 1 there were 482,992,000 pounds of pork in storage despite a 21 per cent reduction in stocks since Aug. 1. Current reserve supplies are the largest for this time of year since 1934. Since spring the government has purchased 182,846,500 pounds of fresh and frozen pork, and 110,515,416 pounds of canned pork at an estimated cost of around $90,000,000. An average live hog price of $11.05 a hundred pounds in Chicago yesterday compares with $6.30 a year ago and $6.85 in 1934.

LARD.

Stocks of lard on Sept. 1 were the largest for that date on record, totaling 282,875,000 pounds. The government has purchased 208,538,879 pounds to give England. The cost of this lard is estimated around $25,000,000. A lard wholesale price of $10.88 per hundred pounds yesterday compared with $4.85 a year ago. Dealers said the advance is almost entirely attributable to the government purchases.

CHEESE.

An all-time record for reserve supplies of cheese evidently was known to the government yesterday when its agency paid 23 cents a pound for 15 carloads on the cheese exchange at Plymouth, Wis. The price was the highest paid in the last 13 years.

Sept. 1 cheese stocks totaled 151,737,000 pounds. To date the government has purchased 72,873,797 pounds at a cost of more than $15,000,000. Yesterday's price of 23 cents compared with 13½ cents a pound on the corresponding day last year.

BUTTER.

Commercial holdings of butter were the largest on record and the total, when government supplies [purchased to hold up prices] are added, was the second largest in history. The government owned stocks plus dealer reserves of 198,224,000, made a grand total of 200,539,000 pounds.

Wholesale butter sold at 36¾ cents a pound yesterday. A year ago the same grade brought 27 cents.

EGGS.

Stocks of frozen eggs in storage on Sept. 1 have been exceeded only once, and that was on Aug. 1 of this year. The commodity which is widely used in the preparation of bakery goods, confections, salad dressings and noodles has been purchased in vast quantities with lease-lend funds. Total purchases to date amount to more than 66,269,000 pounds, costing between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000.

Because of huge purchases of eggs in the country by the government and processors preparing dried and frozen eggs for shipment to Great Britain, dealers had to draw on their reserve stocks of shell eggs early this year. Dealer holdings on Sept. 1 were the smallest on record. The government has purchased 44,815,230 dozen eggs for England and dealers' stocks have dropped to 165,450,000 dozens.

With eggs selling at retail in Chicago at around 40 to 50 cents a dozen, the wholesale market was quoted at 28½ to 29 cents for firsts. A year ago this grade, which isn't the best, but the most representative grade, brought 19 to 19½ cents a dozen.

OTHER MEATS.

Beef and the aggregate holdings of all meat stocks were the largest since 1934, according to the government's report. The withdrawals of pork from storage during August were the largest for any one month since 1933 and occurred in face of the second heaviest August pork production since 1933.

Packers reported the heavy withdrawals of pork were mostly meat that had been sold for shipment to England. They said domestic demand had increased despite the higher prices.

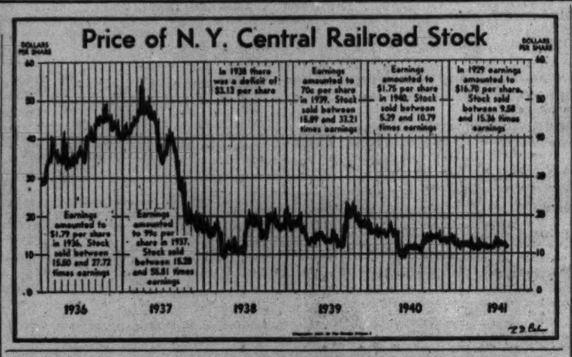

A table of the reserve supplies in thousands of pounds as compared with Aug. 1 stocks and those of Sept. 1, 1940, as reported by the department, follows:

	Sept. 1	Aug. 1	Year ago.
Pork	482,992	618,866	417,504
Lard	282,875	332,863	272,290
Beef	67,477	65,708	35,663
All meats	625,881	761,284	523,390
Butter	200,539	178,493	134,366
Cheese	151,737	139,568	126,315
Poultry	85,276	81,206	82,178
Frozen eggs	193,972	195,097	145,653

Of the above stocks the government owned 782,000 pounds of butter; 619,000 cases of eggs; 19,212,000 pounds of frozen eggs; 5,291,000 pounds of cheese; 12,938,000 pounds of lard and 12,952,000 pounds of pork.

Living Costs Rise in 52 of 60 Cities Surveyed

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—A rise in living costs in 52 out of 60 cities during August was reported today by the National Industrial Conference board. The research organization found gains ranged from as low as 0.1 of 1 per cent in Chicago, New Haven, and Spokane to as high as 1.6 per cent in Dallas. The average rise was 0.7 of 1 per cent.

Extend Strike That CIO Says Is Unjustified

With work on 8 million dollars of armament materials completely stopped in the Foote Brothers Gear and Machine corporation plant at 4545 South Western avenue, the CIO United Electrical and Machine Workers union voted yesterday to continue a strike which even their own officers had declared unjustified.

Another strike development was an injunction issued by Judge George Fred Rush, forbidding the Packinghouse Workers Organizing committee [CIO] from placing more than one picket at each of the employes' gates of three meat packing concerns in the stockyards. The order was obeyed and the companies, which have 1,400 employés, opened their doors.

Demands of Union.

Union demands at the Foote plant included a closed shop, arrangements for presenting grievances, double time for Sundays and holidays, wage increases, and pay for half hour lunch periods.

The strike was called at 6:30 p. m. Thursday. At 11 p. m. Louis Torre, CIO organizer, announced the "holiday" had ended and a number of strikers went to work. When a new shift reported at 11:30, however, Torre's pleas were disregarded and pickets refused to let workers in.

Company officials said that the output of the plant, which was placed in operation with government help only last January, was all airplane gears, and that a long strike would hold up plane engine making in other plants. They added they believed all the points at issue, except the closed shop, could be ironed out.

Many Willing to Work.

Most of the workers are young men just out of high school, and are regarded by the company as of exceptionally high type. Of this group, many expressed the desire to keep turning out gears, especially as the company had agreed to make retroactive any settlement reached.

The young recruits are paid 55 cents an hour for a training period of three weeks to three months. It was said wages averaged nearly a dollar an hour for skilled operators. The union disregarded a plea of Joseph Cofer, a federal conciliator who is to arrive today, for delay.

Judge Rush's injunction, in favor of the Illinois Meat company, the Agar Packing and Provision company, and the P. Brennan company, was criticized by Attorney Arthur J. Goldberg, representing the union.

Rules Contract Violated.

He said it was so broad that it violated the state and national constitutions. Judge Rush said that it was valid and that it was issued because the union had clearly violated its contract with the companies.

Goldberg took an appeal to the Apellate court, where a hearing will be held Tuesday. Besides limiting picketing, the order of Judge Rush prohibited the union members from interfering in any way with the conduct of the plants. Attorney Lewis Jacobson represented the packers.

Strike of Sailors Expected.

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—John Hawk, national secretary of the Seafarer's International Union of North America [AFL], announced today the union, which claims a membership of 20,000, would call a ship strike "not later than tomorrow morning." He said locals in Atlantic and gulf ports had approved the walkout, planned to force ship owners to increase bonuses paid for going into belligerent waters.

First ships to be affected would be the Evangeline, Trader, and Banner of the Alcoa Steamship company, Hawk said. The Evangeline is due to sail tomorrow for Bermuda and the other two within a few days for the British West Indies.

Order National Tea Election.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—An election within 30 days among employés of the National Tea company, Chicago, was ordered today by the National Labor Relations Board. The employés will determine whether they want to be represented in collective bargaining by the Progressive Grocery and Warehouse Workers union [unaffiliated], by the AFL's Grocery and Food Products union, or by neither.

INTEREST RATE DOWN IN AUGUST ON RECORD HIGH U. S. PUBLIC DEBT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—With the public debt at an all-time high of nearly 51 billion dollars, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morganthau Jr. reported today that the interest rate on it was at the lowest level since the beginning of the World war.

The computed interest rate on the public debt last month was 2.48 per cent, a drop of .04 per cent from July. This compared with the all-time high rate of 4.339 per cent in the 1921 fiscal year when the debt was 23 billion 737 million dollars.

The reduction in the rate during August resulted from the sale of 1 billion 74 millions of series B tax anticipation notes which bear an interest rate of .048 per cent.

Sloan Reveals Progress of G. M. on Arms

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of General Motors corporation, in a letter to stockholders said today his company's military orders totaled 1 billion 200 million dollars, of which $625,500,000 was for airplane engines, propellers, parts, and equipment.

Reviewing the company's arms work, Sloan said actual deliveries during the first half of 1941 totaled $131,800,000, and estimated deliveries for the second half would reach 275 millions.

Builds 14 New Plants.

War material production has made necessary construction of 14 new plants, Sloan said. In addition, 13 others have been expanded and 26 existing buildings reëquipped for arms work.

He listed among orders machine guns, cannon, gun housings and controls, shells, cartridge cases and fuses, Diesel engines, trucks and transport equipment, tank parts, and "other items of a technical and confidential nature."

Plan "Fortress" Plant.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 [Special.]—Tentative conclusion of a contract for a factory to carry out mass production of the B-17-E "Flying Fortress" bombers was announced tonight by the navy department. The Douglas Aicraft company will build the factory at Santa Monica, Cal., at an estimated cost of $12,619,096. The B-17-E is a 30-ton four-engined plane, developed by Boeing.

CIO ATTEMPTING ORGANIZATION IN RAILROAD FIELD

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—The CIO has decided to try its hand at organizing workers in the railroad industry in competition with the American Federation of Labor. Organizing officials said they were making a small beginning, accompanied with no fanfare because they are only testing the ground in an effort to find a foothold.

Two industrial union charters have been issued to groups of railroad workers in Detroit and New Haven, Conn., and the organizing possibilities in New Jersey and in Cleveland and Toledo, O., are under investigation.

CIO said its plans did not contemplate any effort to raid the field occupied by the old and well established independent brotherhoods, such as enginemen and trainmen, but it is prepared to take in terminal workers, shop craftsmen and maintenance workers in a field long dominated by AFL unions.

GREEN AND ICC MEN CONFER ON TRANSIT ISSUE

Expect New Cars to Be Demanded.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Gov. Green conferred in Springfield yesterday with John D. Biggs, chairman, and Charles W. Swanson, his assistant on the Illinois Commerce commission, about making modernization of the Chicago Surface lines a condition to granting a fare increase.

The governor and the commerce commissioners are also reported to have considered the request of Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe for appointment of a committee of three to expedite a merger of the surface and elevated lines. Judge Igoe on Thursday suggested that the lines, the commission, and the city each appoint a member of the committee. Results of the conference were not disclosed.

Money Is Plentiful.

The surface lines have more than 25 million dollars in cash immediately available for new equipment. Gov. Green on Thursday said requests of both lines for higher fare should be determined on the quality of service to be given to Chicago car riders and that the Chicago transit situation should be taken out of politics. The elevated lines seek a fare increase from 10 to 12 cents; the surface lines from 7 to 8 cents.

The governor's statement was well received in Chicago yesterday by members of the Democratic city administration and transit lines officials, who this week reached a tentative agreement on traction unification. The plan must be submitted to the ICC for approval.

"The city is certainly in favor of keeping politics out of the traction muddle and getting the problem cleaned up quickly," Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the council transportation committee, said.

On Hand 15 Years.

Most of the 25 million dollars available for service improvements has been in the tills of the surface lines for 15 years. Expenditure has been withheld because the company has been in receivership since 1926 and has not been able to obtain a new city franchise to use city streets since 1927, when the old franchise expired.

The traction unification plan will grant a new franchise to the companies. In view of this, the commerce commissioners are reported to favor a prompt start on buying new equipment without waiting until final details of the plan are settled.

Under the law the commission has the power to order a utility to make improvements in its equipment for the convenience of the public or to obtain adequate service. With the exception of 83 modern street cars bought in 1936 for the Madison street line, the surface lines have not bought any new cars in 10 years. The company has, however, bought 160 gasoline buses and 152 trolley buses since 1927.

Held in Three Funds.

Of the surface lines cash on hand, as of Jan. 31, $19,081,000 was in a reserve for renewals and depreciation which has not been tapped except for the Madison street cars since 1920. Another special reserve for renewals not drawn upon since 1920 has $630,477 in cash. These reserves have been set up by putting aside 8 per cent of the company's gross receipts, which total about 47 million dollars a year.

In addition to these reserves $5,317,000 in free cash accumulated for earnings was held by the company on Jan. 31.

Perfection Tool Buys Land, Building Adjoining Plant

Perfection Tool and Metal Heat Treating company, 1742 Hubbard street, disclosed yesterday the purchase of industrial property at the northeast corner of Hubbard and Wood streets. The site, 100 by 108 feet, adjoining its present plant, contains a two and three story building. John Hulting, president, said 85 per cent of the company's business is on armament industry orders.

Form Rayon Group to Aid in Easing Silk Shortage

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—The Office of Production Management announced today formation of a rayon producers defense industry advisory committee. The committee will work with the silk substitution section of the OPM in attempting to solve problems created by the silk shortage.

Chicago Is Site of First Nash New Car Show

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

The 1942 Nash automobiles were shown for the first time yesterday at a meeting of Nash dealers from thruout the nation in the Stevens hotel. It was one of the few cars to be sent into the 1942 model season in a city outside the Detroit area.

George W. Mason.

The new cars present a much changed appearance from the 1941 models and include a number of mechanical changes. George W. Mason, president of the Nash-Kelvinator corporation, told the group that the corporation has 102 million dollars worth of arms business on hand and that it will deliver the new cars to the best of its ability under the restricted automobile building program.

All three series of Nash cars—Ambassador 600, Ambassador Six and Ambassador Eight—present lower and wider car lines. The front of the hood is rounded. Bright metal trim is placed lower on the car, with a narrow radiator grille piece just under the rounded nose of the car.

New Car Easier to Park.

Featured again this year will be the 600 series—a series brought out to compete with the lowest priced cars in the field. This model is distinguished by a single, welded frameless steel body in which the cantilever bridge construction principle is used. Coil springs are used on all four wheels. A new springing and steering mechanism is said to make the car easier to handle and park. Running boards are concealed. The engine has 75 horse power.

The senior lines will consist of a 105 horse power six and a 115 horse power eight. Engines have several improvements, including combustion chambers with better combustion of fuel.

W. A. Blees, general sales manager, said that there will be 15 models in the three series. All will have full three passenger seats.

Predicts Further Improvement.

Mason told the group that new materials, new construction principles, and production improvements are likely to result from the automobile industry's gigantic aircraft and armaments manufacturing program. Nash has already employed an airplane type construction, he said. He predicted greatly increased use of plastics, the development of new alloys, reduction of tolerance margins, and more efficient use of fuel.

Mason said that among the principal items in the corporation's arms program are essential parts for Pratt and Whitney aircraft engines and Hamilton airplane propeller assemblies.

AIR CORPS TO BUY BIG PAPER STOCK FOR FISCAL YEAR

Contracts will be awarded within the next few days on nearly 1,000 tons [25 million sheets] of mimeograph paper for use by the air corps during the 1941-'42 fiscal year principally at Wright field, Dayton, O., and at Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill. The supply is approximately three times the amount used for the same purposes during the 1940-'41 fiscal year.

Hundreds of additional tons of paper will be purchased at Wright field for the 1941-'42 fiscal year under bids to be received soon. Included will be 188 tons of unsensitized blue print paper, more than twice the purchases of the preceding year, and 30 million sheets of sulfide bond printing paper, compared with 24 million sheets in the last year.

HENDERSON WILL FIX QUOTAS ON DECEMBER AUTO OUTPUT MONDAY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 [Special].—Members of the automotive industry advisory committee were called today to meet here Monday to receive passenger car production quotas for December. Indications were that total output for that month will be limited to about 200,000.

The industry turned out 396,531 passenger cars in December, 1940, and if the indicated quota is put into effect, it will mean that the tentative 50 per cent reduction ordered several weeks ago by Price Administrator Leon Henderson has been made final.

Automobile industry representatives were told Aug. 21 to cut production during the first four months of the new model year an average of 26.6 per cent below last year, and were warned to expect a 50 per cent cut for the entire model year ending July 31, 1942.

REPAIRS.

How does the new repair order work and what industries does it apply to? How do you get the preference rating? My firm makes telephone parts to repair equipment used by independent telephone companies.

Answer: Preference rating order P-22 applying to repairs was designed to permit 20 designated essential industries [and others which may be added later] to obtain materials to repair existing equipment. Qualified enterprises in these industries or distributors of repair parts are given an A-10 priority rating on needed materials; as well as to maintain emergency inventories.

The order defines repairs as those required because of actual or impending breakdown. By emergency inventory is meant the minimum stock needed to provide materials for such repairs.

How to Obtain Rating.

The essential industry or suppliers of repair parts may apply the preference rating by indorsing a special statement on purchase orders for goods going into repairs, certifying that the material ordered is for repair work as covered by the P-22 order.

The preference rating cannot be applied to obtain excess inventories. Producers and suppliers must retain indorsed copies of their rated purchase orders for two years. Falsification or misstatement will be penalized by withdrawal of the privilege of using the preference rating or denial of scarce materials under government allocation.

The industrial classifications covered by the order include the following: State and municipal fire and police services and highway maintenance; carriers and terminals; chemicals; coke converting; educational institutions; explosives; farm machinery and equipment; food processing and storing; highway maintenance and equipment; hospitals, clinics, and sanatoriums; lumber; metallurgy; mines and quarries; newspapers; petroleum production; radio; research laboratories; rubber and rubber products; shipyards and ship repair yards; telephone and telephone communication.

WAREHOUSES.

Is there an agency in Chicago with which I can register idle warehouse capacity?

Answer: The Illinois Association of Merchandise Warehousemen is assisting the transportation division of the OPM in making a survey of warehouse space. Any person who has a vacant building with a gross area of 10,000 square feet or more, suitable for general merchandise storage, can register with the Illinois association at 308 West Washington street. Information may be obtained by phoning State 7150.

Buick Boosts Prices 8.9 to 15.9 Per Cent

Prices of the 1942 Buicks will be increased from 8.9 to 15.9 per cent, according to the model group, Harlow H. Curtice, president and general manager, announced yesterday by telephone hook-up to dealer meetings in 23 cities thruout the country. Chicago area dealers met in the Palmer House, with C. E. Childers, Chicago zone manager, presiding.

The 1942 Buicks will consist of six wheel bases and 23 body types. Prices will range from $1,046 for the business coupe in the 118 inch wheelbase Series 40 Special and $1,077 for the comparable model in the 121 inch wheelbase Series 40 Special to $2,667 for the limousine in the 139 inch wheelbase Series 90 Limited. This compares with $915, $935 and $2,465 for similar 1941 models.

Increase in Sedan Models.

The average increase in the four door sedan models in the Series 40 Special and Series 50 Super lines—the series in which Buick does more than 85 per cent of its business—is $138, or 12.3 per cent. Prices are factory delivered at Flint, Mich. They include present federal excise taxes, but not state and local.

Curtice said that higher material and operating costs caused the increases. He told the dealers that the 1942 Buicks are "not only the most beautiful but the best ever offered by this company."

Many Mechanical Improvements.

Mechanically they contain numerous improvements over last year. Plans for the new cars were on the drawing boards long before the arms program got under way.

W. F. Hufstader, general sales manager, told the dealers that 85 per cent of the Buick production will be allotted to dealers on the basis of 1941 purchases, while the remaining 15 per cent will be utilized by the factory to fill government purchases, provide demonstrators and handle any necessary adjustments in allotments.

RETAIL BUYING WAVE SUBSIDES, SAYS DUN REPORT

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—Business activity showed only a mild increase this week, Dun & Bradstreet said today.

"The rise from existing high levels was smaller than the increase which usually takes place in early September," the agency's review said. "Retailers in most instances traced the lagging gains to the exceptional rush last month and to a moderate letdown in the pace of forward buying.

"As an increasing number of non-defense lines felt the pinch of priorities, small producers were usually hardest hit. Retailers' reorders were above expectations, but few wholesalers were able to fill completely all orders received."

The review estimated retail sales for the country as a whole averaged 20 to 25 per cent ahead of a year ago.

SENATOR HITS FAILURE TO COMPEL SPREADING OF ARMAMENT ORDERS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—Senator James M. Mead [D., N. Y.], of the senate defense investigating committee, asserted today that there was "no one to carry out in a practical way" new governmental procedure for spreading defense orders among small contractors.

The New Yorker made the assertion during a hearing in which William E. Levis, member of the production planning board of the Office of Production Management, was questioned about details of the procedure.

"The procedure is there," Mead observed, "but enforcement evidently is lacking. There appears to be ample means for big industry to get materials and contracts while the little fellow will have as his consolation the procedure and no contracts."

CANADA TO RULE ENTIRE CLOTHING AND FOOD TRADES

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 12 (AP).—The wartime prices and trade board announced today that Canada's entire food and clothing trades would be placed under license before the end of the year. All dealers, manufacturers, processors, and wholesale and retail distributors of food, clothing, and footwear will be affected, along with all restaurants and eating places.

A board statement said:

"This licensing plan will provide the machinery for policing prices, for securing information necessary for the allocation of supplies in the event of shortages arising from dislocated shipping and other war conditions, or the necessity of curtailing domestic consumption to meet emergency demands from Great Britain or the allies."

More than 200,000 food and clothing dealers are likely to be affected, the board said. A general registration is to be started soon.

MAKER OF RADIO TUBES TO VOTE ON STOCK CHANGE

Stockholders of the Hygrade Sylvania corporation, manufacturer of radio tubes and lamp bulbs, will meet next Tuesday to vote on a proposed increase in the authorized common stock from 340,000 to 680,000 no par shares. Under the plan, each stockholder would receive two new shares for each share held. The company, which now has 207,184 shares outstanding, proposes to offer 100,000 shares of the new common stock to obtain additional working capital.

Studebaker Deliveries Run Far Above Year Ago

Retail deliveries of Studebaker passenger cars and trucks in the United States during August totaled 9,762 units, more than 50 per cent above the 6,184 delivered in August, 1940, the Studebaker corporation announced yesterday. Deliveries during the first eight months were 94,085 against 69,193 in the like 1940 period.

MAYORS VOICE STAND: AVOID A NEW DEPRESSION

All Assert That Jobs Must Be Saved.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

With arms factories running at full speed, new munitions plants mushrooming, and business indexes rising, more than 100 mayors from scattered communities in the central west met in the Morrison hotel yesterday to build defense against what they fear is the vanguard of a new depression.

These were men from towns and cities of Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Indiana, Ohio and other states, participating in the midwest emergency conference on priorities unemployment. They were here to formulate a unified program to submit later at a joint meeting with industrial management and with labor.

These mayors would avoid a recurrence of cold smokestacks and idle men and machines. They wish to stop what they see as the first symptoms of a depression in the midst of the armament boom.

Michigan Mayor Presides.

Mayor Fletcher L. Renton of Royal Oak, Mich., chosen to preside at the divisional meeting of the mayors preceding the joint conference with management and labor, sounded the keynote of the session when he said, "The government should release a portion of the materials it has stored for military use in the distant future and allow civilian industry to function."

speeches to get down to work. Observers said that the spontaneity of the meeting attested to the impelling force of the apprehension which the mayors felt about the future of their communities.

From the cross-currents of comments and observations of the mayors in the hour and one-half meeting, one thought rose in prominence: The mayors could understand that armaments should have the first call on the nation's resources, but they could not accept the notion that industries would have to shut down and throw men out of work; that there was a scarcity of many of the materials which Washington officials, by dictum, declared scarce.

Opinions of Mayors.

These were the mayors' opinions:

MAYOR RICHARD C. BONNER of Grafton, Wis.: "At Manitowoc, Wis., the shipyards have steel for two years' needs. Let small plants have some of that. We will gladly give the government 10 per cent or more of our productive capacity, as some OPM officials in our town have suggested, but let the small factories have the other 90 per cent to fill their normal orders."

MAYOR JOSEPH P. DUFFY of Terre Haute, Ind.: "We must get together and work this thing out to save jobs and business."

JOE NATHANSON, finance director, Toledo, O., representing the mayor: "We should conduct a survey of what plants can get arms work and which can't. This country has a fairly adequate supply of materials. Our problem is to allocate it properly."

What About Employés?

MAYOR EDWARD J. SCHNEIDMAN, Quincy, Ill.: "It's all right to talk about converting plants to defense work, but what is going to be done about those factories that can't possibly get such work, and what will happen to their employés?"

JOHN W. LICKERT, representing Fort Wayne, Ind.: "Priorities are unnecessary. We will not sit back and die. We must get the materials."

ROSS W. CASTLE, representing Connersville, Ind.: "Let the government allot 40 to 50 per cent to non-defense industries."

MAYOR JOHN B. GAGE, Kansas City, Mo.: "Stop public and private hoarding."

MAYOR DAVID L. LOEPP of Sioux City, Ia.: "We have a population of 85,000 and our main industries

STOCKS MOSTLY FIRM DESPITE AXIS WARNING

Week-End Adjustments Trim Early Gains.

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—Financial markets generally held firm today in the face of the strong sea warning hurled at the axis powers by the President. Stocks pushed up at the start on fair activity, but the usual week-end adjustment of accounts trimmed best quotations at the close and negligible minus signs were numerous.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks retained a net gain of .1 of a point at 4⅝, its second advance since Sept. 2. Dealings dwindled appreciably after midday and transfers totaled 519,170 shares compared with 689,250 the day before.

President's Decree Expected.

Mr. Roosevelt's "shoot-on-sight" decree if German or Italian raiders are found in waters vital to American defense was in line with Wall street expectations, brokers said, and consequently was not particularly disturbing to speculative contingents.

Altho small fractional improvement was the rule, there were a few wider swings. J. I. Case went into new high ground with a gain of 3⅝ points and advances of 1 or so were held by Deere, Eastman Kodak, Philip Morris, and Colorado Fuel and Iron.

In the losing column were Chrysler, Republic Steel, New York Central, United States Rubber, Anaconda, Texas corporation, Westinghouse, Boeing, and Union Carbide.

CHICAGO LIST HIGHER.

Prices were slightly higher on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Transactions totaled 23,000 shares.

Standard Dredging common closed ⅝ higher at 2⅝, a new 1941 peak, and was the volume leader, with 1,850 shares traded. Other active issues were Katz Drug, 1,700 shares, off ¼ to 4⅝; Commonwealth Edison, 1,000 shares, unchanged at 25½, and Borg Warner, 900 shares, unchanged at 20½.

FIRST NATIONAL VOTES REGULAR $2.50 DIVIDEND

Directors of the First National Bank of Chicago yesterday declared a regular quarterly dividend of $2.50 on the capital stock. The Halsted Exchange National Bank of Chicago authorized a regular quarterly payment of $1.50.

California Packing corporation voted a quarterly dividend of 37½ cents compared with previous quarterly payments of 25 cents. Universal-Cyclops Steel corporation authorized a 40 cent payment. The company, maker of steel tools, paid 25 cents in June and 20 cents in March this year.

Commodities

Commodity futures prices soared early yesterday, many to new record high levels, but a late flurry of profit taking reduced or wiped out many of the gains.

Cotton reached new 12 year high marks with prices up as much as $2.30 a bale on reports of a severe tropical storm headed for the cotton belt. Profit taking forced prices down, and the close was at gains of 20 to 55 cents.

World sugar futures set seasonal highs following disclosure that Great Britain had paid 2.10 cents a pound, record high, for Cuban raws. The market reacted to close unchanged to 0.10½ cent a pound lower.

Major refiners reduced the price of refined sugar 0.10 cent to 5.25 cents a pound.

SEEK TO AVOID A NEW PERIOD OF DEPRESSION

are meat packing and dairies. We have not benefited to any great extent from the armament boom. We must continue our public works to provide employment. However, 3 million dollars worth of municipal construction is threatened by our inability to get enough steel."

MAYOR GEORGE OAKS, Oshkosh, Wis.: "We are not pinched yet, but we are worried about the future. We anticipate shortages in some plants and some shutdowns by winter. About 40 per cent of our industries are nonarmament, and they will be hit if they can't get materials."

WILLIAM SENTNER, general vice president of United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union [CIO], Evansville, Ind.: "About 1,800 of our 7,500 members in Evansville have been laid off by the refrigerator factories because of the federal order to cut production. Work must be found for them, but the transition will cause temporary unemployment."

FRANCIS STALTER, owner of the Stalter Edge Tool company, Grand Rapids, Mich.: "I can't get the high speed steel for making machine knives. I buy two carloads of steel at a time. If I do get a priority I get it for only 20 or 30 pounds of steel. The cost is too high and the mill can't roll such a small amount to my specifications. I must order at least a half a ton at a time."

PAUL SKOBEL, Chicago sales manager, Interstate Metal Products company, Chicago and Michigan City, Ind.: "We have enough sheet steel for our metal cabinets and furniture thru the rest of the year but we can't get enough for further requirements. We usually buy six to seven months ahead, but we can get no promise of delivery."

NEW HEATER TO KEEP RAIL SWITCHES FROM FREEZING DISPLAYED

A new switch heater, designed to keep railroad switches from freezing during winter storms, will be displayed at the convention of the Railroad Roadmasters and Maintenance of Way association, which opens Tuesday in the Hotel Stevens. The heater, manufactured by the Mississippi Supply company, Chicago, will operate 30 to 40 hours on less than 1½ gallons of kerosene.

Hear Plea for Spreading of Arms Orders.

the big companies and the relief the government is having to pay to laid off employés of small plants more than makes up the 15 to 20 per cent. This fact is recognized."

Maas continued that it is a sound military principle that defense industries—like cannon in battle—be spread out as much as possible. He cited Germany's scattering of its industries from border to border. [Maas, a World war aviator, is a colonel in the marine aviation reserve and has just returned from active duty on the west coast.]

Fears Government Control.

"But one of the biggest reasons why these contracts must be dispersed," he asserted, "is that we must not have industry centralized under government control, with socialism rife in the land, after this emergency is ended. I think Donald Nelson, the OPM's priorities director, is trying to do his job honestly and well, but groups such as this one must make their force felt and must help him."

Maas declared that charges that the OPM is letting raw materials go to England to be processed and sold to the detriment of American business are justified. Because of this some American plants have been forced to shut down, he said.

He read a telegram he had just received from F. W. Fuller Plastics, Inc., of St. Paul, Minn., announcing that the plant closed its doors yesterday.

"Here is the situation in that case as I know it of my own knowledge," Maas continued. "Phenol is vital in the manufacture of plastics. Several months ago the OPM priority-ed all this country's phenol—5 million pounds of it—for England. There it was molded into various products which were sold in South America.

Another in Same Boat.

"The Fuller plant is comparatively small. But the North Western Plastics company, also of St. Paul, is not small—and it is in the same boat. It will have to close tomorrow if it hasn't already.

"The British have assured us they won't use any more lend-lease materials for export. But they haven't said they won't use their own raw materials for export while still drawing on us.

"This is not a criticism of lend-lease, but such things as this must be looked into and corrected. We are all out for Britain, for China, and for Russia—in fact, I don't know of any one I had rather have die for us than the Russians—but the British must make the same sacrifices as we do."

Maas declared that "we are in this to preserve the American way of life for Americans, not to preserve the British way of life for the British."

Cites Example at Arsenal.

"When the emergency was declared, the army and navy were so bitterly criticised because they were short of some materials, that they grabbed up everything they could get," he said. "For instance, the Rock Island arsenal grabbed a five year supply of a certain material, and put one big factory out of business because the factory couldn't fill its back orders."

Maas recommended that small industries be permitted by the OPM to operate on a 75 per cent basis until war orders can support them.

Frederick A. Virkus, president of the Illinois division of the National Small Business Men's association, spoke after Representative Maas, charging that there is ample steel for defense, export, and civilian needs in the United States. He echoed the charges of government hoarding and declared that in many cases priority regulations force steel mills to operate inefficiently.

A resolution prepared by the Small Business Men's association caused a lengthy controversy when considered during the afternoon by the conference's committee on industry. The resolution, which asked a congressional investigation of priorities and the OPM, eventually was tabled. Delegates thought congressional action would be too slow to be helpful.

Board of Directors Named.

The conference's final action was to name a permanent board of directors of seven. They are William Sentner of St. Louis and Fred Johnson of Kalamazoo, Mich., representing labor; Donald B. Howard of Minneapolis and H. W. De Bruin of Columbus, O., representing management, and Mayor Dress of Evansville, Mayor David F. Loepp of Sioux City, Ia., and Ralph Kingsley of Kenosha, Wis., representing civic interests. Judge Spencer will act for Mayor Dress.

After the general sessions the board called a meeting at the Morrison hotel for Sept. 21 at which time two committees will be appointed. The first, of undetermined number, will confer with Nelson and Leon Henderson, of OPM, on spreading rearmament contracts among the smaller plants.

The second, to consist of five labor and five management representatives will discuss with OPM the methods by which nondefense workers may be taught defense tasks in factories that are converted to rearmament work. Both Nelson and Henderson had promised to attend yesterday's meeting but declined at the last minute, causing great disappointment among many who had traveled far to see and hear them.

Says It Could Be Worse.

Cherne's address at the morning session was intended to show the business men how to make the best of a situation which he said is bad, but could be worse. Dislocations due to a great defense effort are unavoidable, Cherne declared.

In correcting the situation as it now exists, he said, first attention will have to go to the one industry towns and cities—the ones that are threatened with becoming ghost towns.

In this respect remedial action along five general lines will be possible when a national survey, now under way, is completed. The five lines of attack are:

1. Dividing work among hard hit industries.

2. Plant by plant allocation of supplies instead of a mere allocation to companies.

3. Use of substitute materials.

4. Increased resort to subcontracting.

5. Pooling a community's resources so that as a unit it may fit into the defense setup and bid as a unit for contracts.

The members of the conference were welcomed to Chicago by Mayor Kelly, who greeted them as "My fellow sufferers." Telegrams of regret from OPM officials who were unable to attend were read. Chairman Spencer was loudly applauded when he commented:

Ward Sales Largest in Its History, but Taxes Cut Profit

Altho sales for the six months ended July 31 were the largest for the period in its history, profit of Montgomery Ward & Co., for the six months was below the 1940 amount, Sewell L. Avery, president, reported yesterday to stockholders.

Sewell L. Avery.

Net profit before income and excess profits taxes for the six months was $14,492,038, or 5.2 per cent of sales. Income and excess profit taxes, provided for at the rates contained in the bill recently approved by the senate, amounted to $7,175,000, or 49.5 per cent of the company's earnings.

Net profit after taxes was $7,317,038, or $1.27 per share on the common stock after providing for class A dividends.

Year Ago Profit Larger.

In the six months ended July 31, 1940, net profit before income taxes was $13,674,454. Net profit after taxes did not reflect the provision for additional taxes under the second revenue act of 1940 then pending before congress. On the basis of the act as passed and later amended, last year's tax provision would have been $4,729,000, or 34.6 per cent of earnings, leaving an adjusted net profit of $8,945,454, or $1.58 per share. Net profit for the six months ended July 31, 1940, before adjustment for the additional taxes was $10,274,453.

The company's sales for the six months ended July 31, 1941 totaled $280,372,807 compared with $228,713,417 in the 1940 period. The gain over 1940 was $51,659,390, or 22.6 per cent.

Merchandise inventories on July 31 totaled $145,526,786, an increase of $47,995,138, or 48.2 per cent over July 31, 1940.

Value Below Replacement Cost.

"This inventory is held at a figure below replacement costs," Avery said. "The increase in inventory was made advisable because of planned sales increases, expanded assortments and the difficulties of procurement and delivery brought about by the national defense program."

Avery said that the company's mail order houses in Oakland, Cal., and Portland, Ore., resumed operations on Aug. 1 after having been closed on Feb. 15 and May 3, respectively, over union demands for a closed shop. Forty-nine Pacific coast retail stores were picketed because of the company's refusal to grant the closed shop. The unions withdrew their closed shop demands [no dispute existed as to wages or hours] on July 14 and the dispute was ended July 26. Two of six Pacific coast retail shops also closed have resumed operations.

DU PONT ANNOUNCES A SYNTHETIC RUBBER IMPERVIOUS TO COLD

Development of a new type of neoprene synthetic rubber, unlike other known synthetic rubbers in that it will not become hard and brittle in subzero temperatures, was announced to the American Chemical society at Atlantic City yesterday by the Rubber Chemicals division of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.

D. F. Fraser and F. L. Yerzley, representatives of the company, said the principal use of the new material is expected to be in automobiles and airplanes, where low temperatures are encountered.

PLACE CEILING ON HARD COAL PRICES AT MINE

Prevents Advances Set for Sept. 15.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—Leon Henderson, price administrator, fixed ceiling prices on hard coal today at the levels of Aug. 15 and blocked a 15 cent a ton increase which producers of Pennsylvania anthracite had proposed to put into effect next Monday.

The prices established in the ceiling schedule are $6.60 for the principal domestic sizes, broken, egg, stove, and chestnut; $5.10 for pea; $3.75 for buckwheat No. 1; $2.90 for rice, and $2.15 for barley. The prices are f. o. b. mine per net ton of 2,000 pounds.

Henderson Explains Action.

Henderson said he took the action because leading producers of anthracite failed to give his office reports which would permit a full analysis of the factors purporting to justify the proposed Sept. 15 increase.

"Rather than allow another 15 cents to be added to the price of the domestic sizes and passed on to householders while the necessity for it is yet to be established, the Office of Price Administration is freezing anthracite prices for the time being," Henderson said.

"Anthracite producers will be afforded an opportunity in the immediate future to provide the information OPA has requested and to offer any additional information they desire in support of higher prices. If it can be demonstrated satisfactorily that the current level of prices is inadequate, a revision of the present maximums will be worked out."

View on Wage Situation.

Henderson said that the data submitted to his office "does not indicate that the freezing of anthracite prices at prevailing levels will act to prevent the industry from carrying out existing wage agreements."

"It is to be expected that wholesalers and retailers of hard coal will maintain their present margins so that the ultimate cost of coal to the consuming public will not be changed while the ceiling prices are in force," he said.

The domestic supply of anthracite is mined in eastern Pennsylvania. Officials estimate production for this year will be in excess of 55,000,000 tons.

SOY BEANS DROP AFTER SOARING ABOVE $2 MARK

Futures 52 Cents Higher Within a Month.

A record price of $2.02 a bushel was paid yesterday for soy beans for May delivery on the Chicago Board of Trade, climaxing an advance in the future of 52⅜ cents within less than a month.

Bean prices at the top were 4 to 4⅞ cents above Thursday's close on buying induced by reports of a continued big demand for bean cake, meal and oil. Heavy profit taking developed and at one time prices dropped 9¾ cents below the early high, but the close was on a fair rally with losses of 2 to 3 cents a bushel, May finishing at $1.94½.

Grains Lose Early Gains.

Early strength in beans, cotton and cottonseed oil carried over into the grain markets with the active deliveries of wheat and corn selling at new four year peaks while oats went into new ground since 1934, the May delivery selling at 57½ cents. New buying, however, failed to come into the market and when soy beans started to weaken grains followed. Wheat closed ⅝ to ¾ cent lower and corn lost ¾ to 1¼ cents. Oats finished unchanged to ⅜ cent lower and rye was off ¼ to ⅞ cent.

Processors were reported to have made large sales of soy bean meal and cake for deferred shipment in the last few weeks and to have hedged by purchases of futures.

September Corn Lower.

Liquidation by holders of September corn futures, induced by the big discount of the cash grain relative to the future, resulted in the nearby delivery developing independent weakness and it went to 5⅛ cents under December at the close. No. 2 yellow in the spot market sold at 3⅛ to 4½ cents under September.

An active demand was reported for concentrated feeds of all kinds as the result of government efforts to increase production of dairy and other products for shipment to England. Higher prices were reported on all high protein feeds.

ILLINOIS RETAINS LEAD.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 12 (AP).—Illinois' rank as the greatest soy bean producing center in the world is about to be enhanced by the biggest harvest on record—54,112,000 bushels—the federal and state departments of agriculture reported today.

'DAY by DAY on the FARM' by GAIL COMPTON

Gourds festoon the fence at the north end of the Du Page country farm vegetable garden in brilliant splashes of gold and green which are caught up and carried thru the garden by the squash, pumpkins, and watermelons. The bright colors are welcome. The vegetable patch is beginning to take on the somber tones that come with the approach of fall.

The gourds are all shapes and sizes. Some resemble tiny pumpkins, others look like miniature watermelons, and there is one variety that is white and shaped like a pear.

The bright greens of the plants are disappearing as each one produces its crop, goes to seed, and dies. The leaves and stalks of the sweet corn have lost their greenness and are beginning to turn brown. There still are plenty of ripe ears for eating and the gardener picks a basket full each day.

Celery Is Bleaching.

The long row of celery has been freshly hilled up with black dirt to protect the stalks from the sun so they will bleach. The other rows of vegetables have been weeded carefully and hoed down so that the plants stand in distinct rows, separated by pathways of rich black soil.

The artichokes have been growing at a tremendous rate and many of the plants are seven feet tall. Small flower buds are starting to appear on the bushes. The gardener believes that from the general appearance of the plants they should yield a good crop.

The green pepper plants are loaded, and the farm homes are enjoying fresh peppers every day. The small plants are free from insects and have stood up better than any other vegetable in the garden.

Turnips Fail to Grow.

A large patch of the garden which was sowed to turnips has failed to give good returns. The gardener broadcast the seed over the ground and then raked it in. Even with this treatment and ideal soil conditions only a few of the seeds germinated. The gardener believes that the seed was at fault and not the ground.

Despite a late planting, the pumpkin vines promise a successful Halloween for the farm youngsters. There are several big ones lurking under the vines which already have turned the traditional orange color and seem about ripe for carving. There are plenty of green pumpkins still developing that eventually may find themselves perched upon a gate post with a candle glowing inside.
